

Appendix "A"

Extract from Lambs Examined d/9 Nov/44

Hurricanes Sink the Navy in Final Game

Camp Borden Hurricanes missed out on the Ontario Service Football League playoff by one point this season but had the satisfaction of trimming Toronto Navy Bulldogs 17-13 in the final scheduled game at Varsity Stadium last Saturday. This was also a partial measure of revenge for the beating they took from Navy in the opening match of the season.

Hurricanes missed their chance by gaining only an even break in the game against Hagersville two weeks ago. A win that day at Hamilton would have put Hurricanes and Hagersville Tigers in the playoff, with Navy outside in the cold. As it is, Navy and Hagersville meet in the sudden-death final this Saturday at Varsity Stadium.

Pictured above are three powerful linemen of the Hurricanes: left to right, Con Conroy, inside; Ken Smith, snap; Jerry Hooper, inside.