

The data was processed using programs developed for Organizational Health Reports of previous years, which were reviewed and modified to meet the new 2006 requirements. The data from HRMS was transferred to an SPSS program, the most appropriate statistical data tool for processing a large quantity of data. Finally, results were transferred to Excel spreadsheets for analysis.