Rugby should be granted major sport recognition

I realize the volume of news items The Gateway must process is immense and many clubs and sports must be omitted when priorities are established. I was very disappointed, however, when The Gateway failed to make any mention at all of the rugby games (in competition with the U of C for the Little Brown Jug trophy) held Oct. 25.

These games marked the end of an exciting season which began in May and carried on through the summer with great enthusiasm and talent.

The calibre of sportsmanship, team spirit and generally good rugby demands at least as much attention as is given basketball or volleyball if not as much as football or hockey.

The fact that this sport did not originate in Canada only speaks more highly for the athletes who have tackled this sport and become proficient in a very short time.

They provided for themselves and for the many fans they attracted over the summer, a form of enjoyment equal, if not superior to, traditional Canadian sports.

Rugby gives more people a bigger chance for a longer time than any other team sport on campus.

I am an active supporter of all U of A teams but I would like to see a team, that very few are aware exists, get the recognition and encouragement for the status it should have.

NO, IT'S NOT A MARTIAN
—it's a member of the Fencing Club, black runners and all. Fencing is a sport on the move at the U of A.

Ed. Note—Sorry, but due to very minimal space on our sports pages, especially at that time, we just couldn't squeeze in the results of the Little Brown Jug.
