

HYMAN STOREHOUSE IS BADLY DAMAGED BY FLAMES

HYMAN COMPANY LOSS IS PLACED CLOSE TO $6,000

Early Morning Fire Partially Destroys Storehouse on Ann Street.

DANGER OF FUMES

Fire breaking out shortly after 5 o'clock this morning in the storehouse of the C. S. Hyman & Co., located on Ann street, and adjoining the main building, caused damage that was estimated at between $5,000 and $6,000.

The fire was first discovered by the night watchman, who on making his rounds, noticed a reflection of fire, and on investigating found the storehouse filled with smoke and flames. He immediately turned on an alarm which was received at 5:20, and answered by the full turnout of the city's fire fighting force.

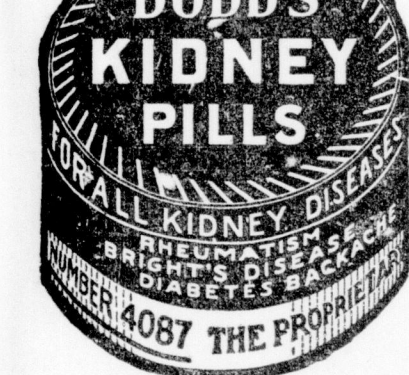

When the firemen arrived the blaze had gained considerable headway, but prompt work on the part of the firemen prevented the fire from spreading to the drying room, where a large number of hides were stored. They worked cautiously in combating the fire owing to the danger of an explosion occurring from the acids stored in the building, also the fear that they might be overcome by the deadly fumes.

The origin of the fire is not fully known and at first it was thought to have started from defective wiring, but this is doubted as there are practically no wires running into the building.

KING HUSSEIN PROCLAIMS HIMSELF AS NEW CALIPH

Associated Press Despatch.
London, March 13.—The solemn proclamation of King Hussein of the Hedjaz as caliph of all the Moslems took place on Tuesday at Shuneh, trans-Jordan, and is described by the Daily Express correspondent as extremely impressive.

A grand Moslem delegation composed of Murtis, Cadiz, Ulemas, sheiks and other notables took part.

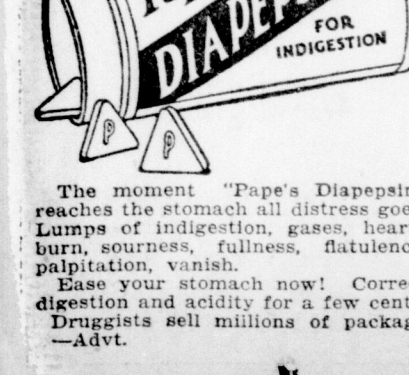

Alkali In Shampoos Bad For The Hair

If you want to keep your hair looking its best, be careful what you wash it with. The ordinary prepared shampoos or anything else that contains too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo, which is pure and greaseless, and is better than anything else you can use.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified is sufficient to cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy, wavy, and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified coconut oil shampoo at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you "Mulsified." Beware of imitations. Look for the name Watkins on the package.—Adv.

WIFE'S WEAKNESS COSTS HUSBAND 6-MONTH TERM

Joseph Polinski Charges Still Was For Refreshments For Better Half.

OFFICERS PAY VISIT

His wife's fondness for liquor will cost Joseph Polinski, Russian, a six months' term in jail. At police court today he was charged with having apparatus and equipment for making home brew in his home without a license.

Polinski's stentorian voice quavered and tears came to his eyes when he learned the penalty of his wife's behavior. He asked her several times to get rid of the home-brew utensils, he charged, but she had paid no attention. She expected to be ill in two weeks and wanted some alcohol.

Officers appropriated a complete home brew outfit and eight bottles of high percentage alcoholic beverage from the Polinski abode. Mrs. Polinski conceived the idea months ago that it would be nice to own a device with which to make her own drinks. Since then she has become an expert home-brewer, and declined to heed her husband's warning to discontinue her experiments, he declared.

Polinski, being owner of the establishment in which the brew was found, is legally responsible. He will, therefore, go to jail for half a year, while his wife, relieved of her miniature distillery, must do without liquor.

The court room smelled like a brewery as the case was being heard, tin pans containing remnants of mash having been put on exhibition for the edification of the magistrate. Polinski, who cannot speak English well, pleaded guilty.

