Maine Central has Washout Troubles.

No Mails or Baggage Saturday—

BANGOR, ME., March 1.—Washouts on the Maine Central at Riverside and Clinton caused by last night's rain have greatly interrupted traffic on the main line of the road. Train due here at 11:40 transferred passengers at Riverside and they arrived at 3 p. m. Trains due 3, 4:35 and 6:30 not yet in, and no mails or baggage have come through to-day. The Way Down East company arrived too late for matinee and played at night in street clothes. The Penobscot has risen a foot since morning and is still rising. The river is full of ice jams. Snow in the woods is very deep, five feet in most places and continued rain or warm weather would make big freshets. No western mails will arrive until 10 p. m.

A Man of Letters.

They sometimes do things queerly in the province down by the sea. In a remote Nova Scotia town lives a business man by no means lacking in originality. Up to a recent date he dispensed with a press in copying letters. The book was prepared in the usual way and he then employed his brother-in-law, a man of weight and leisure, to sit on the book till the written matter was satisfactorily copied.

Slight Fire at Woodstock.

WOODSTOCK, March 3.—There was an alarm of fire this evening, and it turned out that the engine room of the woolen mill was in danger. The firemen were soon on hand and had the fire in control, but not before considerable damage was done.

Fredrickton.

FREDERICTON, March 3.—Mrs. Archie Snowball and Miss Snowball arrived here from Chatham this afternoon, and have taken up their abode in the Beckwith house, leased by the governor for his residence. The governor is expected here tomorrow and Mrs. Snowball on Wednesday. These ladies with sleigh and carriage for the use of his honor, accompanied this afternoon, and a man and maid (private).

FOUND GUILTY.

Peculiar Verdict in a Most Peculiar Murder Trial.

CHICAGO, March 2.—The jury in the case of Dr. Orville S. Burnett, who has been on trial charged with the murder of Mrs. Charlotte S. Nichol of Nashville, Tenn., returned a verdict of guilty, and recommended that Burnett be sent to the penitentiary for fifteen years. Burnett's attorneys will ask for a new trial tomorrow. The verdict was a surprise, as Judge Baker's instructions to the jury were considered favorable to the defendant.

The case was one of the most unusual that has ever been tried in the Cook county criminal court. Burnett, who is a young dentist, was charged with being accessory before and after the act to the death of Mrs. Nichol, even though it was admitted by the prosecution that Mrs. Nichol had committed suicide. The state endeavored to establish the point that Burnett and Mrs. Nichol agreed to commit suicide together, and that the man waited, allowing the woman to go to her death alone. The defense disputed that there had been any agreement between the two to end their lives together, and asserted that Mrs. Nichol had taken her own life while Burnett was lying intoxicated at her side.

A Case of Smallpox At The Intercolonial Hotel.

CAMPBELLTON, March 2.—Fred Hachey, a young man belonging at Bathurst, arrived here last evening on his way home from a lumber camp on the Ottawa, and put up at the Intercolonial Hotel. Not feeling well this morning, he called upon Dr. Lunan, who discovered that he was suffering from smallpox, and at once notified the local board of health, which placed him in quarantine in the car in which he had travelled, and made proper arrangements for his care there. The Intercolonial hotel and persons who came in contact with Hachey are also under quarantine.

Lumbermen are Getting Anxious.

At Fredericton They Want About a Fortnight of Cold Weather.

FREDERICTON, March 2.—It has rained hard here since 3 o'clock today and the prospects for clearing are not yet good. The lumber operations are getting anxious over the outlook. Another fortnight of cold weather will enable all the lumbermen to finish the season's operations and prepare them for driving, they hope that such may be the case. In this vicinity the snow has about all disappeared, and a wood famine next season is feared.

TIBER WRECKED.

No Particulars of Crew Which Numbered 18.

HALIFAX, March 3.—There has been anxiety to-night as to the fate of the steamer Tiber, which sailed from Louisbourg Wednesday for Halifax with a cargo of coal.

When news was received here to-night from Canoe that a large quantity of wreckage had been picked up at the western entrance of that place to-day, consisting of a steamer's deck house, with planks attached, also an engine and lounge. At Port Felix, West Whitehead, fishermen picked up a large wheel, two chairs, lounge and side of a ship's boat and at Goldboro, 15 miles west of Canoe, two life buoys marked "Tiber, Montreal," and other wreckage was found. This latter established beyond doubt that the steamer has been lost and looks as though all on board had perished. Fishermen searched the shoals and islands of Canoe in hopes of finding some trace of the crew, but nothing further was discovered up to late to-night. It is thought the steamer broke down after leaving Louisbourg and in the storm which raged on the coast Sunday night was driven to her doom.

