He Was Obliged to be Sharp. 'Now that man,' said the hotel clerk, running his diamond hilted finger down the register, and pauling at the name 'Gurlprost ;' 'that name a fraud. That man is traveling incog., and there is something crooked about him.' 'Why do you think so?' inquired a reporter, on the trail of a fugitive item. Why do I think it? Why I almost knew it-in fact, I do know it intuitively. It is my business to be familiar with na nes, a d the derivation and nationality of them. Now, there is no such name as Gurlproat. It is neither English, Irish, Scotch, German, Swedish, Welsh, French, Spanish, Italian, Russian, Malay, Greek, Norwegian, nor Choctaw. It is a machine name manufactured for an emergency, something like the characters in Dickens' Lovels, the Veneerings, Podsnaps, Weggs, Derritts, Jaggers, Nickelbys, and Chuzzlewits. I am obliged to be sharp, you know, in my business.'

'Are there any other ear-marks by which you know this man to be a fraud ?

'Wel', yes. I have spoken to him on several occasions, calling him by name, Gurlproat, and on every occasion he has appeared to fail to recognize the name as at all familiar, and I have to repeat it. I tell you he is a fly fakir from away back. He is a queer, and you can bet high on it.'

'Now, there's a man,' continued the hotel clerk, pointing to anothor squaretoed specimen of caligraphy; 'that men Jones the e, A Q. Jones, he's all O. K. There is no subterfuge about him. He comes in and planks down his grip-sack, deposits a roll of bills in the safe, calls for a stylus, indorses the register, and for a stylus, indorses the register, and there you have it str. ght out and flat-to love foolishly is better than not to be to love foolishly is better than not to be charks and she because courselius. footed. A. Q. Jones, $2,000 in his roll able to love at all .- [Thackeray. in the safe. He is a man who will do te tie up to. We have to be good judges of human nature in this business, and are obliged to be tetotally and strictly sharp. But Jones is solid with this house. He has been here a week now, and I have advanced him $550 or $600 on his roll.

'You are sure the 'rol" contains money are you?' inquired the reporter careless-

'Sure! Why it's an express package sealed, and the amount marked in the corner. Guests of en leave them with us for security.'

'I should want to know it was all right before I loaned money on it,' persued the reporter

That's where you would fool yourself. That's where you would insult guests and drive away trade. 3ut-' the sharp clerk spoke this a little uneasily, 'just to show you what a square man Jones is, I'll send up his bill,' and the elerk pro. ceeded to sound the loud timbrel which summoned a bell boy. 'Here, run up to 58 with this,' said

'You'll have to speak a little louder. I'm a trifle deaf.'

'Eight dollars-'

'Eight ?' 'And a quarter?'

'All right-correct,' and Mr. Gurlproat tendered a $10 bill. The sharp clerk spent five minutes critically examiniag and testing the same. While doing so, the suspected guest observed :

'If Col. James Gurlproat, of Montgomery, Ala., calls for me, please tell him I have gone on to Washington.'

The hotel clerk looked suddenly up, and his face was like a circus poster gilded by the rays of sunset.

Are you Congressman Gurlproat, of Alabama?' he inquired.

'You are Congressman Gurlpreat?'

No, I am his brother. I am Judge Gurlproat, formerly of the Supreme Beuch.

He had his change, and in another instant the porter was obsequiously escorting him out to a carriage.

'Why,' exclaimed the clerk ; 'it's aingular I happened to forget that Gurlproat family of Montgomers. It just beats all. Funny, isn't it, when you miss a man's pame.

The bell boy returned at this interest ing juncture of the proceedings with the startling information that A. Q. Jones had skipped, bag and baggage, hook, line, and sinker, foot, horse, and dragoons. The clerk turned white, and his fingers shook like a splinter on a rail as he suddenly went down into the safe after the express package. He fished it up, tore off the end and proceeded to shake out-a generous wad of newspaper clippings, some of it gems of poetry, the balance choice extracts from the humor ous paper. - Texas Siftings.

Conservatives and the Conspiracy.

The Conservative party will not endorse, certainly ought not to endorse, the Pulp-tower conspiracy to overthrow the Mowat government. What makes 'Here, run up to 58 with this,' said the clerk.

While the bell boy was on his mission, the suspicious Gurlproat came up to the office to settle his bill.

'That's him — Gurlproat' — said the clerk, ferming the words with his mouth without uttering a sound: 'eight dellars' the party and of the other. On Fainting.

It is surprising how everybody rushes at a fainting person and strives to raise him up, and especially to keep his head erect. There must be an instinctive apprehension that if a person seized with a fainting or other fit fall into a recumbent position, death is more imminent. It was never known to fail. I must have driven a mile to-day while a lady fainting was held upright. I found her pulseless, white, and apparent-ly dying, and I believe if I had delayed ten minutes longer she would have really died. I laid her head down on a lower level than her bedy, and immedicheeks, and she became conscious. the excited group of friends I said:—
Always remember this fact, namely:— rainting is caused by a want of blood in the brain ; the heart ceases to act with sufficient force to send the usual amount of blood to the brain, and hence the person loses consciousness because the function of the brain ceases. Restore the b'ood to the brain, and instantly the person recovers. Now, though the blood e is never lost. If not recipro-it will flow back and soften and the heart.—[Irving.] is propelled to all parts of the body by the action of the heart, yet it is still un-der the influence of the laws of gravitation. In the erect position the blood as-cends to the head against gravitation, and the supply to the brain is diminished as compared with the recumbent position, the heart's pulsation being equal. If, then, you place a person sitting whose heart has nearly ceased to beat, his brain will fail to receive blood, while if you lay him down, with the head lower than the heart, blood will run into the brain by the mere force of gavity; and in fainting, in sufficient quantity to restore consciousness. Indeed, nature teaches us how to manage the fainting persons, for they always fall, and fre quently are at once restored by the re-cumbent position into which they are thrown.
