The point most difficult of comprehension, to a layman, is why the other members of the Commission did not also submit their report to and the sum expended by the administration to carry it on. Railways are expensive playthings to be controlled by Governments, and the whole history of them, in all countries where they have been carried on Government account, has shown vast financial loss. The future of the cross-country service in Newfoundland may not exactly the last of the cross to-night for their first practice.

Figures of Statistics such as those issued by Mr. W. J. Martin, are of the greatest value, inasmuch as they form a criterion of conditions with years that have passed, and compare the present with the past, a comparison, which according to the report of this department for 1920 loses nothing of worth, but rather proves that the excellence and advanced knowledge of medical treatment is doing much dreaded white plague by which dreaded white plague by which so many of the best lives of this colony are destroyed.

War Memorial Collections.

We have been asked to state that the totals which appear in our advertising columns each day are only the totals of the amounts handed in at the seven different collecting centres since they were opened. Including subscriptions sent direct to the Chairman, and Secretary, the Committee man and Secretary, the Committee now has in the bank earning interest $5,725.42. In addition to this there are between $2500 and $3000 promised by responsible parties, which is in the course of being collected. The main point is have you contributed yet? Max Kennedy, a seven year old boy, was knocked down by a motor car driven by Mr. J. V. O'Dea, on Haggerty Street, at 9.30 p.m. yesterday and one hour later died in the General Hospital as a result of the injuries received. The victim of the accident, who is the sen of Richard Kennedy, pipe-fitter at the Reid Co., was playing with some other children and attempted to cross the street just as Mr. O'Dea was driving down at a very slow speed. The boy dashed in front of the car and the driver quickly applied his brakes, too late, however, to prevent him from being hit by the mudguard which threw him on the ground, one of the wheels passing over the unfortunate lad's body. He was picked up and driven by Mr. O'Dea to the General Hospital where all that was humanly possible was done for him by Dr. Keegan, to no avail. Eyewitnesses tatas that no blame can be attached for Mr. O'Dea who was driving slowly and carefully. A magisterial enquiry in othe secident will be held in the course of a tew days.

On the declaration of war in August, 1914, he was recalled for military service and returned to the Old Country, rejoining his former regiment, the Royal Horse Artillery. His battery proceeded to France, where he was severely wounded in February, 1915, and was conveyed to hospital, remaining there for a period of nine months. Capt. Barnes was then recommended for a commission and again proceeded to the front, later being transferred to India. Having seen active service from the beginning to the close of the war, he is now the proud possessor of three war medals, and upon being discharged from the Army, he returned to business in Nfid.