The Tiber was under command of Capt. Baugher, the owner was A. H. Archibald of this city, and M. Dubell, of Quebec. The Tiber was from here to Philadelphia, and was loaded with brick for Cape Breton. She recently brought a cargo of pine from Georgia to Sydney.

The Tiber was an iron built ship of 1134 net and 1756 gross tonnage. She was 253 feet 9 inches long, 33 feet beam and 24 feet 4 inches depth. She was built at Glasgow, Scotland, in 1870, and sailed from Montreal. She was formerly on the route between Montreal, Charlottetown, Halifax and St. John and has made many trips to that port.

YARMOUTH, N. S., March 3.—U. S. Consul Carter today received a telephone message from Leepore, stating that the American fishing schooner Indiana, with crew of 13 men, was ashore eight miles off the point and that she will be a total loss. The crew were all safely landed and are on the way home.

BLONDIN CAPTURED

Denies he Killed his Wife Though he Fled.

DETAILS OF WANDERINGS.

Was for some time in Canada —Why He Finally Went to Police Headquarters.

New York, Feb. 27.—Blondin today makes the following statement right at the outset. I want people to understand that I am not guilty of killing my wife. I haven't the slightest idea who killed her. I cannot say however, that I am sorry to get an opportunity to prove my innocence. The past seven months have been almost awful torture. Night and day I have been in fear of the police. Every one I met I suspected was in search of me. Although I am only twenty-eight, I look like a man of forty, and these gray hairs were caused by the awful days and nights I have put in since the police accused me of having killed my wife.

"Why I did not give myself up I cannot explain just now, except, perhaps, that I was in fear of being railroaded. Then, again I suppose every man has a horror of prison, and that horror was certainly very strong in me.

When I heard the police wanted me, my first impulse was to get away; and, strangely enough, I came direct to New York. I fully expected to be arrested on arriving in this city, but, by some chance fate favored me, and the detectives who were on the look-out did not find me.

I arrived here and put up at a small hotel. I don't remember where that was. I had some money but I spent most of my time in my room. I had to have exercise and I walked out one night. You may remember I evaded policemen, although I was not half so much afraid of them as I was of plain-clothes men.

I felt like a hunted beast. I went to some theatres and tried to shake the awful feeling that I was being searched for from my mind. After I had lived some days in New York, I became so frightened I decided to go away, and went to Fall River. That was a dangerous spot for me, and I stayed there but a short time, when I went to Springfield. Then I came back to New York and went to Canada.

I spent some weeks in Canada in various parts, then I went to Nova Scotia. I worked in those places as fireman and farm hand. I was out of cash by that time, and I had to earn my living. Something impelled me to go from place to place.

I could not stay in one place long. Finally I returned to New York. Fear was strong upon me, and I thought the best thing to do was to obtain employment on a vessel. After a short time, I got a place as coal passer on the Tiber. I made four trips to Canoe. All this time I went under the name of Barnard, and no one recognized me. On my return to New York, I made up my mind I was either to be caught or I wasn't, and I determined to find out if the police knew me. I went into the police headquarters, and that was my undoing. I am glad to say it is all over.

OVER THE WIRES.

Smuggling from New Brunswick.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 1.—It is stated in connection with the developments in the smuggling cases along the Canadian border that another loophole for the admission of goods free of duty was at Van Buren, Me., on the New Brunswick border. It is thought part of the seized furs sold here yesterday came in by way of Van Buren.

Defeated in Bloody Fight.

WILLEMSTADT, March 1.—According to advice from Caracas, the Moschis leader, Gachira, with 1,000 men, nearly all of them Colombians, attempted a new invasion of Venezuela near La Frías on February 24. After a bloody fight at Lucas Cumbres, the insurgents were completely routed and obliged to retire across the frontier, leaving a large number of dead on the field.

The steamer Bolivar (formerly the Pan Righ and more recently known as the Liberator, which was at Dominica in the Leeward islands Feb. 25), is reported as having sailed at St. Lucas yesterday.

PANAMA, Colombia, March 1.—The Caucho returned here Thursday night after having landed reinforcements for General Castro off Agua Dulce, and money for the payment of his troops. Commander Huerta, of the Chucuito, reported having sighted the revolutionary fleet near Anton, which place General Herrera, the revolutionary commander, has now made his headquarters. The return trip of the Chucuito was made during the night, an attack by the revolutionary gunboat Padilla being thus evaded.

Father Follows son as Suicide

Millionaire Hags Himself While Temporarily Insane.

Warren, Ohio, March 2.—Hon. Henry Bishop Perkins, one of Ohio's most prominent and philanthropic citizens, killed himself by hanging today in his office. Illness and the suicide of a favorite son, a Yale graduate, a year ago, is believed to have made Mr. Perkins temporarily insane. He was president of the first National Bank of Warren and also prominent in railroad and state affairs. He was a man of large fortune, said to be several millions of dollars.
