

The Planet

S. STEPHENSON - Proprietor.
Business Office
Editorial Rooms

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION
THE DAILY PLANET, ONE YEAR $4.00
THE DAILY PLANET, ONE YEAR $1.00
This Planet will be sent free of postage to any address in Canada or the United States.

RATES OF ADVERTISING
Schedule of advertising rates will be promptly furnished on application to the business office.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.
No notice can be taken of anonymous communications. Whatever is intended for publication must be accompanied by the name and address of the writer, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith. We cannot undertake to return rejected communications.

TO SUBSCRIBERS IN CHATHAM.
You will confer a favor by reporting regular delivery by telephone No. 15 A. The complaint will receive prompt attention.

TO SUBSCRIBERS OUTSIDE OF CHATHAM.
If your paper fails to arrive regularly, or if you suggest a better connection, or a better route, please communicate with the circulation department.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 9.

THE LATE H. L. HALL.

The Planet learns with sincere sorrow of the demise of Horace L. Hall, formerly an esteemed member of the editorial staff of this great home journal. Mr. Hall was for two years a resident of the Maple City and won for himself a large circle of friends here. He was a brother-in-law of Mr. D. McLaughlin, of the Business College.

Yesterday's London News says editorially:

"George L. Hall, city editor of the Advertiser, and formerly of the reporter staff of the News, passed away at St. Joseph's Hospital Sunday, after a month's illness. The late Mr. Hall was one of the brightest newspaper men in London, a man of deep thought and a polished writer. He was a whole-souled, big-hearted fellow, always ready to sacrifice his personal interests for the sake of others—in fact, generous in the extreme. He had many friends in London, but we do not believe he had a single enemy. Those who worked with him, perhaps, knew him best, and none were more steadfast in their friendship for him than his fellow workers. During his connection with the News, his associations were of the most pleasant character, and when he secured the city editorship of the Advertiser, he carried with him the best wishes of his fellow scribes. His early death is a particularly sad one, and the sympathy of many friends is extended to his widow and other relatives."

The unexpected sometimes happens. The vote in cities in favor of the liquor bill is astonishing. In the stronghold of the liquor interests, those interests have met with a great rebuff.—Ottawa Free Press.

The New York Evening Sun's opinion of President Roosevelt's message is that it is "seven pounds lighter than a straw hat," while the New Haven Register finds in it "that serene and lofty note of leadership which at the present time in our national history is so much needed." It is a pity these two gentlemen could not meet and arbitrate the matter. It cannot be said there is nothing to arbitrate.—Montreal Star.

An amusing story is told of the editor of a go-ahead London evening newspaper, who, in the eternal rushing to get ahead of the opposition, was constantly impressing upon his reporters the necessity of condensing all news. A terrific boiler explosion had taken place on board a big ship lying at Portsmouth. "Get down there as hard as you can," he said to one of his men. "If you catch the 11.40 from London Bridge you'll be there soon after 2, and can just wire us something for the fifth edition, but boil it down." And the reporter went. Soon after 3 o'clock that afternoon they got a wire from him: "Terrible explosion. Man-o-war. Boiler empty. Engineer full. Funeral to-morrow."—London Tit-Bits.

NEW SPANISH CABINET.

Senor Silveira Has Succeeded in Forming a Ministry.

Madrid, Dec. 8.—A new Cabinet has been formed and sworn in. The new Ministers, with their portfolios, are as follows:—Premier, Senor Silveira; Minister of Foreign Affairs, Senor Alaraz; Minister of Justice, Senor Dato; Minister of Finance, Senor Villaverde; Minister of the Interior, Senor Maura; Minister of War, General Linarez; Minister of Marine, Senor Sanchez Toza; Minister of Instruction, Senor Alameda Salazar; Minister of Public Works, Marquis Vadillo.

The portfolio of War has been offered to General Linarez, who was wounded at the battle of Santiago, and who was Minister of War in 1900.

BOYS' RAGLANETTES AND REEFERS.

We make a boy look like a gentleman and feel like a king in one of Our Nobby Raglanettes or Reefers. The boy wants an Overcoat or Reefer that looks right; the parents one that costs right. The combination is guaranteed at this store. Our Overcoats appeals to every boy's pride, neatness and sense of satisfaction.

