The Supreme Test of a Healing Agent

Pooriasis or Chronic Eczema Defied All Treatment Until Dr. Chase's Ointment Was Used.

MRS. MASSEY.

After suffering with the terrible itching of Pooriasis for five years, and being told by physicians that she could not be cured, Mrs. Massey tried every ointment and was entirely cured. You will find this letter interesting, and will not wonder that the writer is enthusiastic in praising this ointment. Mrs. Nettie Massey, Co. 5, O. N. T., writes: "For five years I suffered with what three doctors called Pooriasis. They could not help me, and one of them told me if anyone offered to guarantee a cure for $10.00 to keep my money, as I could not get well, the disease spread all over me, even on my face and head, and the itching and burning was hard to bear. I used eight boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and I am glad to say I am entirely cured, not a sign of a sore to be seen. I can hardly praise this ointment enough."

Can you imagine a more severe test for Dr. Chase's Ointment? This should convince you that as a cure for eczema and all forms of itching skin disease Dr. Chase's Ointment stands supreme. Put it to the test. $10 a box, all dealers, or Edmanston, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

A Dedication.

Dear son of mine, the baby days are over, I can no longer shield you from the earth; Yet in my heart always I must remember, How through the dark I fought to give you birth; Dear son of mine, by all the lives behind you, By all our fathers fought for in the past, In this great war to which your birth has brought you, Acquit you well, hold on your honor fast, God guard you, son of mine, wherever you wander, God lead the banners under which you fight, You are my all, I give you to the nation God shall uphold you that you fight right.

Girls After the War.

WHAT WILL BE THE EFFECT ON CANADIAN YOUNG WOMEN?

Miss E. M. Knox, of Haverhill Ladies' College, has written a thoughtful little booklet concerning the effect of the war upon Canadian girls. She realizes as others have realized that in some respects this war will be the most important event in a thousand years; that when it is over we shall be looking upon a new world. Just what that world will be we know not, but Miss Knox points to certain tendencies which appear likely to continue, and recommends that the education of women in Canada should be modified to comply with the conditions that are likely to exist for some years after peace is declared. She remarks, for instance, that as a result of the death and disablement of so many young Canadians, girls now in their teens can no longer look upon marriage with the certainty of former times. War has snatched their prospective husbands from them by the tens of thousands.

There must be, therefore, more women than ever crowding the professions, but the war will have made it more difficult than ever for young girls to obtain a foothold in some of them. 'In nursing, for instance, their elder sisters are crowding the hospitals to take the place of those who are leaving for the front, the younger girls will find as soon as the war is over and nurses on military duty return, that the profession is practically closed, for four or five years at any rate. Equally unpromising is the teaching outlook. Miss Knox says that this year for the first time teachers are finding it difficult to obtain employment. In the West rural schools are closing and married teachers through lack of means, are crowding back upon the profession. She does not believe that more than ten per cent. of the candidates training this year in the Faculty of Education will be able to secure positions. Stenographers, housekeepers and governesses are far more numerous than the vacancies for them. Domestic servants alone continue at a premium.

These unfavorable conditions are likely to be accentuated after the war, for Miss Knox expects to see a great immigration of women later on. English women who have been called upon to fill the places of men sent to the front will not easily reconcile themselves to return to their old drudgery. Their thoughts will turn naturally to newer countries, and Canada is likely to receive many thousands of them. Because of the hardships of pioneer life upon womankind these immigrants will not in large numbers go West, but will remain in the East to compete with Canadian girls in every call that is open to them. It is plain, then, that if opportunities for employment are to be decreased as a result of the war it will be necessary for women to open up some new fields for themselves. Miss Knox points out that it was after the Crimean War, and partly as a result of that struggle, that the modern woman was evolved, or rather that women began to occupy fields that had been previously the exclusive domain of men.

If strong leaders were at hand what new lines of occupation could be created? she asks. In the first place, girls could learn, in addition to ordinary domestic service, first aid in carpentering, plumbing and gardening, so that they might be not only capable managers in their own home upon small means, but also form a new society among themselves. A First Aid Union under a capable House Mother, would consist of girls in uniform, who, as telephoned for, would be ready to help in emergency, take care of children during the mother's sudden illness, nurse a convalescent child, read aloud, cook or wait at a dinner party, do the small repairs of the house, the work's mending and be at hand for sundry and one unexpected difficulties. A Norfolk institution for infant nurses, a training centre for governesses, social workers, factory inspectors, market gardeners, chicken farmers, and the like might be established, and from centres of this kind girls could be drafted to the West, leaving city posts to those who came after them.

The writer believes that as a result of the war the moral training of young girls will be changed. 'The mother whose husband is fighting in the trenches looks for the same soldierly qualities in her children as in their father; for swift obedience, endurance and power of self-sacrifice. In the school, instead of excusing and sheltering her children, she will insist upon a conscientious fulfilment of their duty.' On the physical side,

The Boy Scouts.

TO THE PEOPLE OF WOLFVILLE AND VICINITY.

As the time for the annual entertainment of the Boy Scouts draws near, and as there have been many criticisms of the Scout work and many questions regarding it, I have thought it well to explain why we continue to ask for your support, what our aims and objects are and what we have been doing the past years.

Action of Single Spoonful Surprises Many.

