

ALTING STORY ON REVERE DU LOUP, QUEBEC

Employee's Wife Said to Have Been Brutally Maltreated by Six Men and Left in Bad Condition—Lived Long Enough to Name Her Perpetrators.

Special to the Telegraph.
St. John, Jan. 27.—A Quebec dispatch has the following account of a crime committed at that point in which a woman was brutally maltreated by six men who are said to have kicked her into an empty barrel, and left her in a dying condition.
It occurred in the woman's home, and her husband, who is an I. C. R. man, was absent. When the husband returned he found his wife unconscious, and she was lying in a barrel. She had been badly injured, and the men had kicked her about the body, indicating that the men had been drinking and beating her. Afterwards the woman recovered sufficiently to tell her name, and the names of the six men. To his credit, he learned, says the report, that the men were people who had been invited to his house. It is stated that on the night in question they had the woman for liquor, and that she had been beaten by the woman that night. The priest arrived to give her the last rites, but she was unable to receive them, and she died in the morning. The police have been notified, and the department is expected to receive an official report of the crime tomorrow morning. The names of the men are being sought, and the police are expected to receive an official report of the crime tomorrow morning.

Ottawa, Jan. 30.—The banking bill got its second reading at midnight after several days debate, carried on almost altogether by Liberal members.
The silence of the Conservatives is looked upon as of the greatest significance. There were thirty Conservative members who at the outset signified their determination to speak. Mr. Bennett, however, and Finance Minister White brought them to heel. They were told that the banking bill suited the purposes of the government, and that the opposition was not worth the trouble of presenting the case of the people was left entirely to the opposition.
The measure is expected to meet with a warm reception in the banking committee which is expected to report on it tomorrow. Mr. White tonight, in closing the debate, stated that he would be prepared to accept amendments.

Canadian Press.
St. John, Jan. 27.—The attorney general has taken up the Riviere du Loup case, and has sent Provincial Deputies to investigate. It is said the accounts already published have greatly exaggerated and that the case of the unfortunate woman was due to consumption and partly to the use of strong liquor. It is turned out otherwise, and the investigation of the body will be exhausted and the case closed.

OPPOSE ST. JOHN RIVER DAM

Philadelphia and the province, thousands of dollars for the benefit of the people of that section annually, since the dam was started it has cost at its own expense the spawning of the salmon on the river from unclean encroachments, such as sparring and shooting. The warden of the Tobique salmon club are a sense of the word "fish-horn," but sportmen.

Letts of Protection.

With this protecting the supply of fish the river will not be indefinitely. It has been said that since the fish have received benefit of protection in the river the industry in the harbor has been greatly aided, and the amount of fish in the harbor is now considerably greater than it was years ago. Fishermen say that it is a marked increase each year. We have always said that could it be demonstrated definitely that a fishery would work could be constructed in the river we would withdraw all objections, experts have testified that it is only a small dam.
Chairman Toed of the commission took the position at the meeting in Bangor on the matter of fishing on the river that not properly come before the commission, and in answer to this Mr. Allen stated that Article 2 of the Fisheries Act authorizes the minister to provide that the river be free and clear of any obstructions to its navigation by the people of both banks, and that the obstructions which are so far as the fishing industry is concerned is in violation of the treaty. He said that the government of New Brunswick lacks the power to create a case of violation of a treaty between the United States and Great Britain.

The other interests along the river will be represented at the hearing in St. John, if they were not to be. Mr. Allen stated that the interests that he represents alone and the grounds on which he has his objections are sufficient to cause an international commission to interfere with the proposition for damming the river. ### BALKAN ALLIES GIVE NOTICE THAT WAR WILL RESUME IN FOUR DAYS

Constantinople, Jan. 30.—The Balkan allies today gave notice of the termination of the armistice, the period of grace of four days to start at 7 o'clock this morning.
The armistice which has been in operation since December 3, was signed on that day by Bulgaria, Serbia and Montenegro on the one side, and Turkey on the other. Greece was never a party to the cessation of hostilities. She has continued fighting both on land and sea. The Montenegrins also have come into conflict with the garrison of Scutari on several occasions in spite of the truce.

ASQUITH RIDDLES BONAR LAW'S SCHEME

Premier Declares 95 Per Cent. of Britain's Imports from Canada is Foodstuffs, and That There Can Be No Colonial Preference Without Taxing Food.

(Montreal Witness Cable.)
London, Jan. 30.—All England is talking about the brilliant speech delivered by Premier Asquith to his constituents at Levens last night, in which he severely reproached Bonar Law for his tariff reform proposals, which would bind the dominions to us by a preferential tariff, without food imports from the dominions are raw material in the form of food.
There is general agreement with Mr. Asquith's statement that "it is obvious that the tariff reformers have completely abandoned Mr. Chamberlain's original position, that there can be no colonial preference without the taxation of food."
Parliamentarians are busy, trying to define schemes to stem the tide of the militant suffragettes' agitation. It is hoped that a conference will be held tonight between Liberal members of the house of commons and a committee of the Women's Liberal Federation which will prevent the two great streams of electoral reform from the Liberal ranks from flowing apart.

