actions, and even temperament. Sometimes the likeness extends to minute physical traits such as the occurrence of a mole, a group of freckles, a dimple, or a faint line in the eye. What we are capable of doing mentally as well as physically is determined for us in part at least by the ancestral germ plasma; even the quality of one's personality is thus foreshadowed.

A Fancy.

Perhaps the little souls that float beyond the bounds of space, remote. Await in dread the thing called Birth. Whose finger backs toward the earth. And each life-stricken fugitive Cries out, "I do not want to live!" Aghast and shrieking, even as I Protest I do not want to die.

EASILY FATIGUED AND DESPONDENT

A Condition Known as General Debility Due to Watery Blood.

General debility is a term used to describe a weak and run down condition of the system. Debility may come from a number of causes. The after effects of acute illness, lack of nourishment due to poor digestion, overwork or worry, or anything that makes the blood thin, thereby preventing it from carrying nourishment and health to the tissues of the body. The symptoms of debility vary, but weakness is always present, often a tendency to be easily fatigued, spots passing before the eyes, weak back, dizziness, wakefulness caused by inability to stop thinking, and unrefreshing sleep.

Mr. Lorenzo L. Gamache, Rockland, Ont., was a severe sufferer from this trouble and tells how he found release. He says:—"Two years ago I was in that condition which medical men call general debility. I made periodical visits to Montreal for fourteen months to undergo electric treatment. At the end of this time I was feeling well and thought with proper care I would continue in good health. But in the course of a month or so the symptoms came back more acute than ever. I lost appetite and could hardly sleep during the night, and what sleep I had was disturbed with nightmares. I had headaches and the least effort was telling on my nerves. I always felt pains somewhere, and had to lose much time. After suffering for three months, trying various things without good results, I was terribly depressed and disheartened. One day I met a friend who noted how pale and thin I was and he so strongly recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills that I determined to give them a fair trial. I got six boxes and began the treatment at once. After I had taken four boxes I began to notice an improvement in my health. I could sleep better, and I scarcely had a headache. Since that time my health has been steadily improving and now I feel just as well as ever. I have gained twenty pounds since I began the treatment. Now I would not be without Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the home, and strongly recommend them to all who suffer from a depressed system and the aches that follow."

You can get these pills through any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cts. a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Three Men—One Coat.

The disadvantages under which rural preachers labor on account of a small income is revealed by the following actual fact. In a certain district in north-eastern Ontario there are three men, two of them clergymen and the third a teacher, who all use the same fur coat. In making long trips in the cold season they have to arrange it in such a way that the man going on the longest drive gets the use of the coat while the others stay at home till he returns. Their business, and especially the rural work they are doing, makes the possession of a fur coat a necessity more than a luxury, and yet, as one of them remarked they never had enough cash at one time to purchase such an expensive article.

His Hearing Restored.

The invisible ear drum invented by A. O. Leonard, which is a miniature megaphone, fitting inside the ear entirely out of sight, is restoring the hearing of hundreds of people in New York city. Mr. Leonard invented this drum to relieve himself of deafness and head noises, and it does this so successfully that no one could tell he is a deaf man. It is effective when deafness is caused by catarrh or by perforated or wholly destroyed natural drums. A request for information to A. O. Leonard, Suite 427, 70 Fifth Avenue, New York city, will be given a prompt reply.

EASY TRICKS No. 389 By Simple Means

This stunt is so simple that it seems almost a burlesque of the work of the stage telepathists. Actually, however, professional mystics have done the trick many times by the method here given. The trick can be performed only where there is opportunity for a little preparation but it can be done in a "double parlour" very easily.

On a blackboard several figures are written in the form of a sum. A spectator (under favorable circumstances it may not be necessary to let him into the secret) blindfolds the trickster and then points to several numbers. As he points, the trickster pretends to concentrate and then, unerringly, names the number. At the conclusion he gives the sum of the numbers.

A second assistant, who is hidden, has an important part in the secret. He holds one end of a silk thread. The other terminates in a bit of wax by which it is attached to a chairback. After he is blindfolded, the trickster gets this bit of wax in his hand. While he appears to concentrate he mentions several numbers, apparently at random. When he mentions the correct number the hidden assistant jerks the thread, thus signaling to the trickster. The hidden assistant must be placed where he can see the blackboard but cannot be seen by the spectator.

Whip this out and paste it, with other of the series, in a scrapbook.

Indoors a vagrant cricket pipes His small unvaried song. The clock marks days grown strangely short And nights grown strangely long.

Ah, but the nights lie cold and long; Nights that were made for laughter, And kissing sighs, and broken words, And warm silence after.

Odds and Opposites.

A certain old dame had three lodgers, and was troubled by them coming in late at night. One day, after a particularly late home-coming, she addressed them angrily: "You three are a fine pair; last night you didn't come home till three this morning. I've warned you half a dozen times before, and I won't warn you twice. If you are going to stay here and carry on like that, you had better leave at once."

GUARD THE CHILDREN FROM AUTUMN COLDS

The Fall is the most severe season of the year for colds—one day is warm, the next cold and wet, and unless the mother is on her guard, the little ones are seized with colds that may hang on all winter. Baby's Own Tablets are mothers' best friend in preventing or banishing colds. They act as a gentle laxative, keeping the bowels and stomach free and sweet. An occasional dose of the Tablets will prevent colds, or if it does come on suddenly their prompt use will relieve the baby. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cts. a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

In the Future.

This is the kind of dialogue we must expect to hear in a few years' time: Little Boy—"I was born within sound of Bow Bells, so I'm a real Londoner!" Little Girl—"Well, don't swank—so'm I, if it comes to that." "Oh, you story, you come all the way from Canada."

"What about it? Just as I was being born, the neighbors were listening to Bow Bells on a loud speaker!"

COULD NOT SLEEP NIGHTS

Pains and Headaches Relieved by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Dublin, Ontario.—"I was weak and irregular, with pains and headaches, and could not sleep nights. I learned about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound by reading the letters in the newspapers and tried it because I wanted to get better. I have got good results from it as I feel a lot stronger and am not troubled with such bad headaches as I used to be and am more regular. I am gaining in weight all the time and I tell my friends what kind of medicine I am taking. You may use my letter as a help to others."—Mrs. JAMES RACHO, Box 12, Dublin, Ontario.

Halifax Nurse Recommends

Halifax, N. S.—"I am a maternity nurse and have recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to many women who were childless, also to women who need a good tonic. I am English and my husband is American, and he told me of Lydia E. Pinkham while in England. I would appreciate a copy or two of your little books on women's ailments. I have one which I keep to lend. I will willingly answer letters from any woman asking about the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. S. M. COLEMAN, 24 Uniacke Street, Halifax, Nova Scotia.