His wife makes the stuff and drinks it, Polinski explained. "I told her to stop, but she said she wouldn't. I knew it was wrong."

Inspector Lucas and Cecil Webb traversed the premises and confiscated the liquor yesterday afternoon. Polinski, who lives at 34 Maitland street, was suspected of making liquor for sale. The bottles were of a convenient size to sell, Mr. Webb declared.

Mrs. Polinski and a friend were in court. When the prisoner was introduced to the cells, she was frantically in the direction of his wife but the latter ignored him and walked out of the court room.

times of war. Aeroplanes are used many months of the year in forestry protection, in fishing protection, in surveying and in "scouting."

Major-Gen. MacBrien dwelt on a stirring patriotic note in speaking of the Empire.

We have heard little of the suggestion since the war that the Empire and its civilization were decadent, or solid progress, we are proven the greatest nation in the world. The Empire's civilization is made up of two great factors, idealism and materialism. In our imperial relations we must keep idealism to the fore, although we may support it with materialism. Our attitude must be not "What's in it for me?" but "What will this benefit the Empire?"

There was an impression in England, Major-Gen. MacBrien said, on the part of a few, and scattered throughout the Empire, that the League of Nations would be able to prevent war, and reduce the need for great armaments.

"Those who believed that," he said, "were of a sincere type of optimism to the ostrich." "The world is full of communism and bolshevism, and the time is not yet ripe when we can make a commonwealth. It is still imperative for us to think and talk imperialism, and to place the Empire before everything. The slogan is used: 'Canada for Canadians.' A better one is: 'Canada for the Empire.' This means virtually an even greater slogan than that of 'Canada for the world.' We need population in Canada. We need it badly, but we need not open our doors to the world. We must select only the best, that is, the best of the Empire, and whose greatness will form a part of the greatness of the Empire."

ST. THOMAS PERMITTED TO RENEW MORTGAGE
Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, March 13.—The private bills committee this morning passed a bill allowing the city of St. Thomas to renew a mortgage on the Erie Iron Works. There was no opposition.

WILL MEET THIS AFTERNOON.

Principals in the debate over new collegiates, which, after starting at a special caucus of the board of education yesterday afternoon, will be continued at the meeting of number three committee today. On the right is H. C. McBride, chairman of the board, who was accused by Dr. Grant of having gone back on the trustees in the matter and prejudiced their cause with the city council.

WHAT KIND OF PERSON WOULD YOU MARRY?

"College Girl" Says to Wait for Romance and Cling to Ideals—A. C. B. is in Hot Water—Should Girls Propose?

Dear Mr. Editor:

Am in perfect accordance with your perplexed correspondent. Being a girl myself, I can hardly understand such utter shamelessness. It must have been a momentary fit of weakness on the part of the lady, I think. I am sure if she had been the type to ask such a question with customary hardness, the gentleman would not have been at all perplexed but merely angry and disgusted.

I believe the present generation has gone a trifle over the civilization mark now (you know the pendulum can only swing so far and then it must go back), but I don't think we are so far on the going back side that men have lost all instincts of protection and chivalry for women, although, if they had, I must say there is some excuse, when a situation like this is brought to attention. Neither have they lost "hunting instinct," which we read so much about. The plums which fall from the lap are usually soft and over-ripe; it is only the hard, firm fruit which remains at the top of the tree and must be sought after. Consequently, I think a young lady placed in a position of better quality on herself when she remains the "sought after" and not the seeking. And, of course, it is a well-known fact that she is not without some armor in the matrimonial battle, as there are ways of seeking which are not self-evident.

I think the Leap Year idea is just much too absurd, like as that ancient vaudeville wheeze, one of whose many forms is Rome-oed what July-ut.

Editor of the Advertiser:
Dear Sir,—The kind of girl I would marry is a rare type. First and foremost she must stand in good with Durand, Bunkers, and her income must be at least $5,000 a year if she expects to support me in the manner I have been accustomed.

It doesn't matter if a girl is beautiful, intelligent, or what, so long as her purse is long. That constitutes the plus ultra of a happy marriage. Of course she must be a housekeeper and know how to take care of the furnace and shovel off the sidewalks.

This is not satire. I mean it. There is altogether too much sentiment and idealism spoken and written about marriage and the gentle sex.

