CHILDREN'S STORY HOUR.
At the children's story telling hour in the Public Library, Saturday morning, Rev. Additional Help
For Christmas Rush

Postmaster Flaglor Making Preparations to Handle Mail During Christmas Week.

On Thursday, December 22nd, Postmaster Flaglor expects to have 14 returned men added to the letter carriers' staff, their duties to be finished on the following Thursday. Five extra teams will be engaged to carry mail matter.

J. A. Murphy has been engaged to assist in transfer service at the railway station. F. B. McCleary and C. W. Morse, Moncton, will perform similar work at the railway city.

For some years during the holiday season large quantities of mail matter, particularly parcels for the Maritime Provinces, came to St. John office unsorted. The railway mail superintendent has taken the matter up with the authorities at Ottawa. This year the Boston officials will send men on the train as far as Montreal, and the railway mail superintendent will assist in sorting the mail at that city, and forwarding next day. This plan will relieve the St. John office of much work. Besides the public will receive parcels much earlier.

Regarding mails from Montreal, employees from the three Maritime Provinces will assist in sorting the mail on its way east.

Special Services
At St. Phillip's

Rev. J. P. Stephens, Woodstock, Delivered Two Instructive and Edifying Sermons.

The services at St. Phillip's Church yesterday were very interesting and very edifying as the result of the earnest efforts of the Rev. J. P. Stephens, Woodstock, N. B., who conducted all the services. At the morning service, he took as his subject, "The Rich Man Seeking Eternal Life," expressing life as the animating power of man and beast.

Despite the inclement weather, there was a very good attendance at the Sunday School meeting, where much good was derived from the speaker's highly instructive address. In the evening, Mr. Stephens spoke on, "Human Prejudice and Divine Compassion." Much of the success of the day was due to the splendid music rendered by the junior choir. Professor McCallum and Eustace Newis rendered a very pleasing duet at the evening service.

The members returned to the city late in the afternoon.

Services At The Victoria St. Church

New Building Filled to Capacity Last Evening—Three Persons Baptized at Morning Service.

Large congregations were present at both services in the Victoria street Baptist church yesterday, the new building being filled to capacity at the evening service. At the morning service three persons were baptized, and at the evening service received the right hand of fellowship. The pastor, Rev. G. D. Hudson, in the evening spoke from Isa. 58: "His name shall be called Wonderful." He referred to the position which Jesus Christ had taken in history. He was wonderful in His claims. None other before or since had made such large claims on God. He was wonderful in His revelation of God and He was equally wonderful in His power as a Saviour.

Unveiling of Bronze Tablet

Large Congregation in Centenary Honor Memory of Those Who Fell in Great War.

A large congregation gathered in Centenary church yesterday morning to pay honor to the memory of the men who fell in the great war and to witness the unveiling of the handsome bronze tablet which has been erected as a memorial of their sacrifice for King and Country. Nine men of the congregation laid down their lives and 11 lie in Flanders Fields. The unveiling was performed by the choir and the minister, Rev. R. G. Fulton, in a most inspiring address paid tribute to their memory and the spirit which underlay their sacrifice.

The members of the G. W. V. A. had been invited to attend and many were present in uniform and occupied seats in the front of the church. The relatives of those who had fallen were seated in a body in the cross seats on the left of the pulpit, the tablet being placed on the wall on that side of the church. The special numbers included solos by William T. Lanyon, "There is No Death" and Earl Spicer, "In Flanders Fields" and an anthem by the choir, "Souls of the Righteous Dead."

The tablet was unveiled by Louis LeLacheur of the 1st Division and Charles H. Leonard of the 25th Battalion, who stood at attention while Miss Hes rendered, "The Dead March in Saul" on the organ and the "Last Post" was sounded by Sergt. H. B. Horne, P. C. L. I. The prayer of dedication was delivered by Rev. Mr. Fulton.

Rev. Mr. Fulton in his sermon spoke on the "Law of Redemption" basing his remarks on the following words: "Without shedding of blood there is no remission." The service of the morning was bound to awaken many memories and some would say was unnecessary as the thing to do now was to forget the war. If by this they meant let time heal the scars and wounds which had been made he was ready to say amen, but if they were, as he was afraid many were, trying to sidestep responsibility for the doing of their share in the reconstruction period, then he must say we should remember the sacrifices of the men and carry forward their work for peace. A danger that having conquered Germany we in turn might be conquered by her ideas.

Men must always remember that every advance had been through sacrifice and it was only through death that life was possible. This truth was apparent in every department of life. The capacity for suffering did not begin with the war it had always been here and always would be and each must bear in mind that "all the things of this world are here to come are brought to pass by toil and tears."

It was a universal law that the strong should bear the burdens of the weak and that love should suffer for its loved ones. The congregation were present at the service to commemorate the actual working out of that "Law of Redemption" and to remember one by the men who had died would one day bear fruit in a better world. He then read the names of the nine men on the tablet as follows:—

Alexander M. Affleck, C. Lyman Anglin, J. Coleman Jordan, Robert E. Knowles, Jarvis O. McCallan, George South, Charles K. Whitaker, George S. Whitaker, Cleveland York. Before closing he referred to a nameplate taken from a hospital bed in No. 1 Canadian General Hospital at Etaples and which had been placed in the church at the request of the United Choirs of the Methodist churches in the city, who had endowed the bed.

The honor roll of Centenary church follows:—

Rosebud Day Was Great Success

Committees Report All Ground Covered and Workers Active—Count Returns Today.

Indications point to a great success financially of the Rosebud Day campaign, although the results along that line will not be known till this evening. However, the fine weather, the enthusiasm of the workers and the generosity with which the canvassers were met, would seem to assure the success of the effort.

The committees report that all the ground was covered and that all the workers were very active, some of them remaining on the streets as late as 8:30 in the evening. The refreshment committee, convened by Mrs. W. B. Tennant, were kept busy from 9:30 in the morning till 6 in the evening, preparing and serving refreshments, at the Children's Aid Home, to the canvassers and others taking part in the campaign.

As the banks came in from the different districts, they were taken to the table, presided over by Mrs. W. Edmond Raymond, convener of the finance committee, where they were seated and made ready to be taken to the bank to be counted. All the canvassers received receipts for their respective returns and everything was carried out in a systematic manner. Mrs. B. Atherton Smith was general convener of the day and Mrs. A. W. Estey general ward convener.

TUXIS CONCLAVE
SATURDAY EVENING

About Sixty Boys at Y.M.C. A. Saturday Evening Addressed on "Boosting St. John" by Canon Armstrong

"The second Tuxis Conclave of the season was held on Saturday evening in the Y. M. C. A. building was a grand success, there being about sixty boys present. A very hearty supper was supplied by the boys and was greatly enjoyed by all present. After the inner man had been satisfied, the Rev. Canon Armstrong gave the boys a very interesting and helpful talk, taking as his subject, "Boosting St. John." He advised his youthful audience to take every opportunity of boosting their own city by enlarging on its merits and deprecating any attempt to run it down. After the supper, the boys repaired to the floor of the gymnasium where they spent a very pleasant evening playing games and swimming. The gathering broke up at an early hour, after having been voted one of the most enjoyable events of the season.