Raglanettes $3.75 to $6
Reefers $2.50 to $6.00

We have the most complete range of OVERCOATS for young men and old men in Chatham—

$7.50 to $13.00.

MEYNELL,

3rd door West from Market
Place, King St., Chatham.

DISTRICT DOINGS

TILBURY

Dec. 8.—Miss S. Irwin, of Chatham, was the guest of Miss Lulu Scriven on Saturday and Sunday.

Miss A. Stephenson, of Essex, spent Sunday in town.

W. A. Shaw proprietor of the Tilbury Times, has turned the first sod for a new printing office, of solid brick, 65x40, adjoining the Roszell block, Queen St.

W. Anderson, of Detroit, spent Saturday and Sunday with friends in town.

Delmer Scriven, of Chatham Business College, spent Saturday and Sunday at his home here.

DRESDEN

Dec. 8.—Jacob Lindover, who has been seriously ill for several weeks, died at his home on North street Sunday morning, aged 89 years. He leaves a widow and three daughters.

The Woodmen of the World attended divine service at the North Dresden Baptist Church yesterday morning.

Will McColl spent Sunday with friends in Chatham.

Alf. Peate, of Chatham, was in town on Saturday.

WALLACEBURG

Dec. 8.—Sanford Platt has returned from Guelph, where he has spent the past few weeks.

Miss Grace Taylor, of Port Lambton paid a visit to her home here on Saturday.

Miss Farmer, of Marine City, returned Saturday evening, after visiting friends.

Miss Agnes Anderson, of Courtright, paid a visit to this town Saturday.

Mrs. (Capt.) W. J. Taylor spent Sunday with Port Lambton friends.

Rev. T. H. Farr, who has been visiting at his home in Durham, has returned in a motor car and occupied his pulpit in St. James' Church yesterday.

John Swainson, of Leamington, formerly of this place, is renewing old acquaintances.

Mr. McLean, of Petrolia, who was a few years ago a Wallaceburg citizen, made a business trip here last week.

The funeral of Mrs. Macdonell, relict of the late Alexander Macdonell, took place from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Andrew Steinhoff on Sunday.

There is a story current in Australia that a Lieutenant Anderson in 1852, during an encounter with bushrangers, cut clean through the gun barrel of his adversary with his sword. And at Kansasan it is related that one of Arabi Pasha's soldiers was severed in two during the midnight charge. But in the opinion of experts this is very improbable, even had the new regulation sabre been then in use.—London Globe.

We are never tired so long as we can see far enough.

Some Brilliant Sword strokes.

Elephants are completely disabled by one blow from the Arab's two handed sword, which almost severs the huge hind leg, biting deep into the bone. This feat is varied by slashing off the trunk, leaving it dangling only by a piece of skin. A ghorrka has been seen to behead a buffalo with a single blow of his cookie. And Sir Samuel Baker, a man powerful enough to wield during his African exploration the "baby" an elephant rifle weighing 22 pounds, once drove a wild bear with his big hunting knife almost in halves as it was making a final rush, catching it just behind the shoulder where the hide and bristles are at least a span thick. Sir Walter Scott relates how the Earl of Angus, with his huge sweeping brand, challenged an opponent to fight and at a blow chopped assunder his thigh bone, killing him on the spot.

There is a story current in Australia that a Lieutenant Anderson in 1852, during an encounter with bushrangers, cut clean through the gun barrel of his adversary with his sword. And at Kansasan it is related that one of Arabi Pasha's soldiers was severed in two during the midnight charge. But in the opinion of experts this is very improbable, even had the new regulation sabre been then in use.—London Globe.

We are never tired so long as we can see far enough.

Some Brilliant Sword strokes.

Elephants are completely disabled by one blow from the Arab's two handed sword, which almost severs the huge hind leg, biting deep into the bone. This feat is varied by slashing off the trunk, leaving it dangling only by a piece of skin. A ghorrka has been seen to behead a buffalo with a single blow of his cookie. And Sir Samuel Baker, a man powerful enough to wield during his African exploration the "baby" an elephant rifle weighing 22 pounds, once drove a wild bear with his big hunting knife almost in halves as it was making a final rush, catching it just behind the shoulder where the hide and bristles are at least a span thick. Sir Walter Scott relates how the Earl of Angus, with his huge sweeping brand, challenged an opponent to fight and at a blow chopped assunder his thigh bone, killing him on the spot.

