The lawn social given by the members of the Carleton Place Women's Institute last Saturday afternoon on the grounds opposite the post office drew a large crowd and the ladies got $300 in money, out of which of course the expenses must be met, but still there will be a nice pot out of which comforts for our soldiers will be provided. The grounds were artistically decorated and lighted. Music was supplied by the Almonte Band.

Fined for Profiteering

At a sitting of the division court at Sharbot Lake Judge Lavelle tried two interesting cases. One case was against a farmer who refused to deliver 25 bags of potatoes to a Kingston man at a price contracted for as when the time came for delivery the prices had raised. He admitted that he fed the potatoes to the pigs. Judge Lavelle said the case savored of profiteering and should be brought to the attention of the proper authorities. He gave judgment against the farmer for twenty-five dollars. In the case of another farmer who refused to deliver 30 cords of wood at the price agreed judgment for the full amount was given.

LOCAL NAMES IN LIST

Of those Lost by the Sinking of the Hospital Ship Llandovery Castle

The loss of life seems to have been very heavy in the last German achievement, when the Canadian Hospital Ship Llandovery Castle was torpedoed, and Carleton Place and vicinity contributed to the death roll.

Pte. John Rogers, whose father is given as Peter Rogers, is reported among the lost.

Nursing Sister Miss A. McDiarmid, lost, is a daughter of the late John McDiarmid, Beckwith, and a brother and two sisters reside near Ashton.

Capt. Rev. D. G. McPhail, Kingston, is a cousin of Mr. P. N. Frizell, town.

Two Ottawa nurses—Misses Gallaher and Templeman—are also in the list.

Good Roads Convention

The Eastern Ontario Good Roads Association was organized at Ottawa yesterday, and takes in eleven counties, all of which were well represented at the meeting. Lanark County, with its present system, may be connected with these trunk lines. Carleton Place was well represented at the meeting.

Pretty Heavy Fines

Fines totalling $910 and $22.80 costs were levied by Magistrate Sparham for infractions of the Ontario Temperance Act on Tuesday morning. There were five charges of drunkenness, for which the usual fine of $40 and costs was levied, all pleading guilty, and one charge of selling liquor on which the accused was found guilty on the evidence of one of the men fined for being intoxicated, and fined $500 with the option of six months in jail. There were three charges against a Toronto way man, of being drunk in town, of having liquor in his possession and of being drunk while on duty. The last charge was laid by a representative of the C.P.R., and the magistrate said he considered it the most serious, but as the accused had been already fined to the extent of $340 and $5.60 costs, and apparently had not been seriously intoxicated, he would be very lenient and levy a nominal fine of $10 or one month in jail.—Smiths Falls News.

A Huntley Boy Honored

At a recent meeting of the Edmonton Law Students' Association it was unanimously decided by way of an indication of esteem, to make a presentation to the president of the organization for the current year, M. J. O'Brien, who is at present overseas with the recently formed university tank battalion. It was felt that in thus making Mr. O'Brien the recipient of a gift from the association, not only would the feeling amongst the members be given outward expression, but appreciation of the peculiar facts connected with his incumbency of the office of president would be signalized in a becoming manner. It is probable that Mr. O'Brien's record is unique amongst Alberta law students. He was born in 1897, at Huntley, Ontario, and received the major portion of his education at the High school, Ottawa. On coming west he became articled as a law student, and worked in that capacity in the office of Messrs. Short, Cross & Company, and later that of Parlee, Freeman, Abbott & McKay. He had passed all but one of his examinations when he decided to obey the call of duty, and on the eve of departure for overseas service he took the final test and emerged triumphant, thereby becoming fully qualified to practice law at the very early age of twenty-one years. The gift of the Law Students' association to their soldier president was in the form of a very handsome gold cigarette case, suitably engraved, which will be sent overseas by registered mail, and which will undoubtedly bear with it the good wishes of all who knew or were in any way connected with Mr. O'Brien.—Edmonton Journal.
