A new element has lately been intro ed into the temperance movement in and other Western States. The romen of the West, especially those of he country towns, realize more fully the country towns, realize more fully perhaps than do our city readers the misery that intemperance brings to fam-ilies. In a city, if a husband comes home drunk, his neighbors may know nothing about it. The man who gets drunk in a country village, however, disgraces his family in the eyes of the whole town, and if he is guilty of abus-ing his wife or children there is no con-zation policemen at hand to take him ing his wife or children there is no con-venient policeman at hand to take him in custody. The women, following the example of many other Western towns, have undertaken to break up the business of the liquor-sellers by a method which the latter find it hard to resist. For exmple, early in the day a dozen ladies ample, carly in the day a dozen ladies will enter a liquor saloon, and, seating themselves, proceed to hold a prayer meeting. An hour later they will be relieved by another dozen indies, who will continue the meeting, and will be in their turn relieved by still others. In in their turn relieved by still others. In this way the meeting is kept up all day, and at intervals the liquor seller is urged to give up his business and is shown the misery be is producing. Frequently he is dealt with more leniently, only a sin-gle prayer-meeting of the usual length being inflicted upon him daily. The ladies, although they have in several cases received offers of money with which to processite men supercide of having to prosecute men suspected of having sold liquors unlawfully, have refused to use any means except those of persuasion and prayer.

BANKRUPT SALE.

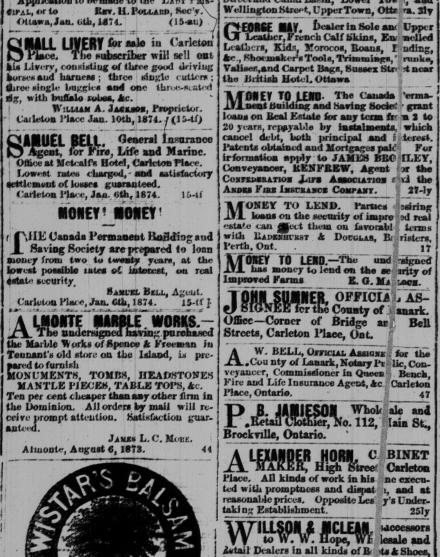

A remarkable bowl of pucch was made across the water in 1844. It was made in a fountain in a garden, in the middle of four walks, covered overhead with orange and lemon trees, and in every walk was a table the whole length of it, covered with refreshments. In the fountain were the following ingredi-ents: Four hogsheads of brandy, twenty five thousand lemons twenty gallons of lime juice, thirteen hundred weight of white sugar, thirty one pounds of grated nutmegs, three hundred toasted biseuits, and one pipe of dry mountain Malaga. Over the fountain was a large canopy to keep off the rain, and there was built for the purpose a little boat, wherein has a boy, who rowed round the fountain and filled the cups of the company. It is supposed that more than six thousand men drank from the fountain. Solas UPROAR.-Said Professor Richard A. Proetor, the celebrated
