

FORMER LONDON PHONE MAN DIES

Fred W. Dewar, Well Known in District, Passes at Windsor.

Canadian Press Despatch. Windsor, Aug. 21.—Fred W. Dewar, manager of the Windsor district Bell Telephone company, died at the Henry Ford hospital, Detroit, this afternoon, following a long illness. Unconscious since yesterday, when he awoke and recognized his wife, Mr. Dewar passed quietly away at 2 p.m. With him at the bedside were Mrs. Dewar, who has been in constant attendance at the hospital since he was admitted to that institution several weeks ago, John Campbell, Fred D. Hubbell and F. F. Barclay of the local telephone staff.

The body is to be brought to Windsor and held for burial, either here or in London, the deceased's old home.

Mr. Dewar, who was one of the most widely-known telephone men in Ontario, commenced his career with the Bell Telephone Company as night operator in London in November, 1892. He was the son of the late J. F. Dewar of London, Ont., who was editor of the London Free Press for 40 years. The elder Dewar, who was born in Scotland, died 29 years ago.

Mr. Dewar is well known to old residents of this city and also throughout Western Ontario. He left London approximately 25 years ago, and was stationed in Woodstock, Ingersoll, Stratford and several other places before going to Windsor.

He is survived by three brothers, James R. of Rock Springs, Wyoming, John S. of Toronto, and Edward of this city, and four sisters, Mrs. T. G. Graham and Mrs. George Victor, Omaha, Nebraska, and Mrs. Alice Freedland and Miss Christie Anne of this city.

The funeral will be held on Monday from his late residence, 496 Pellissier street, under the auspices of the Masonic lodge.

LONDON LABOR PARTY PUTS OFF NOMINATION

Makes Move To Strengthen Forces Beginning Second Week in September.

VOICE REGRETS
Letter of Condolence Forwarded To Family of Late Sir Adam.

Discussion of a variety of subjects was so warm and so prolonged at the regular meeting of the London Labor party last night that the question of a local by-election for the legislature did not come up. Arthur Mould, who presided at the stormy session, mentioned the matter once, but it was passed over for what the delegates considered was more pressing business.

The meeting did adopt, however, the proposal of Delegate Wright, that the executive of the Labor party meet with the ward chairmen every week, special meetings if desired, beginning in the second week in September, "in order that the party may be ready and organized for a contest, municipal or by-election, whenever it comes along."

W. F. Thomson moved that a letter of condolence be forwarded to the family of the late Sir Adam Beck, and in doing so, commented upon Sir Adam's "indomitable courage that had made hydro a success, and his big heart that had so built up Byron sanatorium." The motion was adopted against the votes of the members of the left wing of the party, who were present.

Referring to a report in the press that a man who had died recently had turned down "a bribe of a million dollars," Delegate Avery wanted to know why the individual had not made the offer of the bribe known to the public at the time it was refused, and worded what the president termed as "a bribe resolution."

"Very probably this story of a million-dollar bribe," remarked Mr. Thompson, "is only a fairy tale. While we know there is impurity in public life, we must admit that corruption in public life is not applicable to Sir Adam Beck, and moreover, the Labor party does not need to go on record as being against corruption."

With the consent of Mr. Avery, the subject was then dropped, and Delegate Phillips introduced the question of beginning an agitation to improve conditions prevailing whereby laborers are compelled to work ten and eleven hours per day for 25 and 30 cents per hour, instead of securing living wages on the basis of the eight-hour day.

A resolution was finally adopted that the city aldermen be asked to support the eight-hour day and living wages for city work at every opportunity presented to them.

The holding of another tag-day for the Nova Scotia strike miners was recommended to the committee in charge of that relief.

LONDON AROUSED OVER KIDNAPPING

Chamberlain Rushes Back To Foreign Office To Investigate.

By JOHN GUNTHER. Special Cable to The Advertiser and the Chicago Daily News. Copyright. London, Aug. 21.—The foreign office takes a serious view of the kidnapping of British missionaries and the assassination of Lao Chung Kai in Canton. Foreign Minister Austen Chamberlain broke off his vacation and returned to London today to consider the implications of the crisis. Instructions have been issued by British representatives in Canton and Peking to ascertain the exact meaning of the Chinese regulations forbidding the entrance of British and Japanese ships into Canton harbor, with a view to immediate action should the occasion warrant.

