A CHURCH, NOW USED AS A WAREHOUSE.

The above is a picture of a landmark of London, which is now used as warehouse, but which was for 31 years the church of the Baptists of the city.

It is situated on the southeast corner of York and Talbot streets, and was originally without the small annex, the old building being of colonial archi-there the Baptists worshiped until 1881, when on Dec. 4 the last services sary to build the present church on Talbot street north. The first Baptist services in London were held in the old Mechanics' Institute building on the courthouse grounds in 1844, and two years later "The Regular Baptist Church of London" was organized with nine members-William Wakeling and wife, J. H. Haines and wife, Lieut. Allright and wife, James Hitchens and wife, and Mrs. Henry Groves. Services were then held in an old methodist church at the corner of King and Talbot streets, until 1850, the first pastor being Rev. James Inglis. In 1877 the name "York Street Baptist were held in it, the congregation having grown so much that it was neces-tecture with massive pillars in the front. It was completed in 1850,
