THE TORONTOS BADLY BEATEN BY THE SHAMBOCKS.

A Co. G. O. R. Rifle Match—The Saratora Races—Failjames in Town—Standing League Club—Notes.

The game on Saturday at the Rose ounds, between the Torontos and the mrocks of Montreal, attracted a good dience of spectators. The visitors won audience of spectators. The visitors won in three straight games, notwithstanding the fact that in every game the play was on the side of the Torontos. Toronto had no defence; there was never a better kept goal than that of the Shamrocks, therefore the latter did nothing but keep the ball away from their flags, and when the weak-ness of the Torontos left the way open to put the ball through their flags. If To-ronto is to get back the flag she must strengthen her defence. The new goal-keeper is not by any meansithe chief one to blame ; the whole defence is weak. It is true several of the best players were away, but even if they were on hand the result might have been the same. Jackson .....

steamer and went to the rescue, a young man in a sliding seat skiff reaching the scene at the same time. The girl was taken on board the steamer, when it was found she was in an intoxicated condition. She talked incoherently and either could not or would not give an account of her-self or how she got into the water. A letter was found on her addressed to Mr. McComber, 17 Amelia street, and saying she intended to commit suicide. Johnny Ryan, mate of the Geneva, took her in a hack to that address and on the way gathered from her ravings that a colored gathered from her ravings that a color man had gone out with her in the boa

He refused to let her in and Mr. Ryan turned her over to a con-stable who took her to No. 4 station, where it was learned she was a notorious char-acter and ad served several terms in jail. Her father is a respectable man and the wicked ways of his daughter are a constant worry to him. About two years ago he brought her home from the Mercer, after she had served a sentence of eighteen months for stealing clothes from her brother-in-law. He treated her kindly and forgave her past misdeeds, but within a week she went away and has never visited home since except to steal. She has been jailed two or three times since leaving home for disorderly conduct. She is only 19 years of age and has been a bad girl since she was 14. Her father says he does not be-lieve she intended to commit suicide. In talking to The World reporter he said : My daughter Sarah might have a good, comfortable happy home if she world behave herself, but she would not, and I hope I may never see her again. She is thoroughly bad and nothing will do her of a young lady living a short distance from that city. It appears that within the past few months she exhibited all the symptoms of somnambulism. While ap-parently asleep she would rise, and, with her eyes tightly closed, could walk down stairs with perfect safety. It was found that after performing these singular fests she would return to her bed, and, m awakening in the morning, could never re-call the circumstances to mind. A short time ago her friends, who regard her present state with great anxiety, tried an experi-ment. One evening recently, when she was found walking in her sleep, a gentle-man, procuring pen and paper, requested her to write a letter. She obeyed mechan-ically, and, sitting down, wrote a note to an upturned boat about a mile out from the exhibition grounds. The captain changed the steamer's course and put out to the rescue, and it is safe to say that the trim little craft never made faster time than she did on this cocasion. The spot being reached, Capt. Jennings lowered a boat and he and his mate, Thos. Lundy, pulled out to the now almost exhausted man, whom they hauled in and the took on board. He proved to be Mr. Best, of Caer-Howell street, and was nat-urally very thankful to the gentlement was nat-urally very thankful to the gentlement was and tions on record. Capt.
