ALL HAIL FROM TORONTO AND MOST OF 'EM PRETTY

Army of Teachers Visit New York City, Overflow the Hotels and "Do" Everything in Sight and Reach James L. Hughes Expounds Reciprocity.

NEW YORK, April 15.—(Special)—There are 902 of 'em, and most of 'em are pretty. They are school teachers from Toronto, and they are seeing New York to-day, singly, in pairs, in squads and platoons, but they are not missing anything that is supposed to be worthy of a visit on Manhattan Island.

They arrived last night over the Lehigh Valley Railroad in two special trains, and will be here for eight days. As Chief Inspector James L. Hughes marshaled his big party of 767 in all at the 33rd-street entrance to the McAdoo Tunnel, a photographer asked if he could make a group picture of the teachers.

"Oh, how could you dare ask such a thing!" exclaimed a party young school marm; "don't you know we're just come off a 14-hour railway journey; do you want to spoil all our chances, do you?"

But she smilingly joined in the posing for all that, and the long trip did not appear to have done much harm to her merry eyes and rosy cheeks.

"What did you mean by 'spoil your chances,'" she was asked.

"She would not tell, so Chief Inspector Hughes had to explain.

"A reciprocity trip."

"Don't you know this is a reciprocity trip?" he enquired.

"No, I'm not going to talk politics; anything you like about educational matters, but isn't it all reciprocity between the Dominion and the United States?" Of course it is.

"You see, there are 727 in our party, and only 121 of us are men. Of the 646 ladies, I believe 600 are single and are quite prepared to show that they believe in reciprocity by marrying all your millionaires."

"Well, I think, Mr. Hughes," cautioned the reporter, "that you ought to give all the young men of New York with susceptible hearts, a fair warning to stay indoors the next eight days."

"Now you want to spoil their."

chances," retorted the teacher. "That won't be reciprocity."

"It ought to be an authority on reciprocity between our countries," continued Mr. Hughes. "Didn't I travel all over the United States looking for the finest girl you'd got and then didn't I marry her? I surely did. My wife is a sister of Supreme Court Justice Martin of Brooklyn. Then did not my daughter continue the provisions of the treaty by marrying a New Yorker? She certainly did. My son-in-law is Walter E. Clements, who is with the Cottonseed Oil Company here."

"Our duty here is to the city. We've got to see that we get enough of our side back to reopen the schools with. If necessary, we shall have to make them draw lots for your millionaires. We've left 470 teachers at home, but we must take some back; we've got seventy schools and 40,000 pupils to look after."

At Manager Jay G. Wilbraham of the Hotel York, who had charge of the commissariat of the camp, was helping the girls unbind a mountain of suit cases, one of the teachers tumbled over a large, round box. She looked anxious for a moment, but revived on finding the box was unharmed.

"Easter, Hates in Peril. 'It contains my Easter hat,' she explained with a blush. 'We don't intend to be unnoticed on Fifth-ave Sunday. Monday we visit your schools, Tuesday we go to West Point, No. not to see the cadets, to see the river. Wednesday we sail round the island and out to Sandy Hook.'

"Thursday, Friday and Saturday—well, those days are specially reserved for us to do as we like—which means that we shall spend all the money we have left. The only condition is that we catch the train back. Those that do not manage that on Saturday have to succeed on Monday. Every day we are going to see the Singer building and the Metropolitan Life tower and all your museums and all your lions. We are going to wear out your sight-seeing cars as we can."

"Have you any equal pay question among the women teachers in Toronto?" a group was asked by a correspondent.

"There is nothing equal about it," was the reply. "Principals with us get the same salary, whichever the sex. But men teachers begin at $1000 and all your lions. Women teachers begin at $800 and end where the men begin."

MACKAY AND MOWAT TO MARKHAM FARMERS

Opposition Leader Gets Cordial Reception After Address on Reciprocity Agreement.

MARKHAM, April 15.—(Special)—Before a gathering of farmers that filled the town hall to the doors, Hon. A. G. MacKay, leader of the opposition in the Ontario Legislature, and H. M. Mowat, K.C., discussed the reciprocity question. The speeches evoked a most respectful hearing and at times considerable enthusiasm was manifested. Ex-Reeve Walter Scott of Markham Township presided. H. M. Mowat, K.C., made a strong plea.

Hon. A. G. MacKay, who received a rousing welcome, argued that the reciprocity agreement was not as between the manufacturer and the farmer, but for the general benefit of all. Dealing with the prices of horses, cattle, lambs and hogs, Mr. MacKay claimed that the Buffalo market was incomparably superior to the Toronto market, and the same conditions apply to the sale of barley. It was absolutely unfair to the memory of Sir John A. Macdonald to insist that he did not, down to the last day of his life, strongly favor the policy of reciprocal relations. Sir John raised a tariff wall to bring the United States to a recognition of the fact.