Wolfville people who bought the simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., known as Adler-Lika, are surprised at the INSTANT effect of a SINGLE SPOONFUL. This remedy is so complete a bowel cleanser that it is used successfully in appendicitis. Adler-Lika acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel and ONE SPOONFUL relieves almost ANY CASE of constipation, sour or gassy stomach. ONE MINUTE after you take it the gasses rumble and pass out. Sold by A. V. Rand.

The Silent Indian.

The recent Canadian incident from the front relates to a full blooded Indian in the Canadian infantry battalion who is a marvel with his rifle. He has a telescopic sight attached to his rifle, and goes about as he likes. He is a most silent man, talking hardly with anyone. He wanders about the trenches and waits for a chance to pick off a German. One German sniper was recently giving a lot of trouble. Officers with glasses tried in vain to locate him. The Indian came along, and without saying a word to anybody was seen to fire at a tree. Down fell the sniper. The Indian saw with his naked eye what the officers with their glasses failed to discover.

He told a newspaper correspondent he put a little stick in the stock of his rifle every time he was sure he had killed a German. The correspondent saw thirty-eight nicks on the stock. With gleeful countenance he said he was just about to add two more nicks. For some unaccountable reason this Indian never fired twice at a German through the scope. He missed his mark he will not fire again, and let the man alone.

When Blood is Poisoned.

The blood must be filtered, otherwise you are poisoned. If the kidneys fail the liver is over worked and becomes torpid. By using Dr. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills you get both of these filtering organs working right, and also ensure healthful action of the bowels. For this reason these pills are an ideal family medicine. They cure biliousness, constipation, chronic indigestion and kidney disease.

Western Wheat Crop.

A train of 40 foot cars, 3,225 miles long would be required to move the 1915 grain crop of 567,000 bushels in the three prairie provinces of western Canada. Divided into 40 cars in each train, 10,970 locomotives would be called into action to transport the cars to market. The services of 58,800 trained engineers, firemen, brakemen and conductors would be necessary. To move the 75,000,000 bushel wheat crop of Manitoba alone would require 75,000 cars with a capacity of 1,000 bushels to each of these cars with an average length of 40 feet forming a line 568 miles long, a string that would reach all the way from Edmonton to Winnipeg. If the crop of the west was moved at one time, 458,816 heavily loaded cars would be required, nearly 11,000 entire trains.

Locomotor Ataxia.

'My nerves were very bad, and I could not sleep at night, nor could I control my arms or legs,' writes Mrs. Robt. Bastard, Maxwell, N. B. 'Dr. Chase's Nerve Food cured me of what I believe was the early stage of locomotor ataxia. I cannot describe what I suffered, but now I am entirely cured.'

Dirty Milk.

An Island Revenue bulletin shows that all the samples of Nova Scotia milk that were analyzed—ten—were dirty. 'This dirt consists,' says the chief analyst, 'of dirt, hairs and coagulum, and is most offensive and objectionable, as well as dangerous to health.' Three of the samples from Quebec city were dirty and every other sample from the whole Dominion was clean. Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Quebec 'trashed all the samples of dirty milk.'

Use lots of rye for Fall pasture, instead of wheat. The oats will not feed the fly and enable it to live until the Fall sown wheat is available and the fly attacks rye very slightly. A lot of people have the habit of tying with their mouths closed.

"Now I can Wash in Comfort!"

'Take it from me, boys, this new feature in Eastern Shirts is the greatest thing that has happened to our coat-cuts in years.' Ask your dealer to show you Eastern Shirts with the new "Sleeft" device for pulling up or letting down sleeves at will. It's done in a second, with one hand, and sets you free from clumsy stretch sleeves. Eastern Shirts are brimful of jaunty style. You'll like their clever cut and virile tone. Find them in any right outfitting shop.

Queer Old-Time Penalties.

When New York, or as it was then called, New Amsterdam, was under Dutch rule, some peculiar penalties were enacted. In 1642 a defendant in an action for slander was sentenced "to throw something in the box for the poor." In 1641 Thomas Cornell, a soldier, was tried for desertion and sentenced "to be conveyed to the place of execution, and there fastened to a stake, and a ball fired over his head, as an example to other evildoers." In 1647 Jonas Jonassen, a soldier, for robbing hen roosts and killing a pig, was ordered "to ride a wooden horse three days, from 8 a. m. to the conclusion of the parade, with a fifty-pound weight tied to each foot. In 1648 an Englishman found guilty of a grave offence was pardoned on condition that he saw firewood for one year for the West India company. In the time of the commonwealth, in England, drunkards at Newcastle-on Tyne were sentenced to carry about a tub, with holes in the sides for the arms to pass through. In 1754, in Scotland, David Lyles, for striking his father, was compelled to appear before the congregation at church, 'barredit and hairfuttit,' with a paper above his head inscribed with large letters, 'Behold the unnatural son, punished for putting hand on his father, and dishonoring God in him.'

The Gift of Love.

People think there are conditions excluding the necessity of love in the intercourse with men; such conditions do not exist. 'Things may be treated without love; one may chop wood, make bricks, forge iron without love, but one can no more deal with people without love than one can handle bees without care. - The nature of bees is such that if you handle them carelessly you will harm them as well as yourself. It is the same with people. And it cannot be different because mutual love is the basic law of human life.—Tolstoy.

The Rev. Ernest Houghton, a Bristol rector, has started an appeal to patriotic women of the nation to give their lives to ameliorate the condition of the maimed heroes of the war by marrying them. He has started a 'League for the marrying of broken heroes.'