There is a story current in Australia that a Lieutenant Anderson in 1852, during an encounter with bushrangers, cut clean through the gun barrel of his adversary with his sword. And at Kansasan it is related that one of Arabi Pasha's soldiers was severed in two during the midnight charge. But in the opinion of experts this is very improbable, even had the new regulation sabre been then in use.—London Globe.

We are never tired so long as we can see far enough.

A large number attended. Deceased was an old and much respected citizen. Rev. Mr. Nicol conducted the services. Fraser Shambelan, of Chatham, visited friends here on Sunday.

A. E. Archer is spending a few days at Detroit.

Rev. H. King, of Port Burwell, preached in the Baptist Church Sunday at both services.

No Further Delay.

A couple had been engaged to be married for about fourteen years, and still the swain had not mustered up courage enough to ask her to name the happy day. The other evening he called in a peculiar frame of mind and asked her to sing something tender and touching. Imagine his surprise when she sat down at the piano and sang, "Darling, I am growing old." There was no further delay.

A Clerical Conundrum.

Archbishop Whately once asked the question: "Why can a man never starve in the great desert?" and answered it himself as follows: "Because he can eat the sand which is there. But what brought the sandwiches there? Why, Noah sent Ham, and his descendants mustered and bred."

Taking Pains.

"Genius," quoted Smuthers, "is an infinite capacity for taking pains."

"Then," remarked Smuthers, "old Grognache must be a genius. He gets every ailment he hears any one else has."

What More?

He—You might at least have given me some warning that you were going to throw me over.

She—Well, haven't I been nice to you for over a week?

A GUARANTEED CURE
For All Forms of Kidney Disease

We, the undersigned Druggists, are fully prepared to give the following guarantee with every 50 cent bottle of Dr. Pettigill's Kidney-Wort Tablets, the only remedy in the world that positively cures all troubles arising from weak or diseased kidneys:

"Money cheerfully returned if the sufferer is not relieved and improved after use of one bottle. Three to six bottles effect astonishing and permanent cures. If not relieved and cured, you waste no money."

C. H. Gunn & Co., Druggists, Chatham, Ont.

Some Brilliant Sword strokes.

Elephants are completely disabled by one blow from the Arab's two handed sword, which almost severs the huge hind leg, biting deep into the bone. This feat is varied by slashing off the trunk, leaving it dangling only by a piece of skin. A ghorrka has been seen to behead a buffalo with a single blow of his cookie. And Sir Samuel Baker, a man powerful enough to wield during his African exploration the "baby" an elephant rifle weighing 22 pounds, once drove a wild bear with his big hunting knife almost in halves as it was making a final rush, catching it just behind the shoulder where the hide and bristles are at least a span thick. Sir Walter Scott relates how the Earl of Angus, with his huge sweeping brand, challenged an opponent to fight and at a blow chopped assunder his thigh bone, killing him on the spot.

There is a story current in Australia that a Lieutenant Anderson in 1852, during an encounter with bushrangers, cut clean through the gun barrel of his adversary with his sword. And at Kansasan it is related that one of Arabi Pasha's soldiers was severed in two during the midnight charge. But in the opinion of experts this is very improbable, even had the new regulation sabre been then in use.—London Globe.

We are never tired so long as we can see far enough.

Some Brilliant Sword strokes.

Elephants are completely disabled by one blow from the Arab's two handed sword, which almost severs the huge hind leg, biting deep into the bone. This feat is varied by slashing off the trunk, leaving it dangling only by a piece of skin. A ghorrka has been seen to behead a buffalo with a single blow of his cookie. And Sir Samuel Baker, a man powerful enough to wield during his African exploration the "baby" an elephant rifle weighing 22 pounds, once drove a wild bear with his big hunting knife almost in halves as it was making a final rush, catching it just behind the shoulder where the hide and bristles are at least a span thick. Sir Walter Scott relates how the Earl of Angus, with his huge sweeping brand, challenged an opponent to fight and at a blow chopped assunder his thigh bone, killing him on the spot.

