

THE CANADIAN INDEPENDENT.

Littell's Living Age.

FOR THE LIVING AGE enters upon its forty-first year, having met with constant commendation and success.

A WEEKLY MAGAZINE. It gives fifty-two numbers of sixty pages each, or more than Three and a Quarter Thousand.

Double-column octavo pages of reading matter yearly. It presents in its juxtapositions, considering the great amount of matter, with freshness, owing to its weekly issue, and with completeness nowhere else attempted.

The Best Essays, Reviews, Critical and Short Stories, Sketches of Travel and Discovery, Poetry, Scientific, Biographical, Historical, and Political Information, from the entire body of Foreign Periodical Literature, and from the press of the FOREMOST LIVING WRITERS.

The ablest and most enlightened intellects, in every department of Literature, Science, Politics, and Art, find expression in the Periodical literature of Europe, and especially of Great Britain.

The Living Age, forming four large volumes a year, furnishes, from the great and generally famous writers of the literature, the only compilation that, while within the reach of all, is satisfactory in the COMPLETENESS with which it gathers whatever is of immediate interest, or of solid permanent value.

It is therefore indispensable to every one who wishes to keep pace with the events or intellectual progress of our time, or to cultivate in himself or his family, general intelligence and literary taste.

OPINIONS.

"We have thought that it was impossible to lay claim to the grand publication, yet it does seem to grow better each year. . . . We regard it as the most marvellous publication of the time." —Christian at West, New York.

"By reading it one can keep abreast of the current thought upon all literary and public matters." —New York Observer.

"Such a publication exhausts our superlatives. There is nothing noteworthy in science, art, literature, biography, philosophy, or religion, that cannot be found in it. . . . It contains nearly all the good literature of the time." —The Christian, New York.

"In reading its closely related pages one is brought in contact with the men who are making opinion the world over. . . . As a new and always alternative agency exhibiting editorial vision, it is as essential as ever to every one desirous of keeping up with the current of English literature." —Antislavery Recorder, 1844.

"It is edited with great skill and care, and its weekly appearance gives it certain advantages over its rivals." —Atlantic Monthly.

"It may be truthfully and safely said that it never offers a bad or valuable issue." —New York Tribune.

"At its publication price it is the cheapest reading the ear profits." —Review of Books.

"It saves much labor for busy people who have no time to go over the various reviews and encyclopedias, but who still wish to keep themselves well informed in the question of the day." —The American Citizen.

"It furnishes a complete compilation of all reliable literature." —Christian Examiner.

"It contains no reprints to keep up the interest of the editor, and the instance of civilization." —American Journal of Education.

"It is unequalled." —North American Review.

"It is absolutely without a rival." —Minerva.