Editor of the Advertiser:
Dear Sir,—I was choosing a husband, of course it is merely a supposition, in these days, when the female of the species is much more plentiful than the male, but just supposing I was picking him out, he would have to be about all things of a real man. I wouldn't mind one little bit if he were a bull in a china shop, as long as he was interested in me, and he would have to be a real man. I wouldn't mind one little bit if he were a bull in a china shop, as long as he was interested in me, and he would have to be a real man. I wouldn't mind one little bit if he were a bull in a china shop, as long as he was interested in me, and he would have to be a real man.

I think maybe it's a cave man I want, but it would be much more pleasant being dragged around by the hair than having to exist with some dear little man, who just desires to dance. TILLYE THE TOILER.

Editor of the Advertiser:
Dear Sir,—Allow me to express my opinion on the type of girl I would marry. First of all she must be of Canadian birth, tall, and of a fair complexion and of good education. One who is good-looking, dresses neatly, not expensive, and gifted with charming graces that make women so attractive to men. By this I mean the type of a flapper whose fickle mind would lead me to a life of worry. When I marry I want a girl who can cook good; one who will make a true companion for me in my older days. Trusting that you will grant space in your valuable paper, I remain,

Editor of the Advertiser:
Dear Sir,—The varied expressions of opinion—and I trust that opinions are not all ideals—which have been appearing in your paper of late may be credited with stimulating thought, and by the process of elimination, setting up a "standard."

I am pleased to note that none of the male contributors have become so effeminate as to approve of girls proposing—that they still give evidence of a masculine desire to take the initiative in affairs of the heart. In tonight's paper the only letter I quite disliked was that of the one who so boldly signed herself "Flapper." I think she should remember that "flappers" are out of this altogether. Let her express her ideas as a "woman."

EXCESS MONEY COULD BE USED, STATES TALLANT

H. C. McBride, Architect,
Claims It as Remuneration
For Services Rendered.

$2,000 NOW IN BOND

The city has about $2,000 lying idle, reminds D. J. Tallant, chairman of the housing commission. He would like to have this sum available for the commission's use.

This sum is contested, the chairman points out, explaining that it cannot be used in the meanwhile. H. C. McBride, who was the architect in charge when the city hall was constructed in the Pine Lawn district claims this amount roughly, as the remainder of his remuneration for services rendered in this connection.

The commissioners, not long since, headed by Chairman Tallant, declined to meet this account and the architect threatened suit against the city, although no further development has been noted since the chairman states.

Chairman Tallant would like to have a settlement of this difference. He would like this money available for use, but the commission is right in its contention that Mr. McBride has no further call upon the city exchequer.

Two courses are open, the chairman stated, either for Mr. McBride to sue us, when it would be settled in the court, or the commission could seek a ruling from the judge, asking him to release this sum from bond. Either step would be welcome in the future, he stated.

ST. THOMAS DOCTOR TAKES OWN LIFE

Dr. Gordon A. McPherson
Commits Suicide at Homewood Sanitarium, Guelph.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Guelph, March 13.—Dr. Gordon A. McPherson, of St. Thomas, Ont., a patient at the Home-wood Sanitarium here, committed suicide at the institution yesterday afternoon by opening an artery in his leg. Dr. McPherson had been a patient at the sanitarium for less than two weeks, having come on March 1 as a voluntary patient, presumably for a rest. At no time during his stay had he manifested any suicidal tendency, nor had there been anything in his record to indicate that he harbored any intention to make away with himself.

The doctor was about 40 years old and had an enviable war record, and after returning to Canada was attached to the D. S. C. R. at Ottawa. About Christmas time he had committed suicide by shooting himself in the chest for a time to rest up and had apparently recovered. There will be no inquest.

PIGEONS WILL REMAIN ON THE MARKET SQUARE

Douglass States They Will Not Be Destroyed—Maker Report
Not Yet Available.

The alleged nuisance created by pigeons on the market square will be abated without any slaughter as suggested, Chairman Douglass of the finance committee, announced.

There was never any attempt to make a wholesale slaughter of these birds, as was suggested, and of the general impression in certain quarters, the chairman stated. That at least was the opinion expressed by the members of the committee, at least to my knowledge.