There is a story current in Australia that a Lieutenant Anderson in 1852, during an encounter with bushrangers, cut clean through the gun barrel of his adversary with his sword. And at Kansasan it is related that one of Arabi Pasha's soldiers was severed in two during the midnight charge. But in the opinion of experts this is very improbable, even had the new regulation sabre been then in use.—London Globe.

We are never tired so long as we can see far enough.

Some Brilliant Sword strokes.

Elephants are completely disabled by one blow from the Arab's two handed sword, which almost severs the huge hind leg, biting deep into the bone. This feat is varied by slashing off the trunk, leaving it dangling only by a piece of skin. A ghorrka has been seen to behead a buffalo with a single blow of his cookie. And Sir Samuel Baker, a man powerful enough to wield during his African exploration the "baby" an elephant rifle weighing 22 pounds, once drove a wild bear with his big hunting knife almost in halves as it was making a final rush, catching it just behind the shoulder where the hide and bristles are at least a span thick. Sir Walter Scott relates how the Earl of Angus, with his huge sweeping brand, challenged an opponent to fight and at a blow chopped assunder his thigh bone, killing him on the spot.

There is a story current in Australia that a Lieutenant Anderson in 1852, during an encounter with bushrangers, cut clean through the gun barrel of his adversary with his sword. And at Kansasan it is related that one of Arabi Pasha's soldiers was severed in two during the midnight charge. But in the opinion of experts this is very improbable, even had the new regulation sabre been then in use.—London Globe.

We are never tired so long as we can see far enough.

Some Brilliant Sword strokes.

Elephants are completely disabled by one blow from the Arab's two handed sword, which almost severs the huge hind leg, biting deep into the bone. This feat is varied by slashing off the trunk, leaving it dangling only by a piece of skin. A ghorrka has been seen to behead a buffalo with a single blow of his cookie. And Sir Samuel Baker, a man powerful enough to wield during his African exploration the "baby" an elephant rifle weighing 22 pounds, once drove a wild bear with his big hunting knife almost in halves as it was making a final rush, catching it just behind the shoulder where the hide and bristles are at least a span thick. Sir Walter Scott relates how the Earl of Angus, with his huge sweeping brand, challenged an opponent to fight and at a blow chopped assunder his thigh bone, killing him on the spot.

There is a story current in Australia that a Lieutenant Anderson in 1852, during an encounter with bushrangers, cut clean through the gun barrel of his adversary with his sword. And at Kansasan it is related that one of Arabi Pasha's soldiers was severed in two during the midnight charge. But in the opinion of experts this is very improbable, even had the new regulation sabre been then in use.—London Globe.

We are never tired so long as we can see far enough.

Some Brilliant Sword strokes.

Elephants are completely disabled by one blow from the Arab's two handed sword, which almost severs the huge hind leg, biting deep into the bone. This feat is varied by slashing off the trunk, leaving it dangling only by a piece of skin. A ghorrka has been seen to behead a buffalo with a single blow of his cookie. And Sir Samuel Baker, a man powerful enough to wield during his African exploration the "baby" an elephant rifle weighing 22 pounds, once drove a wild bear with his big hunting knife almost in halves as it was making a final rush, catching it just behind the shoulder where the hide and bristles are at least a span thick. Sir Walter Scott relates how the Earl of Angus, with his huge sweeping brand, challenged an opponent to fight and at a blow chopped assunder his thigh bone, killing him on the spot.

There is a story current in Australia that a Lieutenant Anderson in 1852, during an encounter with bushrangers, cut clean through the gun barrel of his adversary with his sword. And at Kansasan it is related that one of Arabi Pasha's soldiers was severed in two during the midnight charge. But in the opinion of experts this is very improbable, even had the new regulation sabre been then in use.—London Globe.

We are never tired so long as we can see far enough.

Some Brilliant Sword strokes.

Elephants are completely disabled by one blow from the Arab's two handed sword, which almost severs the huge hind leg, biting deep into the bone. This feat is varied by slashing off the trunk, leaving it dangling only by a piece of skin. A ghorrka has been seen to behead a buffalo with a single blow of his cookie. And Sir Samuel Baker, a man powerful enough to wield during his African exploration the "baby" an elephant rifle weighing 22 pounds, once drove a wild bear with his big hunting knife almost in halves as it was making a final rush, catching it just behind the shoulder where the hide and bristles are at least a span thick. Sir Walter Scott relates how the Earl of Angus, with his huge sweeping brand, challenged an opponent to fight and at a blow chopped assunder his thigh bone, killing him on the spot.

