MR. E. J. Fenton, the popular manager of the DeLothinière House, Vaudreuil, entertained a select party to dinner, on the occasion of the opening of the house for the season on the evening of the Queen's Birthday. The DeLothinière House is one of the very best of summer resorts, and as a manager Mr. Fenton has no superiors in ability and courtesy.

THERE is a good deal of discussion around town as to the identity of SUNBEAMS' society correspondent. Several people ranging from a most popular society girl to a well known caterer have been suspected, but the mystery is still unravelled. The caterer, who evidently didn't feel half so much flattered by the compliment as he ought, visited SUNBEAMS' office the other morning, evidently hoping to prove that he didn't furnish SUNBEAMS' society news by finding out who did. He didn't find out. SUNBEAMS gets and will get all the news, but not through caterers.

THE popular comedian James Reilly has delighted the patrons of the Theatre Royal this week in the "Broom-maker of Carlsbad." Star, company and play are all equally good. Next week "Across the Atlantic" is to be the attraction at the Royal.

THOSE who are looking forward to "camping out" during summer should not fail to see the splendid display of suitable goods now being exhibited at Warminton's St. Catherine St. store, opposite the English Cathedral.

THE TAILOR WAS TOO PROMPT.

CLEVERTON: Why were you not at the ball the other evening?

DASHAWAY: My tailor went back on me.

CLEVERTON: Didn't send your clothes in time, eh?

DASHAWAY: Oh, yes he did, he sent them C.O.D.—Clothier and Furnisher.
