BOWMANVILLE'S CENTENARY.

Successful Celebration of the Anniversary—Hen. Ed. Blake Among Those Present.

Bowmanville Ont., Sept. 21. — The first day of the centennial celebration in connection with the first settlement of West Durham by the Burks, Trulls and Connants in 1754 hay sheen a decided success. The old rettlers now living have entered with great zers into the spirit of the movement, and the interest is heightened by the exhibition of cid relies, the history of many of which was associated with the domestic life and character of the first settlers. This country was settled chiefly by emigrants from Devon and Cornwall in England, the highland sof Scotland and the North of Ireland. Many of the very old residonts took part in this event, some of whom were the original occupants of the forest farms. The presence of Hon. Edward Blake, who represented West Durham so many years ago, gave an added interest to the proceedings. Mrs. Blake accompanied him. At the evening concert "The Early Settlers" was the subject of Mr. James McFeeter's speech. Mr. McFeeter was the first Mayor of Bowmanville and vicinity by Mr. J. B. Fairbairn. Hon. E. Blake responded to loud calls with a very happy 10-minute speech on his recollections of ploneer life.

DOES RUSSIA MEAN TO FIGHT?

St. Petersburg, Sept. 22.—Russia has decided to increase her fleet in the fact that the context of the warships Imperator Nicolai and Pamiat Arova have already started from the Mediterranean station and Haided from Cronstadt. All are bound for Vladivostok. The Russian fleet will thus be increased to 33 vessels.

London, Sept. 21.—A despatch to the Chrial News from Shanzhai, dated 6 p.m. Sept. 21. says: The commanding officers of four of the Chinese warships were killed in the engagement off the mouth of the Yalu River. Admiral Ting was womded in the cheek and the leg, but in neither case seriously. Five of the transport ships are still missing. Three Chinese transports are reported to have been captured. All of the Chinese warships that were not sunk are badly damaged. Three Japanese warships, the names of which demanded the largest that were not sunk are badly damaged. The Japanese fleet consisted of 12 ships, while the Chinese had 10 ships. The Chinese admiral opened fire at a distance of 6000 meters, but the firing on both sides fell short until the opposing vessels came within 5000 meters. The Chinese sading sauces, etcetera, and some whist states the remark of the purpose are advertised in making sauces, etcetera, and some whist same within 5000 meters. The Chinese sold for that purpose are advertised their purpose by the superior speed of the Japanese ships, which, keeping for the most part, two miles off, maneuvred admirably, and made splendid shots with the long-range, quick-firing guns.

How the Chin-Yuen Was sunk.

The Chinese cruiser Chin-Yuen, Captain Tang Shi Chang, early in the day closed with one of the enemy's ships at full speed, intending to ram her. Wether rammed or torpedoed, the Japanese ship turned over and sank. Four Japanese was held in the council chamber of turned over and sank. Four Japanese was held in the council chamber of the consort, the Chen-Yuen, and she was ripped up by shots under the water line, and went down with all hands.

Meanwhile the battle waged furiously round the flagship Ting-Yuen and her consort, the Chen-Yuen. Nick-ships were difficult to identify, but it is known that the cruiser Yoshim received some damaging shots at close quarters. Some of the Chinese gunners devoted their attention especially to the Japanese cruiser Namiwa and succeeded in setting her on fire but none of the Chinese officers saw her sink.

CORNWALL MURDER TRIAL

GREEN WHEN ARRAIGNED PLEADS NOT GUILTY.

Evidence Given Before the Magistrate to the Effect That He Was the Last Person Seen in Company of the Murdered Man Cosgrove - Kearney Reluctantly Tells of His Record.

Cornwall, Sept. 21.—The preliminary, examination of Charles Green, the alleged murderer of Patrick Cosgrove, between the night of Monday, Aug. 10, and Tuesday morning, took place this morning.
The prisoner was defended by D. B. Mc. Lennan, Q,C., while James Dingwall looked after the crown's interest. The charge of the crown against? Green was that of murder, which, when read to the prisoner, and he was asked for his plea, replied in a firm voice, "Not guilty." The court house was packed to the very doors. Patrick Henderson was the only witness examined at the preliminary examination. His evidence was almost the same asgiven by him at the coroner's inquest last Friday. He stated he was in Gananoque, Ont.

Kearney's Bad Record.

Kearney's Bad Record.

The most of the afternoon was taken up in the examination of Kearney. He proved a rusty witness to procure evidence from and it was with great difficulty that the following evidence was dragged out of him:

I have been in jail several times for drunkenness in Cornwall and elsewhere. I was also arrested on suspicion with the prisoner Green at North Lawrence for stealing butter but was acquitted. I came to Cornwall from the Kingston Penitentiary, where I servet a term of four years for manslaughter. I was sentenced at Barrie for the crime. I lived in Barrie two years.

Fred Smith, a native of Edenburz, was the next witness. Was working at the gas house and Green came there about 12 o'clock at night and told him the story of the Stealing of the plums.

Green Seen in Cosgreve's Company.

Continuing his evidence at the evening session, Smith said: I told Kearney when I saw Cosgreve in the shed that I thought deceased was the man that I saw going east towards the coal shed the previous night. I had a conversation with Cosgreve in the vicinity of gthe place where he was found. He asked me where he could find a hotel. I directed him to the East End. I was only speaking to him a few moments when I saw a man across the street, and shouted out "Is that you, Charley?" He answered "Yes," I asked him if he had not been home. He said, "No, I am just on my way 'home now." He came over, and I said to Green, "Here is a man, show him up to the hotel." Deceased said he had no money. Green and deceased then went awa ytogether. I could not swear positively if the man I saw in the coal shed was the same one I saw the previous night.

The cross-examination by Mr. McLennan failed to elicit anything new in the case. Edward Harris was the next witness, but his evidence threw very little light on the case.