The chairman insists, however, now that the storm has died down after all deaths and disease have been detected. Initiations during the year numbered 2,973. There are on the roll a total of 747 lodges. Deaths numbered 20. The secretary also declared that the insurance department was now rated as solvent by Ottawa, thanks largely to the work of R. W. Bro. T. R. Bell.

Name Committee.
The following committees were named:

ORANGE ORDER SERVES CAUSE OF PROTESTANTS

Theme Is Stressed at Opening of Grand Lodge Convention at Brantford.

CONDUCT EXERCISES

Declare Integrity of Non-Secular School System Must Be Preserved.

Special to The Advertiser.

Brantford, March 12.—With Orangemen here from all over Western Ontario, the Grand Orange Lodge of Ontario West began its annual convention today with reports and addresses from people prominent in the order. More than 600 delegates are in attendance, together with a large number representing the Ladies' Orange Benevolent Association and Lady True Blues.

The meeting opened with Grand Master A. A. Gray, Toronto, in the chair and after the presentation of the annual message, Mayor F. W. Hill, of Brantford, welcomed the delegates to Brantford. Grand Master Gray and Past Grand Master J. L. Hart answered fittingly. Mrs. Briggs and Mrs. Kenny welcomed the ladies.

The feature of the day was the address by M. W. Bro. W. D. McPherson, K. C., grand master of British Columbia, and M. W. Bro. H. C. Hocken, M. P., past grand master, at a mass meeting held in the Brant Theatre this evening. The theme of both the addresses was the school legislation step by step from the first act in 1863. In connection with taxation matters for the support of separate schools, he declared it would be an imposition if more changes were made favoring them.

He said that Roman Catholic friends are not satisfied to get every dollar of their own in taxes for separate schools, then let them send their children to the public schools, he said.

Grand Master McPherson reviewed the history of separate school legislation from 1863 down to the present, protesting against the extension of separate schools to the secondary schools.

Mr. W. Bro. Rev. W. L. Lawrence, Toronto, grand master, conducted the opening exercises in the auditorium, and associated with him on the platform were over a score of clergymen and laymen. There were Grand Master A. A. Gray, M. W. Bro. W. D. McPherson, K. C., Toronto, grand master of British Columbia; M. W. Bro. H. C. Hocken, M. P., past grand master, and several others prominent in the order, including R. W. Bro. William Nicholson, Hamilton, who is the oldest past provincial grand master in attendance.

In his address as grand master, A. Gray declared that if we are to meet the next day, against the public schools, as nearly as possible every Orangeman and Protestant in the province should be thoroughly informed of the situation. Of all the duties that lie before the members of the Orange Order, none is of greater importance than the preservation of the integrity of our public schools, and the extension of non-sectarian schools to the detriment of the public in a way that will increase the respect in which the order is held.

Unalterable attachment to the British Empire was another of the declared aims of the grand master. Any move to abolish it, he declared, would be a move to abolish the Orange Order, and he declared that the members of the order should be united in their opposition. Steps should also be taken to secure British emigration to Canada.

The grand treasurer, James F. Harper, presented the annual report, showing total receipts of $91,508 with cash on hand of $3,428. Expenditures were $55,056, including $5,560 on charitable work. Expenses were reduced by $2,344 during the year.

Twelve new lodges had been instituted during the year, according to the report of Grand Secretary W. M. Fitzgerald. There was a net increase in membership after all deaths and disease have been deducted. Initiations during the year numbered 2,973. There are on the roll a total of 747 lodges. Deaths numbered 20. The secretary also declared that the insurance department was now rated as solvent by Ottawa, thanks largely to the work of R. W. Bro. T. R. Bell.

RAYMOND WILL RESUME DEBATE

Liberal Member For Brantford
Will Oppose Certain Tariff Reductions.

OBREGON GOVERNMENT BUYS UP WAR SUPPLIES

Associated Press Despatch.

Washington, March 13.—More than a million dollars worth of surplus war materials have been sold by the United States to the Oregon government in Mexico in virtually continuous transactions, dating from the first sale last January.

Ottawa, March 13.—When W. G. Raymond, Liberal member for Brantford, resumes debate on the address in the house this afternoon it is expected that he will add his objections to any serious reductions in the tariff. Agricultural implements are largely manufactured in the district Mr. Raymond represents, and the probability is that Mr. Raymond will devote some special attention to tariff reductions forecasted along this line.
