CARDINAL Gibbons has taken legal proceedings against Hyacinthe A. Bingham, of Yale University, author of the book "The Poor Man's Priest"—which is a life of Father McElroy, with the support of the deposed priest and his theories against the Catholic Church—who dedicated the work to the Cardinal without his consent.

EDWARD CLIMENT of Sorol, Que., lit his kitchen fire on Saturday morning with coal oil. After the fire was burning he dropped on the hearth the stove jug containing five gallons of coal oil which ignited. Alarmed by her husband's cries Mrs. Climent rushed into the kitchen with a six months old child in her arms and in trying to smother the flames dropped the child which was burned to a crisp. The woman was also fatally burned. The husband was seriously but not fatally burned.

Mr. A. McNEIL forwarded per Mr. Colla on Wednesday last to the Jamaica Exhibition, which opens in January, 20 cases of Island products. The exhibit consists principally of the products of our farms and fisheries together with our manufactured articles. The Provincial Government have also procured samples of grain, potatoes, butter, cheese and fish, part of which was sent Wednesday. The Island exhibit will be shown on a splendid stand the shape of a pyramid, which was prepared by Mr. John Norman.

Wm. ERYNE, of Charlottetown, N.B., aged 60 slightly demented, and his death at St. John's early on Saturday morning in a sad manner. Lately he had been strictly watched by his relatives, but managed to escape from his home on Friday evening. He was last seen alive in the yard of a man named H. W. who asked him what he was doing there, and to which he made no reply. A woman later the day heard a crash and knew that the old man had fallen into the mill pond near by, which was nearly dry. He secured assistance and after an hour's search in the mill pond, his body was found in some water.

Mr. MURPHY, of Plover, one of the best delegates at present in Canada, is the one of those who feel Mr. Parnell's reputation as the home rule leadership in the eyes of the Irish population. "I don't like talking about these matters in Canada," said Mr. Murphy, "but I don't think Parnell should surrender the leadership. I could tell you a story an hour long about that O'Shea's business, going away here in 1881, when the whole thing was a conspiracy; but that's the dirty rag investigated by the London Times, for O'Shea never came back in 1887 or he knows to-day about the intimacy of the parties to the sale."

We regret very much the sudden death of Mr. John Doyle, an old and respected resident of this city, which took place at his residence on Monday morning. Mr. Doyle was in his usual good health on Saturday, attended services at St. Dunstan's Cathedral, and in the evening retired to bed apparently in the best of health. About 10 o'clock the morning he awoke and requested his wife to get up. Shortly after leaving the bed he noticed her husband rise up, slip his hand to his head and fall back again on the pillow. Dozing started she commenced his feet, who lived next door, and who immediately went for medical aid, but before he arrived had died. The deceased was in his 60th year of age, and was a native of the Emerald Isle. He was a member of the St. Dunstan's Cathedral and a very successful business man.

THE RECENT ROBBERIES.

For some time past a series of robberies have been going on in and around the Bay. Private residences and outbuildings would be invaded during the silent night and when their occupants arose in the morning they would find themselves minus some of the most valuable articles of their life.

Among the articles stolen were three tubs of butter from Mrs. Howard, North River, and one from St. Dunstan's College; four carcasses of lamb from the slaughter house of Saunders & Campbell, Lower Malpeque Road; about a ton of hay from a stack belonging to J. J. Trainor, which was in his field on the road leading from the Malpeque to Mount Edward Road; two loads of grain from F. L. Hazard's barn; and a sack of locoweed from W. F. Colwell's warehouse. Suspicion rested on Fred Bevan, who lives on the Malpeque Road, opposite St. Dunstan's College, and a warrant to arrest him was issued. Armed with the warrant O'Hara Taylor, D. J. and Bradley proceeded to Bevan's premises and located a thorough search, resulting in the finding of the mutton, a quantity of hay and some butter, all of which were confiscated. Later on the four carcasses of lamb were identified by Mr. Saunders as having been from his premises and he immediately procured a warrant for Bevan's arrest. On Thursday he appeared before the stipendiary Magistrate charged with the above theft. Mr. F. L. Hazard appeared for the prosecution and J. H. Good for the defence. After hearing the evidence the Magistrate decided that it was as strong as it could be, and justified him in sending Bevan up for trial in the Supreme Court for larceny.

The police made another raid on Bevan's premises on Thursday and Friday. The first day they found a barrel partly filled with herring, which was immediately seized. A horse and cow report having lost a barrel of herring some time ago, Friday their tour of inspection was more extended and of a more interesting nature. In a clump of bushes some distance from the house was found that portion of a whiskey still known as the worm, which was confiscated. The officers also arrested an old man named John A. McCallum, who works with Bevan, as a witness; and he told them he had taken the worm from the house on Thursday and placed it where it was found.

The charges of larceny of a sack of locoweed from W. F. Colwell's premises, and a tub of butter from St. Dunstan's College, were concluded yesterday, and Bevan was sent up for trial in the Supreme Court on both charges.

Each day seems to bring new trouble on Bevan's head, and death has again been relegated to oblivion as he again resorted, and laid at his door. The latest preferred against him, and which was also considered yesterday, is for the theft of a quantity of herring from Philip Chandler, of North Hill. Chandler alleges that while at the rental in Bevan's August last, a portion of his herring, which he left in his wagon after unloading his horse, was stolen, and an old pad and brooding laid instead. Other herring was also alleged that day. Witness saw Bevan at the scene, but did not suspect him until he heard the pad was found in his possession. Chandler believed the pad shown was the one taken from him. Bevan is now to be arraigned for the stealing of a quantity of hay from J. J. Trainor.

This morning Bevan and Frank Davison appeared before the Magistrate in connection with the worm found, which is in the supposed was portion of an Island distillery at one time in operation on Bevan's premises. Davison is charged with being an abettor. Mr. S. N. Nash, Collector of Inland Revenue, is prosecutor, for whom the case is being handled by Mr. E. J. Hodgson, Q. C. Mr. J. H. Good appeared for the defence. Up to the time of going to press the trial was in progress.

MINARD'S LINIMENT

TAKES THE LEAD with sale in 1889 of 192,508 BOTTLES.

which is the largest quantity of medicine ever sold in the Maritime Provinces by any firm.

We merely mention this fact as a proof of its merit, as it has not been so widely advertised as to be generally known in the locality in which it is made.

We intend and expect during 1890 to make the quantity one quarter of 1,000,000.
