

and piety, we have but to look around us and behold the numerous schools and religious institutions planted and prospering in our midst, diffusing spiritual and material benefits to the community; and if we cast our eyes heavenwards, we see the bright Cross of St. Michael's, the emblem of salvation, towering high above a sign and remembrance of the faith and good works which have characterized your Lordship's administration.

While we regret your Lordship's temporary absence, we are consoled by the reflection that our religious and ecclesiastical interests will be administered by the Very Revd. gentlemen so judiciously selected as your Lordship's Vicars-General Jamot and Rooney. Through your Lordship we desire to convey to our Holy Father Pius the Ninth the most cordial expression of our attachment, fealty, and love.

In conclusion, we fervently pray for your health and happiness, and speedy return with increased honors, and prosperous voyage, and felicitous conclusion to the labors of the great Council at which you are going to assist. Begging your acceptance of the accompanying testimonial, allow us to subscribe ourselves your Lordship's devoted children.

Signed on behalf of the Catholics of Toronto,
THOS. WILSON, FRANK SMITH,
Secretary. Chairman.

Addresses were also presented by the students of St. Michael's College and the pupils of the Christian Brothers' schools.

His Lordship replied to those manifestations of esteem and respect in appropriate and feeling terms, which deeply affected his numerous hearers.

On Wednesday morning His Lordship Bishop Lynch, accompanied by Very Rev. G. R. Northgrave, left this city at twelve o'clock noon, by Great Western Railway, en route for the Eternal City. His Lordship will sail from New York on the 30th, in the steamer Prairie.

The ladies and gentlemen of St. Mary's Church, Williamstown, presented last week to the Rev. Father MacCarthy, who is leaving for Rome in company with the Lord Bishop of Kingston, two addresses and a purse of five hundred dollars.

LADIES ADDRESS:

Esteemed and cherished Pastor,—Ere the sun of another week shall have arisen and set, you will be launched on the foaming billows of an expansive ocean. Alas! it is with hearts replete with anguish, that we greet the hour that will sever the links that have so long bound us together in the little Oratory of our Immaculate Mother, for, reverend pastor, your sweet instructions and fatherly admonitions have guided our steps through perils and temptations, and formed our minds to all that is virtuous, great and good. Indeed words cannot express the varied emotions, the thoughts unspeakable that rise within and long for utterance.

But, Reverend Father, with grateful sentiments on this festive day, the anniversary of your being, we come to pledge our supplications to the Throne of Mercy for your safe voyage and speedy return to our midst; as also to beg you to accept as a tribute of friendship's bond this little purse, which is in itself but trivial—indeed like unto the "widow's mite"—yet it is the fruit of our united exertions. Take it dear Pastor with our innumerable good wishes, and that Heaven's choicest blessings may be showered on you is only one of the many devoted prayers which are constantly offered by your grateful and respectful children.

THE LADIES OF ST. MARY'S CHURCH.

REPLY:

To the Ladies of St. Mary's Church, Williamstown:

My dear, kind friends,—Could words at my command express the pleasure your beautiful address affords me, gladly would I endeavor to convey to you some idea of it. But, believe me, I find them wholly inadequate to the task; for though not egotistical enough to fancy I really deserve the flattering compliments so elegantly paid, yet I will confess it is most gratifying to see the little I have done so highly appreciated by you, ladies, for whom I have always entertained sentiments of the highest consideration.

I shall therefore not endeavor to describe my feelings on this occasion; but merely content myself with begging you in return to accept my best, my fondest wishes for your happiness here and hereafter; my warmest thanks for your too generous gift; and the assurance that the noble kind desires formed in my behalf are most sincerely reciprocated by your affectionate and ever devoted Pastor.

(Signed),

I. J. MACCARTHY, Priest.

Williamstown, 13th Oct., 1869.

GENTLEMEN'S ADDRESS.

To the Rev. Isaac John MacCarthy, Parish Priest of St. Mary's Church, Williamstown:

Dear Beloved Pastor,—We, the undersigned, on behalf of your parishioners, desirous of showing in some manner the high regard and sincere love we entertain for you, have adopted these means of manifesting them; nor can our feelings be sufficiently portrayed by these acts to express the sincerity and devotedness that fills the breasts of your parishioners; and not only by us, is your true worth appreciated, but by all those who have had the happiness to be connected with you, either in a spiritual or a temporal point of view. When we look back to the time you came here as our pastor, when so much was to be accomplished we acknowledge with pleasure the untiring efforts which have gained us so much and crowned your endeavors with the most glowing success. Yes, eleven years past labors look down and smile upon you, now they reflect upon you the utmost credit, and by them we boast of a parish second to none within the jurisdiction of his Lordship, the Bishop of Kingston. Indeed, beloved Pastor, too much cannot be said in praise of your efforts, and if we were to particularize the beneficial actions, which have characterized your mission here, they would form a long catalogue of good and noble deeds. You are about to leave us for a time, and we cannot refrain from expressing the regret your absence will cause us. Though selfish to our interests we must however, admit the pleasure we feel in knowing you are about to visit, in company with his Lordship the Bishop of the Diocese, the Holy See of Rome, where our interests will not be forgotten, and the parish of Williamstown have a most worthy representative. In conclusion, beloved Pastor, we beg of you to accept this purse, with our most heartfelt wishes and prayers for a prosperous and happy voyage, and we earnestly pray for your speedy return to the people of Williamstown, who love you so well.

REPLY:

My very dear friends,—It would be ungenerous, unbecoming on my part, did I not acknowledge with feelings of profound gratitude, how deeply I am touched on receiving your kind and beautiful address, and the magnificent offering, the tribute of loving hearts, with which you have been so good to accompany it.

Though undeserved, I will not say unexpected: eleven years, gone like a delightful dream, have made me too familiar with the sterling qualities of the noble people of my parish, to leave room for surprise on an occasion like the present.

For your reference to that which I have been instrumental in effecting in your midst, I am very grateful; but, after God, I feel to you belongs the credit.

Since my appointment to Williamstown, I have always found you all that I could desire: ever ready, ever willing to aid in all I undertook, to second my every effort—I might add—almost to anticipate my wishes. Our intercourse has been one unclouded by even a passing shadow, an uninterrupted pleasure, unalloyed by aught that could leave behind a single painful reminiscence—a fact that speaks volumes for you, my friends, and makes me one of the happiest of priests.

No wonder then, though I fondly trust our separation will be short, I feel it most acutely, and will long for the day that shall welcome my return to my children.

I beg you, my dear friends, to accept my best thanks for this demonstration; and, while asking a memento in your prayers, assure you mine shall be daily offered for you; and never with greater than when kneeling at the tomb of the first of that glorious line of Roman Pontiffs—the great St. Peter—through whose intercession I shall implore Almighty God to grant you every blessing in time and eternity.

(Signed),

I. J. MACCARTHY, Priest.

LECTURE AT THE GESU.

On Wednesday, the 20th instant, the Right Rev. Dr. O'Connor, (formerly Bishop of Pittsburgh) delivered a lecture in the Academic Hall of the Jesuits' College, on 'Catholicity and Liberalism.' After some music from the College band, the learned lecturer was introduced by Dr. Hingston, and was pleasantly welcomed by the large audience. His treatment of his chosen subject was able and, from a Catholic point of view, solid and well placed. The essence of liberalism was that it regarded man as a mere creature of time, while the Church looked on him as the heir of eternity. Catholicity was compatible with the truest liberty that was best for man, and the history of nations, during the dominancy of the Church went to prove this. In England, especially, Catholic Bishops and barons had ever been the asserters and defenders of popular freedom, whereas irresponsible despotism had crept in after the Reformation. But the Church could never concede any portion of the truth with which God had entrusted her. That truth was unchangeable. Those who expected any change in that particular acted as absurdly as if they were to reject a mathematical argument because it was too old. Liberalism was glaringly inconsistent and some of its assumptions and encroachments were the rankest tyranny, as, for instance, the late civil interference in some countries with respect to the sacrament of marriage, right ideas with regard to which lay at the foundation of Christian society. The lecturer defined the duty of the Church in the two cases where society was normal, that is, united in the Catholic faith, and where it was religiously divided. In the former there ought to be union between the civil and ecclesiastical powers; in the latter, the Church ought to be free from State trammels. The State owed to the Church all that was best in policy and learning, and its act in rejecting it from its councils was parricidal. But in spite of all political change, Catholicity, which was universal and eternal, must endure till it is finally merged in the expanded ocean of the Truth that is in God.

Space does not permit us to give more than this summary of Dr. O'Connor's lecture, which was vigorous and eloquent, and frequently interrupted by applause. At its conclusion, the band played some selections, ending, as usual, with the National Anthem.

Among those present were several of our leading citizens, Protestant as well as Catholic.—Gazette.

DEATH OF THE REV. PIERRE BILLAUDELLE.