"I charge that there will be a breach of faith with the rank and file of both parties if the present proposed reciprocity deal does not go through," was one of the statements that evoked a great deal of enthusiasm. He scolded the porters, packers' combine and declared that from $2 to $15 per cent dividend had been declared.

The opposition leader was accorded a great reception at the conclusion of a brilliant address.

Plentiful Supply of Fresh Easter Eggs

Lateness of the Feast Day Has Given the Hen a Chance to Fill the Demand.

This is the time of year when the hens are supposed to do their best to prove their true value to those who give them shelter, and the more they lay the better everyone is pleased. By the time this paper is in the hands of its readers, the young ones especially will be thinking of the Easter egg. Fortunately for them, we have the best this year are of the very finest quality and all new-laid.

There is an extra large demand for eggs at this time, and the consequence is that the quality of the eggs is better than that of the custom of the presentation of Easter eggs is one of the most enjoyable. All honor be to the barnyard fowl, which we so heartily decapitate when their days of usefulness are over, and may this season always be kept as loyally as it is to-day!

CROWN ATTORNEY ON TRAIL OF BONDSMEN

Rumored That Gang of Professionals Make Money Bailing Prisoners.

Crown Attorney Corley is hot on the trail of a class of individuals known as professional bondsmen. That several men are making a comfortable living at this sort of work has reached the ears of the crown attorney, and prosecutions will likely follow immediately. Mr. Corley made public mention of this matter on Saturday morning when the ball bond of the Italian charged with murder was placed at $10,000, and somebody suggested that he would probably get a bondsman.

Some people, it appears from the remarks of the crown attorney, have been making a practice of watching cases in the police court and when a defendant was hard pressed for bail would come forward with the offer to go his security, for a consideration. Perhaps he would charge a ten-dollar fee for going the man's bond for a few days, and thus class himself as a professional bondsman.

In a similar case in England Mr. Corley imposed a severe penalty for a similar offence. The matter will be taken up at once by the attorney-general.

GIVEN CLUB BAG FOR A BOX OF MONKEYS!

Robert Durand Gets Pleasant Surprise at Parkdale Collegiate Institute.

The eighteenth annual concert of the literary society of the Parkdale Collegiate Institute, was held on Thursday evening in the assembly hall of the institute.

Honorary President Mr. G. A. Smith, B.A., introduced the president, Mr. H. A. Wood. After an address of welcome by the president, a splendid program consisting of musical selections for the first performance and a two-part farce, 'A Box of Monkeys' for the second, was given by the pupils of the school, assisted by Robert Durand and Miss Theodora Jackson, both of the school.

Messrs. Houston, Porter, Misener and Hoover and the Misses Grey, Johnson, Williams and Bell gave a most creditable performance. The concert was one of the best ever given by the society.

CONSIDER RICH WOMAN UNDESIRABLE ALIEN

Despite Fortune of $100,000, French Woman is Deported From United States.

NEW YORK, April 15.—Altho Mrs. Annie Gold, a tall and attractive French woman, declares that she is married, has two children, owns more than $100,000 in cash and property, and has been in this country ten years, she was deported to-day as undesirable alien. The case had its origin in Portland, Ore., where she was charged with conducting disorderly houses.

Mrs. Gold denied emphatically that she had offered $10,000 in cash to any man who would make her his wife and save her from deportation. Her display of a large amount of cash and her voluble protests did not deter the immigration officials from putting her on board the steamer Preston, which sailed for Hamburg this afternoon.

DOMESTICS FOR CANADA. NEW YORK, April 15.—Fifty women, natives of Guangdong, who are going to Canada to engage as domestic servants, arrived on the steamer Parim today from the West India islands.

EIGHT MET DEATH IN RED HOT STREAM

Bursting Crucible Poured Tons of Fiery Steel on a Score of Workmen, Several Being Killed, and a Dozen Others Are in Very Bad Shape.

PHILADELPHIA, April 15.—Eight workmen were fatally injured and a dozen others were badly scalded by the bursting of a large crucible containing molten steel at the Midvale steel works here this afternoon.

The physicians attending the men at the Germantown Hospital where they were taken, say the eight men have not one chance in a thousand to live. The other twelve workmen, the seriously burned, are expected to recover.

The accident occurred while more than a score of men were guiding with long tongs the big crucible containing several tons of the fiery steel along a traveling crane. It burst without warning and the hot fluid poured over some of the nearest men and splashed over all the others. Wherever it struck it stuck like glue.

The eight of the men were skeltoned to the physicians and nurses. Several of the victims were removed from head to foot and flesh peeled off their bodies as the physicians attempted to remove their clothing.

The Midvale Steel Co., following its custom, declined to make a statement regarding the accident.

WILLIAM C. CAMPBELL DIED ON SATURDAY

Was a Veteran of the Fenian Raid, Noted Yachtsman and Linguist.

