After the council adjourned last night, and the usual talk was resumed in the ante-room, it swerved round to the King street pavement bylaw. The mayor spoke quite forcibly about Ald. Parnell's effort to prevent the second reading, imputing lack of backbone because of Mr. McMechan's presence in the hall. Ald. Parnell shook his cane in his worship's face, and told him that he wouldn't be called a coward by any person. Ald. Jolly also was angry because of the mayor's remarks about his action in regard to the matter, and for a while the atmosphere was very warm, in-

Grand Review of Troops in a From Buffalo to the President's Heavy Rain.

A Splendid Parade—Transference of the Plains of Abraham and Distribution of Medals.

Quebec, Quebec, Sept. 17.-Despite unfavorable weather, today's military review was a decided success. All turned out to see the historic event, which also marked the transference ลื่มสมมาสมมาสมมาสมมาสมาสิทธิ of the Plains of Abraham to the city of Quebec and its dedication as a public park.

The parade was under the command Lieut.-Col. the Hon. Matthew Aylmer, adjutant-general, second in command.

THE MARCH PAST. As soon as inspection was over a march-past was commenced. The cavalry went past in column of troops; the field battery in line at reduced intervals, and the gentlemen cadets, garrison artillery, infantry and army medical corps in corps in column. Each brigade of infantry was led off by its band, and the infantry again marched past by the right after forming mass of quarter column by brigades and changing ranks.

The cavalry and artillery then trotted past, and the whole took part in review order for the

The cathedral was beautiful with a great abundance of flowering and foliage plants, and at the time of the ceremony was filled with the bride's friends, the guests being seated in the center pews.

The bride entered the church leaning upon the arm of her brother, Mr. Alfred Dann, by whom she was given way, and was met at the door by the choir, singing a processional hymn. During the ceremony, and at its con-clusion, when Mendelssohn's "Wedwhen Mendelssohn's ding March" was played, Mr. George sippi presided at the organ. The bride's father, Rev. Canon Dann, performed the marriage ceremony. She wore a very beautiful gown of white silk, with real Limerick lace, and carried a large bouquet of white roses. Her sister, Miss Norah, and Miss Maud Jeffrey were bridesmaids, and each wore a white muslin dress, large black picture hats and carried red and pink

After the church ceremony the bridal party went to Rev. Canon Dann's residence, on Queen's avenue, where a wedding breakfast was served, and at noon Mr. and Mrs Patton were escorted by a large number of young friends to the station, where they took the train for Toronto. They will visit Buf-falo and New York before sailing on the Teutonic for Dublin, where they will make their home.

Several telegrams from the old land, wishing much happiness to the young couple, evidenced the interest that was taken in the happy affair by the friends over the water, and the very beautiful gifts they received showed that the bride has very many friends here also who desire to be kept in remembrance in the new home in Ireland.

SECOND STAGE OF THE DUKE! OF THE JOURNEY.

Final Resting Place.

The Proceedings at the White House and the Capital-Ex-President Cleveland Among the Mourners.

Washington, Sept. 17.-The day of the state funeral of the late President Quebec and its visitors seemed to have McKinley opened as somber as the dinal Newman's divine anthem, while occasion. The sky was overcast with dark, slow-moving gray clouds; occasional spasms of rain fell, giving way for momentary intervals to gleams of dull sunshine, and a soft wind barely stirred into relief the signs of of Major-General O'Grady Haly, with | mourning on building fronts that told as well as the subdued air of the public that this was a day of sorrow.

The guard of honor who watched over the dead during the night were members of the G. A. R., the watches being relieved every half hour.

DISTINGUISHED MOURNERS. Ex-President Cleveland was here to take part in the ceremonies, and like President Roosevelt paid his tribute in private at the White House and later at the public services in the Rotunda of the capitol. The King of tunda of the capitol. The King of Great Britain was present in the person of Mr. Gerard Lowther, charge of the British embassy, whom Edward VII. had specially commissioned to participate in the services as his personal representative. Captain Louis Reiley of the Royal Navy, represented the embassy. They will return to Newport tonight and not go to the family funeral at Canton. The other embassies and legations likewise had sent on their representatives.

