WALL STREET HAS EFFECT ON WHEAT

Erickson Perkins & Co. report the following fluctuations on the New York Stock Exchange:

—Railroads——

The following fluctuations on the New York thetic Tumble — Free Wheat a Bogey.

CHICAGO, June 4—Wheat prices tumbled today mainly because of the break in the stock market. The close was nervous and 7-3c to 1 3-3c under loss of 1-3c to 3-3c and for oats 1-2c to 5-3c. The outcome as to provisions varied from 7 1-2c decline to an advance of 2 1-2c.

Wheat prices at first were higher, but new investment demands were soon satisfied and when owners evinced a tendency to realize on holdings, the market balked. Serious reduction in Kansas and Oklahoma crop estimates led to a temporary upturn at this juncture, but the depression in Wall street quickly acted as more than an offset.

Stop loss orders swept wheat into the pit, especially in the last hour, until some good sized purchases by commission firms just before the close halted the stampede. The rally, however, was not impressive; attention in the end dwelt most on the financial situation and Washington tariff reports of "free" wheat.

Corn reacted with wheat after touching the highest level of the season. The early advance was due chiefly to covering by belated shorts. Hedging sales and chances of imports from Canada formed the principal weight on oats.

In provisions some strength devel-weight on oats.

In provisions some strength developed owing to the corn bulge. Heaviness was the rule later, tho, in line with all the other staples on 'change.

FINANCIAL DEPRESSION

During the present period of financial pressure mining securities have again demonstrated their stability in comparison with industrial and other securities. Mining shares being mostly bought outright are not subject to attacks for the purpose of dislodging margins, while they are equally as responsible for divident sectures as a large number of highly inflated industrials. Whether you desire to buy mining shares for investments or speculation, we shall be glad to submit our list which will best serve your purpose.