We regret to learn that the Reverend Pierre Billau-delle of the Seminary of Saint-Sulpice died on Tuesday, Oct. 19th after a long and painful illness. He was one of the oldest and most respected priests in Canada, having been ordained in France almost exactly fifty years ago and repeatedly acted as Superior of the Seminary of which he was such a distinguished member. On arriving here from France he was appointed a Professor in the Grand Seminary and as such educated many of the men who now lead commerce, politics and society in this Province. His judgment was always relied on in moments of doubt and difficulty by his confreres and was sustained by talents of no common order.

The funeral services of this illustrious priest took place in the Parish Church on Friday morning, and was very impressive. The church was draped in black, the whole of the first range of galleries being hung in crape. By nine o'clock the church was crowded with people who came to pay their last honors, and at that hour the coffin, followed by a large number of the clergy, was carried into the nave of the church and placed upon a catafalque, surrounded by hundreds of brilliant lights. The clergy occupied the altar as far as it was able to hold them, but a number arriving from the country were obliged to take seats in front; all of them holding in their hands a lighted taper. After the ceremonies which were exceedingly imposing, the remains of the deceased were taken to the Seminary vault where they were interred.

THE DUTIES OF FINDERS OF PROPERTY.—Rather a painful case has been tried at the Westworth Assizes, and one which, although the prisoner was technically acquitted, may be a warning to those who may be inclined to appropriate articles of value which they may have found. The uncontradicted evidence of Mr. Charlton, the private prosecutor, shews that on the night of the 13th instant he arrived in Hamilton, having with him a bag containing $120 in silver. He stepped from the train into the hotel omnibus, taking the bag with him, but in the confusion of getting out he forgot to take the bag, which was handed to Mr. Kaessmann, a German Lutheran clergyman. The witnesses for the defence, state that he did not say it was his, but he made no particular effort to find the owner. That evening Mr. Charlton, having discovered where his bag was, called on Mr. Kaessmann, and after describing it had it handed to him. Mr. Kaessmann stating he had not opened it. The string, however, appeared to have been loosened, and Mr. Charlton on counting it on the spot, found only $30, the rest, on search being made having been found in the caftise of Mr. Kaessmann, the rolls being identified by private marks. Kaessmann refusing to give them was arrested, and although, as we have said, acquitted, did not leave the Court before the presiding judge had addressed him in words which, to a man occupying the position of a clergyman, must have been almost as painful as a verdict of guilty would have been. There is a good deal of laxity on the part of those who pick up lost articles, and it is therefore, as well they should know that a penalty does attach to keeping their neighbour's property.—Herald.

THEFT OF EIGHT HUNDRED DOLLARS.—A man named William Orr, collector for Christie and Free-laid, soap manufacturers of this city, left his place last week ostensibly for the purpose of spending a few days at Hemmingford, and while he was away his employers found out discrepancies in his accounts, and after search it became apparent that he had collected accounts which he had not placed to the credit of the firm and that his defalcations amounted to nearly one thousand dollars. A detective was sent immediately to Hemmingford in search of the man but arrived too late as Orr had in the meantime gone to the United States. No word has since been heard of him, and there is little doubt that the last of him has been seen.—News.

FIRE.—Between ten and eleven o'clock on Saturday night, a fire broke out in the drug mills and laboratory of Messrs. Kerry Bros. and Oranier, 25 St. Jean Baptiste Street. The alarm was sounded from Box 4 and the Brigade were soon on the spot. The fire was found to be not very large and was extinguished by eleven o'clock. The cause of the fire is unknown, the insurance covers damage done, which does not amount to much.

The Gazette says that the railway cars came into Sherbrooke from Island Pond on Wednesday covered with five or six inches of snow. Island Pond is on the Southern side, remember, of the frontier.

An influential meeting held at L'Original passed a resolution to use its influence to induce the Counties Council to vote $200,000 in aid of Railway from Ottawa to Montreal.

ACCIDENT.—At about 8:30 yesterday morning an accident occurred in St. Nicholas Street which, on a week day, could hardly have taken place without fatal consequences. During the high wind prevailing at that time, a quantity of bar iron in the yard of Mr. J. H. Evans' hardware store, in consequence of the pressure of the wind, broke the wooden rest against which it was leaning, and fell upon a wall about three feet high, falling on St. Nicholas Street. The wall gave way under the weight and fell in a mass of ruins, filling up the whole street. The mingled iron, wood, brick and stone at present blocking the street must weigh some hundreds of tons, and it will take some time to remove. This is the second time that this wall has fallen; it will be well that the next be made sufficiently strong to guard against any such accident, and it is very improbable that a third occurrence of this nature would be so luckily untended by fatal consequences. It is not often that two such warnings are granted. A portion of the wall still remains standing, which will no doubt be removed to-day, as it threatens a sudden collapse at any moment.—News of 26th.