William C. Campbell, father of W. P. Campbell of the Canada Paper Company, died at his residence of his son, 24 East-street, on Saturday morning after an illness of several weeks.

Deceased was 73 years of age. He was a captain of the Queen's Own Rifles, and fought at the battle of Ridgeway, in the Fenian raid, where he was badly wounded. For his military services he received a pension of $500 a year from the Dominion Government.

The late Mr. Campbell was one of the most accomplished linguists in Toronto, speaking fluently no less than seven languages. He was educated in Germany, and at the University of Geneva, in Switzerland. He was also a celebrated yachtsman and was at one time commodore of the R.C.Y.C. He built the first 'Ocelot.'

Mr. J. Herbert Mason, late of the Canada Mortgage Corporation, is a brother-in-law, and Mrs. J. S. Hewitt, a sister of the deceased. The late Prof. John Campbell, of McGill University, was a brother.

The funeral will take place on Monday afternoon, at 2 p.m., from the residence of his son, William C. Campbell, 24 East-street, to St. James' Cemetery.

UNIVERSAL PEACE DISCUSSED BY FRIENDS

Prison Reform and Conditions Also Considered at Annual Meeting of Association.

The seventh annual meeting of the Friends of the Penitentiary was held in Forum Hall, Yonge and Gerrard-sts., Saturday afternoon.

The only important business was the election of officers. W. Greenwood Brown was re-elected president, and all the other officers were returned for another term.

LITTLE BOBBIE'S PA.

By WILLIAM F. KIRK

Pa put on his hat last night & sed to ma, wife, I am going out for to take a littel stroll. The air in the house is very oppressive. Why dont you talk with your sed ma. Beekam I dont like to leave littel Bobbie alone, he has Crims in rampant in this great city of ours, pa sed, & I wuddent dare to leave him heer. He mite be kid-napped.

Well, sed ma, I dont think anybody knowing yure spantish condition wud bother sed-maying anybody connected with you, but if you are afraid we can talk Bobbie along with us.

Why sed ma, if you are going to put about it, I mite as well tell you why I am going down town. I am going to get a new hat. Another im-possible part, I suppose. This thing has got to stop.

You dont understand me, pa, you are going to stay heer at home & work, & I am going to get a new hat. I have had the good fortune to receive a new hat, & I am going to wear it. I am going to wear it. I am going to wear it.

You are not going a inch, sed ma. I will not have my husband misled in a vulgar brawl. You are going to stay heer at home & work, & I am going to get a new hat. I have had the good fortune to receive a new hat, & I am going to wear it. I am going to wear it.

Bobbie, ma sed, after pa had went, I hope that you grow up you will not becume a arrogant bully, & swashbuckler, a brawler like yure father. I is a bad system, sed ma, one that is able to get you into no end of trouble, befor you die.

You ought to see him, sed pa. He looks ferce. I guess he does, sed ma, he certinly acted ferce. Sum of these days, sed, when you go out looking for it, you will get it so good that the rabid dog is singing above you. I had a unkel once, ma sed, that thought he cud sing. He has went away forever.

The man got sum medicin & fixed up pa the best she cud. She cuddent get him up much becaus the man that pa had went out to get, that man had sed pa pritty good himself.

TOOTHLESS MAN MURDERER OF C. VECI

with Andy for the whitestree, and washed him across the throat. Then, as recounted by Emmell, that Veci, with the blood gushing from the terrible gash in his neck, turned to him and said:

"Remember this, Frank, the man without the teeth, slashed me with a razor."

He then staggered out into the street and was picked up dying at Agnes and St. James-street.

Then came the police and Plain-clothesman Wilson found Acolafoli in the stable in the rear hiding the revolver. Nearby was Rumsalo, whose hand was terribly cut. Acolafoli had been trying to bandage it, but turned to hide the revolver as the approach of the police. It is thought that they may have previously hidden the fatal razor.

Rumsalo explains the terrible cut in his hand by saying that he got it in trying to pull the butcher knife away from Donato, when the blade was drawn thru his hand.

The six men have been sent to the jail with instructions that they be kept strictly separate for the investigation is by no means complete. Inspector Duncan, with Detectives Montgomery and Mitchell, visited the premises Saturday afternoon, after the inspector had spent the entire morning examining a score of witnesses. There they found the blood-stained whitestree with which Andy had struck Savello and Panama. The search for the razor was unsuccessful however, but is being continued.

English Health Expert Here. Dr. George A. Auden, chief medical health superintendent for the schools of Birmingham, England, does not believe in separating the health departments of the city and the schools. Dr. Auden is now in Toronto at the request of the Ontario Minister of Education to attend the annual conference of the Ontario education department. He believes the influences on a child's life from the city responsible for the health of the incoming generation. Birmingham has nearly 100,000 school children, and a progressive system of medical inspection.