All branches of the national government, legislative, executive, judicial and military were represented. SECOND STAGE OF THE JOURNEY

The second stage of the late president's journey towards the waiting grave at Canton was begun at 9:20

Former President Cleveland and Former Secretary of War Lamont arrived about 8:30. The members of the cabinet began to come seen after and were immediately followed by the members of the senate committee and Supreme Court, headed by Chief Jus-President Roosevelt arrived at 8:50

BEAUTIFUL FLORAL TRIBUTES. Conspicuous among the many beautiful floral tributes were a massive cushion floral tribute in the form of offerings from the Loyal Legion, and other soldier organizations. Gen. Corbin, Gen. R. Chaffee, and the commissioners of Porto Rico had floral offerings laid about the bier. A design of galax leaves and American beauty roses, about which was entwined the American flag, came from the mayor and the council of Richmond, Va. Other tributes came from Mrs. James A. At 9 o'clock a silent command was given. The body-bearers reverently raised the casket to their shoulders, and the Marine Band struck up the president's hymn, "Nearer, My God, to Thee." TO THE CAPITOL.

As the hearse moved away the mourners from the White House entered carriages and followed the body on its journey to the Capitol, where funeral services were to be held. It was thought early in the morning that Mrs. McKinley might feel strong enough to attend the services there, but it was finally decided that it would be improvident to tax her vitality more than was absolutely necessary, and so she concluded to remain in her room under the immediate care of Dr. Rixey, Mrs. Barber, her sister, and her niece, Miss Barber. Slowly down the White House driveway, through a fine drizzling rain, the way, through a fine drizzing rain, the cortege wound its way. everyone arose and stood in reverent At the conclusion of the hymn, Rev.

At the conclusion of the nymn, Rev. Dr. Henry R. Naylor, presiding elder of the Washington District M. E. Church, delivered the invocation, while the distinguished company listened with bowed heads. As the pastor ceased, the voices of the choir swelled forth, and the pure soprano of Mrs. Thomas C. Noyes led the hymn, "Sometime We'll Understand." The music was remarkably effective and touching.

Then Bishop Edward C. Andrews, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, who words over the remains of his life-had come from Ohio to say the late long friend and parishioner, arose and spoke in sympathic voice and with many evidences of deep emotion. The address lasted only a bare quarter of an hour. As the bishop concluded everyone in the vast rotunda

LATE STEEL STRIKE

President Shaffer Promises a Statement of the Settlement Today.

Youngstown, Ohio, Sept. 17. - The plants of the American Steel Hoop Company, of this city; Girard, Niles, Warren and Pomeroy, Ohio, and Greenville, Pa., resumed operations yesterday after a ten weeks' shut-down, as the result of the strike. About 5,000 men returned to work.

Pittsburg, Sept. 16.—There was no general resumption of work at the steel mills here today. With the exception of McKeesport, the mills in this district were operating about the same as last week.

President Shaffer, who arrived early, said he would see the committee from each mill separately, and explain the result of the New York conference, and the terms of settlement. President Shaffer later told a press representative: "I am going to issue a statement in the form of a circular letter to all the lodges, giving the terms of settlement, and telling all there is to be told. The terms of settlement as published are far from correct."

for promptitude and courage in saving lives in Bowmanville harbor.

LIEUT. CHEYNE'S OFFENSE. Ottawa, Sept. 17.-The last issue of the Canada Gazette contains the information that Lieut. David Cheyne, of the 21st Essex Regiment, has been dismissed from his majesty's service for disobedience of orders. Early in June Lieut. Cheyne tendered his re signation to Lieut.-Col. Guillot, and it was forwarded to the militia department, but was not accepted. Cheyne was informed that he was excused from further military duties, and this he took as an acceptance of his resignation. When the bicentenary was held in Detroit, Lieut. Cheyne rode in the parade in full uniform, to the orders sent from militia headquarters, which stated that no Can-adian soldiers were to take part in the parade in British uniform. this act which prevented the acceptance of Lieut. Cheyne's resignation.

J. R. Booth was up in the Ottawa police court again today and fined $20 and costs for polluting the river with sawdust.