London thinks urgent representations to Peking are unnecessary now, especially because of the suspicions that Bolshevik propaganda has been designed to embroil Great Britain in Chinese disorders. Mr. Chamberlain is receiving today the opinions of legal advisers at the foreign office whether Peking and Canton should be held responsible. Also it is understood that he is in close telegraphic touch with Prime Minister Baldwin, who is taking a vacation at Aix-les-Bains.

KLAN CROSS BURNINGS HELD BY REGULATION

Mass Meetings Planned For St. Thomas and London Tomorrow.

Members of the Ku Klux Klan of the British empire must not take part in cross-burnings, save when such acts have official endorsement, according to leading members of the Klan in London. Officials of the Klan here had no comment to offer last night on recent cross-burnings along the border at Windsor.

Dr. J. W. Hawkins, imperial klaff of the K. K. of the British empire, goes to St. Thomas tomorrow for a mass meeting of the Klan there. Following that meeting another gathering will be held at the Federal Square, London.

Feeling between the British empire and the K. K. of Canada remains bitter. At present Dr. Hawkins is suing the Klan of Canada for arrears in salary.

The trio were arrested while investigation is being made of the story told police by Miss Marie Geckle, sister of the slain woman. "My sister's husband had been friendly with Mrs. Crandall for some time," Miss Geckle said. "Last night he left the house early and my sister decided to trail him. He returned late last night, but my sister failed to return. The Crandalls do not live together. They have been separated for some time."

BRITAIN APPROVES DEBT SETTLEMENT

Terms For Belgium Seen by Newspapers As Most Lenient.

Associated Press Despatch. London, Aug. 21.—Considerable space is given over by the British weekly newspapers to the Belgian debt settlement with the United States. The New Statesman regards it as important because, it says, it may be taken for granted that the terms represent the most lenient granted to any of her European debtors. The paper believes that they therefore represent also the minimum standard which the British treasury may be expected to adopt in the forthcoming negotiations with France and Italy.

The Economist is inclined to doubt whether such long-term arrangements will still be in force in the next generation. It welcomes this settlement, however, as removal of a serious source of international friction. Discussing the effect on the United States of the proposed settlement, the paper says that Great Britain is not in a mood to see the United States paid on a more liberal scale than herself, the Economist said. "It was to be expected that the United States into driving an unreasonably hard bargain with France and Italy?"

FERGUSON IS SILENT ON BAKER STATEMENT

Clergyman Alleged To Have Stated That Regulation 17 Not Enforced.

Special to The Advertiser by a Staff Reporter. Toronto, Aug. 21.—Beyond saying that the matter would be covered by the inquiry which is to take place, Premier Ferguson had no comment to make in reply to the statement by Rev. A. E. Baker, pastor of North York United church, that regulation 17 was not being enforced in many schools in Northern Ontario. The premier, who is also minister of education, said afterward he considered the regulation was being enforced in accordance with the instructions. While no official information was obtained on the subject, it is possible that a number of the smaller schools in the French-speaking section in Northern Ontario are not complying with the regulation. This, of course, would mean that they would forfeit grants, but in small places that would not mean so much as in larger, and consequently they might prefer to carry on in their own way without the grant. There is nothing to prevent them doing so.

STOCKHOLM LAUDS ENGLISH, RAPS U. S. CHURCH REPORTS

By F. A. MACKENZIE. Special Cable to The Advertiser and the Chicago Daily News. Copyright. Stockholm, Aug. 21.—The outstanding feature of the World Church Conference here is the evidence it presents of the world triumph of the English language.

Nominally the convention is being conducted in three languages—German, French and English—and every document is tri-lingually prepared. But practically, English dominates everything.

King Gustavus' extraordinary courtesy in speaking English rather than employing his own language in his own capital has been generally followed. The Stockholm newspapers, this week, have given ample space to articles, editorials and advertisements printed in English.

Criticism of some of the American reports as superficial, negative and uninspiring continues. The newspaper Dagens Nyheter, after praising the English reports as containing practical, well advised ideas, adds: "But the American ones! What lines for political guidance can be crystallized from such loose and general talk?"
