Should Alfalfa be Grown Alone or in Mixture With Grasses

So far, alfalfa is generally grown alone. The difficulty to secure a good stand experienced in the past is quite an extent responsible for this practice, as it has become a sort of a hammered in rule to "give alfalfa every possible chance to establish itself." On this account it is generally deemed unwise to sow any grass with the alfalfa because it is considered that, in doing it, there may be a certain danger of the alfalfa not a firm foothold. This view is undoubtedly correct in the majority of starting of alfalfa may meet with

According to one of the ablest spiritualist teachers a Mr. Ravlin the very central truth of spiritualism is the power and possibility of spirit return to communicate with those in the material form, "According to Webster Spirit cation of intelligence from the work of spirits, by means of physical phe nomena, commonly manifeste through a person of special suscep tibility." A writer on practical Occultism "a Mr. Morse, shows that "the phenomenal aspect of this modern Spiritualism reproduces all the essential principles of the magic, witchcraft, and sorcery of the past The same powers are involved, the