There is a story current in Australia that a Lieutenant Anderson in 1852, during an encounter with bushrangers, cut clean through the gun barrel of his adversary with his sword. And at Kansasan it is related that one of Arabi Pasha's soldiers was severed in two during the midnight charge. But in the opinion of experts this is very improbable, even had the new regulation sabre been then in use.—London Globe.

Superstition and the belief in the incantations of witches are not entirely dead, as the following tale will prove:

One day a gypsy stopped at a house, and, pointing to a child, said, "He is sick."

"Yes, he's suffering from rheumatism," said the woman.

"Yes, and I can cure him, lady, if you will let me have six fancy plates, but you must be sure they are nice."

"Oh, anything to get him well," said the woman. "I'm willing to do anything," and she fetched a half dozen fine china plates that had been her pride.

The gypsy got them out in a row, one after the other, placed her hands on the four center ones, mumbled some words over them and said:

"Now, if you will let me take these plates away with me to destroy them your boy will be cured of rheumatism. No more aches and pains for him, lady; nothing but good health, lady. Let me take them, lady, and cure him."

The curious part of it is the woman did give the gypsy those plates.

The Love of Mothers.

Among the lower animals the mother's love for her offspring lasts only until the offspring is able to shift for itself. The hen will feed and fight for her downy chicks, but when they become feathered and commence to do their own foraging the mother becomes indifferent to them and thinks only of hatching another brood. The mare loves her foal and the cow her calf only during the suckling period. Canine dams cease to show affection to their progeny after the puppy age, says the San Francisco Bulletin.

So through the human animal kingdom below the human species the maternal instinct endures only while the young ones are helpless and ceases when they have grown up.

How different is the love of a human mother for her children! That love never dies and seems to grow more intense as the children become less and less worthy of it. The black sheep is often the best beloved.

A Voracious Spider.

It is a curious story to watch the little white, brown speckled spiders which hover among plants seeking what they may devour. It seems almost incredible that they will conquer and carry off to their dens insects twice their size, but this is just what they do, capturing flies of the largest kind. They will hide under the petals of the flowers, and when Mr. Fly comes buzzing along they will spring out at him, and the next thing he knows he is being dragged off to be served up at a spider luncheon. They grip the fly by the neck, if he has a neck, and dart down the leaves, skip to the grass and the huge Catarrh, which makes your breath so heavy and your hearing so poor. Catarrh is a scientific cure for Catarrh, Bronchitis and Asthma, recommended by Doctors and druggists as a certain cure. Mr. Henry A. Taylor, the oldest druggist in Halifax, says, "Catarrh gives satisfaction wherever it goes. It is simple and convenient to use, and cures fully three times the sale of any other Catarrh remedy sold in the city." Catarrh is guaranteed to cure, and if it fails you can have your money returned. Price $1.50 for two months' treatment. Small size 25c. Druggists or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

Caught Napping.

Uncle—Dear me, Carl, what a poor memory you have!

Nephew—A poor memory, you say? Why, I can repeat four pages of the names in the directory after reading them through only once!

Uncle—I'll bet you a hamper of champagne that you can't do it.

The nephew sends for a directory, attentively peruses four pages and shuts up the book.

Uncle—Well!

Nephew—Muller, Muller, Muller, etc., ad infinitum.

All the four pages of the directory being taken up with this familiar patronymic, our student won his bet in fine style.

An August Month.

"Do you believe in the superstition that June is a lucky month in which to get married?"

"Why, no," dissented Mrs. Porque. "I got married in August, and I'm still here."

"On what do you base your belief?"

"Well, you see, I do all my marrying in that month, and the divorce courts give alimony and counsel fees every time."

Tongue Reading.

According to the disciples of linguistics or the science of tongue reading, it is a demonstrated fact that a big tongue indicates dissimulation; a long and broad tongue, garrulity and generosity; a narrow tongue, concentration and talent; a short, broad tongue, garrulity and untruth. The man with a very short and narrow tongue is a liar of true artistic merit.

Inconsiderate.

