

Pensacola March 15 1876.

To the Editor of the Quebec Star:

Dear Sir,

I have no doubt you will remember a very interesting wedding that occurred here some two months ago: but it now appears the bridegroom had promised marriage to another certain widow who keeps a boardinghouse, and as he has not fulfilled his promise to her. She is about to institute a suit against him for breach of promise.

It also appears she is about to enter a contra-action against him for damages. He had made a present of a parrot to widow No. 1. But after getting married to widow No. 2, he demanded polly for the amusement of the bride. But about this time poor polly took sick and although the best medical aid in Pensacola, was procured. Poor polly gave up the ghost, now as Ebin had demanded polly the widow thought best to comply. So she procured a very nice coffin and laid polly out in state and sent him home to Ebenezer But as it looks rather suspicious that polly should die about this time. Ebin called in Dr. T. P. Brown a very clever man in smallpox case to have polly examined. In my next I will give you the result of the post mortem examination.

I remain,

Yours,

Red Snappers.

PANCAKE AND LATIER PARTY.

Dear Dadd,

The annual reunion of the Q.B.C took place at their spacious rooms at Harry Eagle Paul street on the St. Patrick's night, though not on a par with the reunions frequent, with prime wines, and french delicacies and the like usually held by more aristocratic organizations will long remain in the minds of those fortunate to be their guests on that occasion, though the fair sex was not represented, their ample duty to repay provided; the following gentlemen comprise the officers of the club, John Mc Mannus, J. McWilliams, John Hannon J. Boss, Lar Foley, J. Jennings, M. Foley Pat Connors, E. Reynolds John Bryson, T. Sheridan, D. Connors, the D. H. B. C was represented largely of whom we notice P. E. Lane, J. Nealy, W. Shanahan Steve Grogan and J. Torrance the music was furnished by M. Eagly who did full justice to the occasion, John Jennings contributed largely to the amusement of the evening by rendering a stump oration, of his own creation, Lar Foley and Pat Connors by request of the company danced a statue clog which was loudly applauded, Steve Grogan than sang Pat me in my little ped, Jim Nealey was then called on to sing he arose and said he was not much of a singer, but was a good a whistler as ever cocked a lip, John Mac Mannus got up to make a few remarks he said he was sorry he had to leave the club, Hannon asked his reasons for leaving the club, well he said I am getting tired sleeping alone every night with nothing else for a companion but a bad cold, Mc Mannus was interrupted by John Bryson who said that J. Boss being a nonmember and an uninvited guest was politely told to with draw. Boss now commenced to get his divel up; then a general row ensued, at this state of proceeding John McWilliams rushed down stairs with a stick of latier in his hand, and wielding it in a most threatening manner said if he could not maintain order he would clear the house the company knowing Johnny to be a hustler all resumed their seats, W. Shanahan the made a few remark he said he was intended to oppose M. Dinning in the comic municipal election for Champlain ward and hoped they would give him all their support, Pat Connors now invited all down to Pat Tooheys to have a drink.

I now remain remain

John Boss.

The corporation of the city of Quebec has decided on having Fary Cannons is portrait taken and placed over the mayors chairs, also Joseph Roussant as a mark of respect for their long and valuable services to the citizens of Quebec I wish they would not spende our money that way.

Honore Plamondon.

Dear Star,

You are not aware of the new Chewer Club which has been formed in Cornell's saddler's back work shop, and which consists of the following gentlemen: MM. Miles, Brodie, McWilliams, Smeaton, Old Gove, Tweedle; and a few others that we wont mention at present, but Mr. Editor that this club is formed, their intention is to play chequers for the wickry, which will be supplied by Charles himself, but as this club is so young I can give you much information, I believe the first game is to be played between Smeaton and Brodie for a pound of snuff aside.

Success to the club.
