PLANS FOR COAL SUPPLY IN N. B.

Meeting of Dealers, Operators and Others Soon, Says Premier Foster After Government Meeting.

Fredericton, N. B., Aug. 16. — New Brunswick will probably soon have a provincial fuel administrator as a result of the critical situation in respect to coal supplies. Premier Foster said last night at a meeting of coal dealers, mine operators and others interested in the province, would be called at an early date to act in the matter.

The premier pointed out that under the arrangement made between Canada and the United States by the recently appointed federal fuel administration committee emergency orders for coal from any state in the U. S. or any province in Canada will only be honored when they have the O. K. of the official fuel administrator, which will be regarded as the endorsement of the government.

KNIGHTHOOD IS STILL IN FLOWER

"The days of chivalry are over," they say, but rather the chivalry is still with us and is backed up by greater ingenuity than when Sir Walter Raleigh threw down his ultra-fashionable coat to protect the ankles of Queen Elizabeth from the mud of an English street.

To prove this we might take the example afforded at a certain summer resort last night by a young college man who saved a lady from the necessity of a long cold walk along the hard Macadam road—correct, you have guessed it, it was somewhere along the C. N. R.—and, by the use of considerable inventiveness, provided a chariot for her. The chariot was borrowed from a certain store and, while it had formerly carried valuable loads, perhaps never had it carried one quite so precious as last night's. It was not a twin-six nor yet a luxuriously upholstered sedan; it was not even a "one-horse shay," but it carried its unusual cargo safely, albeit slowly, to its destination. It was built more or less in the shape of a box with two long handles and but one wheel. A wheelbarrow, in fact, is what it was.

Let him who says that chivalry is dead try this. Let him who refers to the deeds of valor done in yesteryear for a woman's whim attempt the feat of pushing a full-grown woman for more than 200 yards along a Macadam road and up a twenty per cent grade. Let him do this, we say, and we will listen to his croaking.

TO-MORROW'S RECEPTION.
The committee in charge of the public reception to Hilton Bely, which will take place at St. Peter's ball park tomorrow night, announced this afternoon that St. Mary's band had kindly offered their services. The New Brunswick Power Company is supplying a car to take the handsmen to the grounds. It has also been decided that the presentation will take place between the fourth and fifth innings of the game between St. John and St. Peter's.

MINSTRELS AT GLEN FALLS.
The Community Club of Glen Falls will erect a community hall. The minstrels will give a performance in the big room in the factory tomorrow evening in aid of the fund. They are all Glen Falls people, and have been rehearsing for two months. W. V. Brophy is the director, A. Thorne, musical director, and J. A. Corr, instructor. The soloists are Roy Dixon. The second part will be a rattling musical sketch by Messrs. Hopkins and Bond. The band includes Miss May Conroy and A. E. Boyles.

PAWN SHOP CASE.
Detectives Biddiscombe and Donahue yesterday went looking for stolen goods in the pawn shops of the city. About noon in the establishment of Hyman Taxer, Pond street, they asked him to open for their inspection his record of purchases. Hyman said he had none. Detective Biddiscombe told him his license called for it. Hyman said he didn't have a license. There were two wagons before the door loaded with junk which Hyman said he had got from the Maritime Mall Company. Detective Biddiscombe laid information against Hyman, and he had a very difficult time this morning trying to persuade Magistrate Ritchie of his innocence. He was warned that he was liable to a fine of $40.

CASE DISMISSED.
A case against H. C. Lemon, postponed from yesterday, was taken up this morning. The charge was one of speeding in Millidge avenue, presided over by Magistrate McBrien. Lemon had as witnesses Robert Carson and Albert Lemon. Carson said he had not seen Lemon, but had been asked by him to come to court and say how fast he had driven his car in the avenue on the evening in question. He swore that at no time on the trip from Millidgeville into the city had he exceeded ten miles an hour. Albert Lemon swore that he was in defendant's car and that they kept behind the Carson car. He would swear that the car had not gone more than ten miles an hour. Lemon himself took the stand and swore to the same thing. The magistrate dismissed the case.

MORE EVIDENCE IN NEVINS WILL CASE

The continuation of the case of the contented will of Charles Nevins, which was re-opened and postponed from Friday, was taken up again this morning before Judge H. O. McInerney in the probate court. J. P. H. Toed appeared for Miss Susie Smith, beneficiary under the will; C. F. Sanford, for the trustees of the will and Daniel Mullin, K. C., for the next-of-kin.

Mr. Mullin called Francis Kerr to the stand. He gave evidence about the borrowing of money from Miss Smith. The amount came to a total of about $220, he said, in three instalments. On cross-examination he said that the money borrowed had no connection with the case as it had been loaned through an agreement between Miss Susie Smith and Mrs. Kerr. It was used to pay for a car which Mrs. Kerr had bought.

Ira C. Rockwell testified that the will was written on Westminster Bond, a kind of paper sold by J. and A. McMillan, where he was employed.

Mr. Mullin said that he had attempted to find Harry W. Bolton and his wife and had intended to call them as witnesses but found that they left the city recently. There was another witness who he would like to call however, Harry W. King. Mr. King was out of the city but would return on Monday. He asked for an adjournment.

The case will come up again on Monday morning at eleven o'clock.

MOVEMENTS OF C. G. M. SHIPS

The weekly sailing list of the C. G. M. M. shows much activity on all routes, particularly out of Montreal. No ships are routed to St. John or the North Shore. Several of the feet have been calling at Louisburg lately for bunkers. The Canadian Constructor has finished repairs at the Halifax Shipyards and has gone to Montreal. A good many of the ships are at present on voyages to Australia and New Zealand.

Besides the three ships recently put into commission, another unit of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine fleet laid up at Halifax since last fall, is being commissioned and two others may possibly be made ready for service within the next few weeks. The steamer now being outfitted is the Sheba, and while it has not been officially announced it is believed that she will be used in the coal trade. Before being up the Sheba was engaged in carrying coal from Cape Breton to Canadian ports, principally up the St. Lawrence, and it is likely that it is in this trade that she will be used. She may be ready to sail next Saturday, and will be commanded by Captain W. G. Tudor. With the departure of the Sheba there will be only four ships laid up in the Eastern Passage at Halifax, and unconfirmed reports are to the effect that two of these are likely to be commissioned. The ships still laid up are the Canadian Sealer, Canadian Voyager, Canadian Miner and Canadian Settler. The Canadian Gunner, one of those already outfitted, has gone to Montreal.

O. M. I. BROTHER DIES IN WATER

Ottawa, Aug. 16. — A brilliant young life came to an untimely end last evening about seven o'clock when Brother Lavie, in training at the O. M. I. summer camp on McGregor Lake, was stricken with a heart attack while in bathing. He was in shallow water at the time with a number of his companions and suddenly collapsed. They had him out of the water once and worked over him for some time, and although there were some signs of life, he died within a few minutes. Brother Lavie...