"I really shall have to leave this hotel," said the weary man to the proprietor. "There is a baby in the next room to mine, and he cries all night."

"I don't see why you should complain," said the proprietor. "His father and mother have him in the same room with them, and they haven't said a word."

Supply at Hand.

Employment Agent—I have a cook that will just suit you. She is a young widow and is very fond of children.

Mrs. Richleigh—But we have no children.

Employment Agent—Oh, that'll be all right, ma'am. She has six of her own.

The Mother's Rule.

"Here," said Mr. Snags as he laid a volume on the table—"here is a book that I am very desirous Lucy shall read."

"Very well," replied Mrs. Snags; "I'll forbid her to touch it."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

THE NORTHWAY CO., Limited

THE BUSY STORE

THE NORTHWAY COMPANY Ltd

Men's Clothing Special Values

Men's Fur Coats at Special ... Prices ...

Men's suits, pure wool tweeds, in latest fall patterns, correctly tailored in latest sack styles, Italian linings, sizes 35 to 44 in., special at $8.50 and $7.50.

Men's fine suits, extra quality, all wool cloth, in neat chalk-line patterns, superior finish, best quality linings, sizes 36 to 42 in., special at $14.50.

Men's black suits, fine pure wool worsteds and serges, in black and navy, latest sack styles, fine workmanship and finish, all silk stitched, Italian linings, French facings, sizes 35 to 44 in., special at $10.00.

Men's grey worsted suits, superior quality, fine soft finish, navy and black, extra well tailored, best quality linings, perfect fittings, sizes 35 to 44 in., special at $12.50 and $14.00.

Men's overcoats—Fine heavy black heavy cloth, medium and long lengths, cut in latest fashion, fly front, velvet collar, Italian linings, sizes 36 to 44 in., special at $10.00, $12.50, $15.00 and $17.50.

Men's overcoats, superior quality, pure wool, kersey cloth, black and navy, best Italian linings, French facings, special at $10.00.

Young men's overcoats, fine all wool cloth, in neat chalk-line patterns, cut in latest fashion, full back, turned cuffs, fly front, velvet collar, Italian linings, sizes 32 to 36 inches, special at $7.00.

Men's fine overcoats, dark Oxford grey, gold cloth, frieze, etc., superior quality, plaid back or lined, cut in latest fashion, superior workmanship and finish, sizes 36 to 44 inches, special at $10.00, $12.50, $15.00 and $17.50.

Men's fine overcoats, dark Oxford grey, gold cloth, frieze, etc., superior quality, plaid back or lined, cut in latest fashion, superior workmanship and finish, sizes 36 to 44 inches, special at $10.00, $12.50, $15.00 and $17.50.

Men's fine overcoats, dark Oxford grey, gold cloth, frieze, etc., superior quality, plaid back or lined, cut in latest fashion, superior workmanship and finish, sizes 36 to 44 inches, special at $10.00, $12.50, $15.00 and $17.50.

Men's fine overcoats, dark Oxford grey, gold cloth, frieze, etc., superior quality, plaid back or lined, cut in latest fashion, superior workmanship and finish, sizes 36 to 44 inches, special at $10.00, $12.50, $15.00 and $17.50.

Men's fine overcoats, dark Oxford grey, gold cloth, frieze, etc., superior quality, plaid back or lined, cut in latest fashion, superior workmanship and finish, sizes 36 to 44 inches, special at $10.00, $12.50, $15.00 and $17.50.

Men's fine overcoats, dark Oxford grey, gold cloth, frieze, etc., superior quality, plaid back or lined, cut in latest fashion, superior workmanship and finish, sizes 36 to 44 inches, special at $10.00, $12.50, $15.00 and $17.50.

Men's fine overcoats, dark Oxford grey, gold cloth, frieze, etc., superior quality, plaid back or lined, cut in latest fashion, superior workmanship and finish, sizes 36 to 44 inches, special at $10.00, $12.50, $15.00 and $17.50.

Men's fine overcoats, dark Oxford grey, gold cloth, frieze, etc., superior quality, plaid back or lined, cut in latest fashion, superior workmanship and finish, sizes 36 to 44 inches, special at $10.00, $12.50, $15.00 and $17.50.

Men's fine overcoats, dark Oxford grey, gold cloth, frieze, etc., superior quality