They will principally reside at Holker Hall, Lancashire, which the Duke of Devonshire left to his grandson, along with the large estate which appertains to it.

A Panic at Tangier.

TANGIER, July 27.-Great excitement and alarm have been created in this city by a report which has been circulated that the insurgents are advanting on the city with the purpose of attacking the Sultan's troops stationed here. The Europeans living along the shore adjacent to the city are flocking into the town for refuge. Ætna Violent.

CATANIA, July 27.—The cruption of Mount Ætna is again very violent. Im-mense masses of rock are projected out of the volcano to a great height and dense clouds overhang the summit of the mountain. The subterranean rumblings are severe enough to cause windows to rattle in the neighboring villages. The lava streams are again advancing.

LONDON, July 27.—James Frazer, a bank clerk, residing in the village of Polmont, Scotland, last evening rushed into the house of a neighbor with a drawn sword in his hand, and without a word of warning made a murderous attack upon him, slashing with his weapon at all who came to resue his victim. The neighbor made a good fight, but all his attempts to disarm Frazer were unavailing, and at last, weakened by loss of blood, which flowed from many wounds, he was unable to resist longer, and was hacked to death. The murderer then turned his attention to the wife of his victim, inflicting upon her wounds which will result in her death. Not satisfied with his bloody work he rushed from the house, and, meeting a young woman on the highway, cut and stabbed her with the sword which he still carried until he had killed her. The murderer was finally captured after a desperate struggle. He is believed to be insane.

Michael Davitt made an address in which Michael Davitt made an address in which he said that every member of the party would remain glued to his seat in Parliament every moment that the interests of home rule required. They met with victory written on their banners, and were confident of the advent of home rule for Ireland. He said he did not believe that the members of the Labor party who were elected to the House of Commons would oppose Mr. Gladstone.

Mr. Blake's Presence.

Mr. E. J. Davis, M.P.P. for North York, has just returned to Toronto from a busi ness trip to the old country. The British elections, he says, were the hardest fought for years. Home rule was the main issue for years. Home rule was the main issue, and almost the only one discussed in public meetings, a number of which he attended. Mr. Blake's presence aroused considerable interest, and the general opinion was that he will be of great service in uniting the Irish party and of great assistance to Mr. Gladstone in framing a home rule bill. Mr. Blake will also do Canada ingaloulable service hymphicathe new Gov. incalculable service by making the new Government more familiar with Canadian policy and its result on the people, and policy and its result on the people, and also by explaining the resources and possibilities of the Dominion. DISASTROUS RUNAWAYS,

In Which Two Londoners Are the Victims.

Miss Watson, of Grey Street, Breaks Her Arm-A Lively Horse-Master Alfred Gateolifte Painfully

Last evening about 10 o'clock Miss Watson, daughter of Mr. Joseph Watson, 459 Grey street, was sitting in a rig on Dundas street, just west of Clarence, a friend who accompanied her having gone into an adjacent store. The horse took fright and swerved around suddenly, and the young lady was thrown violently to the ground. Pedestrians ran to her assistance; she was carried into a store and a physician sent for. The latter found that she had broken her arm, in addition to having sustained severe bruises. Miss Watson bore the pain bravely, and was removed to her home. Meanwhile the horse dashed down Dundas street and turned north on Waterloo as far as Dufferin avenue. The animal took the boulevard there on the north side, and ran westward until its progress was stopped by an iron fence at Mayor Spencer's residence. The collision was a terrific one, and so completely frightened the horse that a bystander caught it on the spot. A lady passing at the time was so terrified by the sight that she fainted outright. Restoratives were applied, and she recovered from the shock in a few minutes. Strange to say, the horse was not injured, nor was the buggy damaged to any extent. The iron post which was firmly fastened in the ground was knocked over and the boulevard railing bent and twisted like straw. How the horse and vehicle got over it without accident is a mystery.

To the Editor of the Adventrisher.

Through your valued paper I would like very much to state a slight grievance I have. On May 24 last the Athletic Baseball Club, of this city, was invited down to Ingersoil to compete against the club of that place for a silver trophy cup provided for the winners by the Sons of Scotland or Caledonia Society of that place. The Athletics were victorious, there being no dispute whatever shout the game. The cup was to have been forwarded in a couple of days. Since that day to this we have never seen nor heard of it. Is that in keeping with the record of the Sons of Scotland or fist an oversight! If it be the latter I hope with the record of the Sons of Scotiana with the record of the Sons of Scotiana the first an oversight! If it be the latter I hope they will forward it at once. Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your valuable space, I remain, respectfully yours.

W. J. LEE,

Manager Athletics Baseball London, July 27, 1892.