The Directors of the Sherbrooke, Eastern Townships and Kennebec Railroad Company, have accepted the tenders of Messrs. T. & J. Griffith for sections two, five, and six, and Messrs. G. B. Loomis & Co. for sections three and four. These sections comprise two miles of road. Ground will be broken at once, and the grading proceeded with during the winter months.

A desperate character named John Wesley H. was a former inmate of St. Thomas' goal, was committed again last week, while on the way to goal in custody of constable Homburger he cut and stabbed the latter in several places, and effected his escape.

A man named Dugway died while under the influence of chloroform administered preparatory to an operation at Three Rivers a day or two ago.

Mr. John Foster's premises at the foot of James street, Hamilton, were burnt a few nights ago. On Saturday morning a man named John Kiff went to the Police Court to give himself up as a prisoner, stating that being moneyless he went into the stable, lit his pipe, fell asleep, and awoke to find all around him on fire. He asserted that it was an accident, and requested punishment if he deserved it.

AMENDMENT OF ACT OF INCORPORATION.—By order of the City Council, an official notice is published that the Mayor, Aldermen and citizens of the City of Montreal will apply to the legislators of the Province of Quebec, at its next session, for an Act to amend the several Acts for the Incorporation of the City of Montreal, or relating thereto, with a view to obtain new and additional powers to the said Corporation.

MADRID RAILWAY.—At a meeting held at Madrid on Wednesday the proposal for a railway to open up the back townships was considered. There were two rival schemes, one for the line to run to Belleville, the other to Kingston, the latter of which was adopted. Mr. Foster, the inventor of the new plan of wooden railway stated that the track could be laid for $1,760 a mile. The proceedings are described as being of a very enthusiastic nature and it is believed the Municipality will contribute a large portion of the amount required.

DEORATION.—On Sunday the 17th instant, Mr. Muir, the worthy Clerk of the Legislative Assembly, was formally decorated with the Cross of St. Gregory the Great at the Church of the Good Shepherd. This honor has been conferred upon Mr. Muir by the Pope, in appreciation of his services in the cause of charity. Mr. Muir has been for many years President of the St. Vincent de Paul Society, and to his zeal and benevolent energy much of the good accomplished here every winter is owing.—Quebec Mercury.

Mr. Wm. Gibson, of Morrisburgh, recently entered five heads of cattle at the agricultural show at Waddington, New York. He carried off prizes on every animal exhibited by him.

Dr. Abraham Keel, a well known old resident of the county of Prince Edward, was thrown from his sulky near Point Traverse, on Thursday last and was instantly killed, his skull being fractured.

The European and North American Railway is now completed from St. John N. B., to the main boundary line, a distance of eighty four miles, leaving a gap on the American side of fifty-six miles.

OTTAWA, Oct. 22.—The nomination day for the North Riding of Renfrew is fixed for the 2nd November and the polling will take place on the 9th and 10th of November.

QUEBEC, Oct. 23.—A barn belonging to a man named Jobin was burnt at Lorette to-day; loss $2,000; no insurance.

A large number of influential citizens were in attendance on the departure of the Roman Catholic Bishops for Rome this morning.

An enormous moose has been killed by Mr. Soper, of Ottawa, on the upper waters. The moose weighed 1,100 pounds and was caught in the water at a distance from the shore. This extraordinary large animal was found on a lake on the Ottawa above Pembroke.

A dreadful accident occurred at Fort Williams one morning last week. The log house of Ronald MacDonald was found to be a smouldering heap of ruins, and the body of the unfortunate proprietor "as lying charred, burned and disfigured in the ruins. As yet there is no clue to the cause of the fire. The unfortunate man was about 55 or 60 years of age, who was living alone with his wife, who happened to be at a friend's house on the night of the awful tragedy.

There was a heavy snow storm in the township of Medonte last week. It lay upon the ground to the depth of some fifteen inches. The lumberers utilized the occurrence by using their sleighs to bring saw logs to some of the mills in that township.

Bears are very numerous in the townships around Orillia. The Northern Light says two English gentlemen, Messrs. Charleton and G. H. Read, but recently arrived in this country, killed a large bear on their farm in the township of Stephenson. The bear made three attempts to go toward the dwellings, but managed the first and second time to elude the vigilance of the gentlemen referred to, by making his escape through thick underbrush, the third time Bruin sought to approach the house Mr. O. Charleton shot him through the heart. It seems that Bruin for weeks before had been in the habit of prowling around the house to the no small annoyance of the inmates.