Washington, Jan. 30.—Democratic leaders to the house expressed the view tonight that there would be no difficulty in getting the tariff and revenue committee tariff reform plan through the house at the coming extra session, and said they did not anticipate much trouble with it in the senate.
The majority of the committee will be framing the tentative legislation next Monday and count upon the Democratic caucus of the next house approving the plan substantially as the committee reports it. So far there has been no formal conclusion as to any of the schedules as a whole, though the general policy has been indicated as to varying to rates so as reasonably competitive basis, with revenue raising and saving to the consumer as the primary factors.

CASTRO REFUSED PERMISSION TO ENTER UNITED STATES

Washington, Jan. 30.—Crispian Castro, former president of Venezuela, was today denied admission to the United States by Charles Nagel, secretary of commerce and labor. The Venezuelan ambassador and Alfred W. Smith, president of the United States, refused to answer the question, whether the president of the United States was a party to the killing of General Parades, was the cause of Secretary Nagel's order for his deportation.
The cabinet minister sustained the adverse report of the immigration authorities against Castro on the ground that his declaration to answer "may in itself constitute an admission by condoning of the commission of a felony. The immigration laws bar from entry any persons convicted of or admitting the commission of a felony. He was named in the body of the indictment as co-conspirator with Mellen, Chamberlain and Smith, but was not indicted because they obtained testimony by intimidation before the grand jury.

BALKAN WAR WILL RESUME MONDAY

Allies Denounce the Armistice

Four Days Notice Given Turks to Prepare for Conflict

Sultan's Government Replies to Powers Note and Offers Further Concessions— Slight Hope Yet That Hos- tilities May be Stayed.

Canadian Press.
London, Jan. 30.—The curtain may rise on the second act of the Balkan war next Monday. The allies denounced the armistice at 7 o'clock tonight and it events take the prescribed course, the bombardment of Adrianople will follow after an interval of four days. Indeed, the bombardment has been scheduled for 7 o'clock Monday evening. Yet even at the seventh hour, war is no wise assured. Only a few hours before the allies proclaimed their momentous decision the Ottoman government presented its reply to the joint note of the powers of January 17.
Never has a diplomatic problem taken such swift and surprising changes as these negotiations for peace. The Young Turks, who asked the government with shouts of defiance, have undergone a marvellous transformation. Instead of drawing the battle line at the question of surrendering Adrianople, they offer a compromise which comes so near meeting the Bulgarian demand that settlement should not be impossible, and they leave the Aegean islands to the disposition of the powers.
The differences between what Constantinople is ready to give and what Bulgaria is ready to accept, has been reduced to such small proportions that even some of the Balkan delegates believe a compromise may yet be found. Constantinople now seeks simply the retention of that section of Adrianople where the holy shrines are situated. Bulgaria always meant to leave the mosques and shrines to Turkey and even to confer the right of extra-territoriality, thus giving them something of the status of the Vatican in Rome. The vital differences between the two nations amount merely to Turkey's demanding the shrines and the actions surrounding them.

GREAT PLANS FOR GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Every Presbyterian Minister and Wife in Canada to Be Given Free Trip to Toronto Conference—Transportation Will Cost Over $100,000.

Canadian Press.
Winnipeg, Jan. 30.—Provided that the remaining details can be satisfactorily arranged, a general assembly in 1913 will hold a general assembly in 1913 in which there has been no parallel in the religious history of this continent.
It is proposed to bring together in the city of Toronto every Presbyterian minister in Canada, every Presbyterian from Nova Scotia to British Columbia will be transported in its entirety to Toronto, and the members will meet in that city. In addition to the ministers, the wives of every minister will accompany her husband. The meetings will be held under the auspices of the Women's Home Missionary Society and the Women's Foreign Missionary Society. Incidentally at the gathering there will probably occur a merging of these two women's organizations in one institution, the highest importance of the body.
It is not proposed that any portion of the cost of this great Presbyterian conference should be imposed on the poor, but the cost will be met by a small group of Presbyterian men who in recent years have been very wealthy owing to the great prosperity of the country. It is estimated that the transportation charges for the event will amount to $100,000. The plan is that this considerable sum should be contributed by a small group of Presbyterian men who in recent years have been very wealthy owing to the great prosperity of the country. Smith, president of the Erie Railroad, were today indicted by a grand jury for violating the Sherman anti-trust law in their alleged monopolistic agreement between the New York and Grand Trunk roads.
The indictments approach those returned several weeks ago and attacked by the defense. Assistant Attorney-General Adkins said that he would make every possible effort to have the case tried by the middle of February. J. E. Dalrymple, vice-president of the Grand Trunk and Benjamin Campbell, vice-president of the New York and New England, were named in the indictment as co-conspirators with Mellen, Chamberlain and Smith, but were not indicted because they obtained testimony by intimidation before the grand jury.
