YACHT TRAVELED 100,000 MILES

Went on Scientific Expedition to Easter Island, South Pacific.

London, July 18.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—The little 23-ton yacht "Mana" has arrived safely in an English port after a voyage of a hundred thousand miles. Belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Scoresby Routledge, the vessel left England over two years ago on a scientific mission to Easter Island, in the South Pacific.

The last stage of the little vessel's voyage was from San Francisco, which she left five months ago. Altogether there were eleven persons on board, including two men from Pitcairn Island. Mr. Routledge had some interesting details of the voyage.

"After leaving San Francisco," he said, "we came down the Mexican coast. Two hundred miles from land we came upon three islands marked as uninhabited, and I decided to land to try to get some meat. But our landing was delayed as the mouth of the cove was occupied by two whales who were feeding and who refused to move until the following day. On landing we found a rough shanty, together with a derelict boat alongside a rough cross, evidently marking a grave. In a rift in a cliff we found a vessel engaged in blockade running of contraband. There is no doubt that the remote island had been a dumping-ground for Mexican revolutionists.

"There were so many turtles that we got tired of feeding on them. It was curious to see these creatures being regarded by the birds as a kind of floating island, and to see turtles preening themselves on the turtles' backs.

"The 'Mana' visited one small island in the Gulf of Panama where elephants was rampant among the people. The currents in this region were very difficult, and there was one sailing ship that had been drifting in circles for thirteen months, and had been unable to get out. The Panama Canal was closed to traffic, but the American Government kindly allowed the 'Mana,' as the vessel of a scientific expedition, to go through. "Some fifty miles from Jamaica we saw what appeared to be a first burning ship and afterwards looked like smoke from a naval action. We found it to be a submarine volcano blowing off. The sea flow had been broken and we saw in the chart showed no land. Under the circumstances no investigation was possible."

Figuring Up Russ Losses

Germany Trying to Consume Himself Over Her Enemy's Misfortunes.

By Special Wire to the Courier. Berlin, July 18.—(Via wireless to Sayville)—"According to official reports from 'Petrograd,'" says the Overseas News Agency, "in the period between the beginning of the Russian offensive and July 1, the number of those killed reached 1,000 among the officers were 17 generals and 29 regimental commanders.

Advices from Stockholm say that failed to obtain a loan from England and France, undertook negotiations with bankers in the United States which also failed. England declared that the cost of the war to herself had reached such a point that it had become impossible to assist her allies.

The Russian newspaper Reich, commenting in this situation, most violently insults Americans for their 'egotism' saying that at last the mask of sympathy for the allies has been torn from their faces."

BRITISH REACH GERMAN THIRD LINE TRENCHES. Latest news reports the British advanced in the Somme region, shown on the map, and the French have made a further advance on Peronne.

Just Waiting For Real Dark Night

Deutschland Will Slip Out to Sea Very Soon Now. By Special Wire to the Courier. Washington, July 18.—There will be no patrol of American warships off the Virginia coast to see that allied cruisers awaiting the reappearance of the German merchant submarine Deutschland, stay outside of the three mile limit. Secretary of the Navy Daniels said that its territories would not be violated by allied men of war and had no fear that the underwater merchantman would be attacked before she reached the high seas. So far as can be learned, the Washington Government has not been notified of the Deutschland's probable sailing date. It is believed that she will drop down from Baltimore to some Cove in the Chesapeake Bay and from there slip to sea on the first favourable dark night.

Dealer Appears in Court for Selling "Invalid Port Wine"

Toronto, July 18.—Ernest J. Morrow appeared in the police court yesterday charged with selling "Dr. Kibborn's Invalid Port Wine," which the prosecuting attorney representing the Ontario License Commission, is contending that he had detected himself had reached such a point that it had become impossible to assist her allies.

Any man who is reminded of a drink will want one, Secretary Daniels believes. That's why there are to be no more cut glass wine services in the United States navy.
