AN EXECUTOR WHO NEVER DIES

An individual executor may become unable to discharge his trust by change of residence, by illness or by death. Individual executors, even the most capable, make mistakes, and their errors result in an injury to the estate. By having a Trust Corporation act as your executor, instead of an individual, your estate has the advantage of experts skilled in every feature of property management, and it creates a Trust not terminable by the death of the executor, as a Trust Corporation never dies. Our services as executor cost no more than those of an individual. Write for our booklet—"The Making of a will."
