Men! The Hunt. November 1st!
'Tis High Time to be Getting Ready to Go!

Can't you see that camp way up there!—the shack—the bunks—the smoky fire—the eager, restless hounds—the jolly fellows gathered there—the rushing river—the towering, whispering trees—what scene could afford more joy to the hunter's eyes—what music tingles his blood, and raises his spirits more, than the owl! owl! of the hounds hard on the heels of the fleeing, elusive deer. To get one's count, though, with as little discomfort from November's snow and drizzle, is the main thing, and that means proper clothing. Clothing that is waterproof, and not heavy and cumbersome for traveling in the bush. Right here's a suggestion, get an oilskin jacket and a pair of oilskin overalls. The outfit will cost you $7.00. Wear your woollens and ordinary clothing underneath. You'll be warm, snug and dry in an outfit that is light and easy to travel in the bush with. These are in olive shade. An ideal shade to "still" hunt in. Many a seasoned hunter favors these, because they're reasonably priced and prove a wealth of satisfaction.

At $8.50 are the Oilskin Overalls, with bib front and braces attached. The material is a strong drill thoroughly oiled. Sizes 28 to 46.

At $9.50 are Jackets to match the overalls, with fronts having an inner storm lap to turn the water. Close-fitting standing collars, closes with snap fasteners. Sizes 36 to 44.

At $4.50 are brown 6-oz. Duck Shooting Jackets, in single-breasted style, with dome fasteners, have ten cartridge and game pockets on inside, 5-inch corduroy collar, wind strap on cuffs, double stitched seams. Sizes 36 to 46.

At $10.50 are "Duck Coats" of strong brown duck, lined, 26 inches deep, with selected thickly fleeced sheepskins; have six-inch storm collar of beaverized sheepskin, wind break down the front, tweed lined sleeves, with knitted wind cuff, two skirt, and leather-stayed pockets on outside. Front with overshoe fasteners. Sizes 36 to 48.

At $18.50 are warm Mackinaw Coats, in dark red and black overcheck; also blue with black overcheck, in double-breasted styles, with pleated yoke back and shawl collar. Sizes 36 to 44.

At $12.25 are Gray Frieze Reefers, in double-breasted style, with bodies lined with good union tweed and high storm convertible collars. Sizes 36 to 44.

ONE TANK BATTALION SAVES 1000 CASUALTIES

Only a Fraction of Men Needed Compared to Former Similar Offensives.

London, Oct. 22.—Thirty-six tanks, one battalion, save at least 1000 casualties every day they are in action. The British war expert who made this statement while discussing the present allied offensive continued: "We have used in the fighting to date only a fraction of the men the enemy has been accustomed to employ for similar offensives, and we have made up the difference largely with tanks. Since the ultimate victory will fall to the side with the biggest reserves, the more tanks we have the more assured our victory. The tank makers are as much in this fight as their brothers in France."

"Similarly the more numerous the tanks the less risk of their being knocked out. A German anti-tank gunner can deal with one or two perhaps, but he is overwhelmed with dozens."

"It has been commonly thought that a direct hit by a shell means destruction. Not always. A fortnight ago a tank received seven direct hits from a German 77 gun, but the tank finished its job and tumbled back to its lines."

"Another in the Cambrai region went over a rise directly in front of a German howitzer. The howitzer fired from 50 yards away and a shell tore off part of the tank's side, but the tank went on, driving right over the howitzer and putting it out of action."

Major-General Seely, deputy minister of munitions, said: "I speak the literal truth when I say that I, and hundreds of others, have been my privilege to lead, would be dead now but for the tanks. They probably saved Amiens. They certainly saved us."

DEMAND PUNISHMENT OF THE CHIEF CULPRITS

German Provincial and Socialist Papers Continue Campaign Against Kaiser.

Amsterdam, Oct. 22.—German provincial and Socialist newspapers continue their campaign against the "chief culprit" responsible for the war. The Frankfurter Tagespost of Nuremberg, the first paper in Germany to openly demand the abdication of the emperor, declares that the accession of the crown prince is entirely out of the question.

"The German people is searching for the guilty," says The Volkszeitung, the organ of the Nuremberg Socialists. "The pan-Germans and Junkers are silent today, but we do not forget that they are the great war inciters in Germany, that they remain the support of social and political reaction, and that they are a menace to the future healthy development of the German empire. The pan-German policy has gone bankrupt, but unfortunately, it has led the German people to disaster. To the gallows with the guilty, whoever they may be."

The Socialist Arbeiter Zeitung, of Vienna, urges the German Socialists to punish the "chief culprits" without mercy, adding: "When the German soldiers return home from the trenches after four years of unparalleled suffering, there will be a reckoning for the people who have led them to this catastrophe. The German people will sweep away the punkies and take its own destiny into its own hands."
