STOOD SENTRY OVER HIMSELF. The Dutch commandant who had charge of all the British prisoners taken after the battles of Glencoe. Dundee and Nicholson's Nek has told Mr. Davitt the following interesting little

Going his rounds at midnight on one occasion he was astonished to see an English soldier acting as Boer sentinel the prisoners, and on the commandant demanding an explanation, "Tommy" offered the following extraordinary account of his transformation from a prisoner to sentinel over him-self and fellow-prisoners: "Well, sir, this 'ere poor little chap," pointing to the sleeping form of a Boer lad 15 years old, "was dead broke for sleep after two nights of dooty. I takes pity on the little chap, and I says: 'Look 'ere, you're regular done up, you are, that's sartain. You give me your rifle and take a bit o' sleep, and I'll do sentrygo for you, I will. Honor bright! won't do nothink wrong; blow me, if I do!'" So the little chap went off. It's all right, sir; don't you blime him, please; he's only a kid!"
"I was assured," adds Mr. Davitt, "that neither 'the kid' nor the kind-hearted English prisoner suffered over the unique incident."-London Star.
