

CONTENTS

|                                                                                                                                        | PAGE |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------|
| INTRODUCTION .....                                                                                                                     | 1    |
| CHAPTER I.—Examination of a Buttercup .....                                                                                            | 2    |
| CHAPTER II.—Functions of the Organs of the Flower ....                                                                                 | 11   |
| CHAPTER III.—Examination of Anemone and Wild Colum-bine—Resemblances between their Flowers and thatof Buttercup.....           | 14   |
| CHAPTER IV.—Examination of other Common Plants withHypogynous Stamens — French Weed — PrairieMallow .....                      | 22   |
| CHAPTER V.—Examination of Common Plants with Perigy-nous Stamens—Garden Pea—Great Willow-herb ..                                   | 29   |
| CHAPTER VI.—Examination of Common Rosaceous Plants— Wild Rose—Strawberry.....                                                      | 35   |
| CHAPTER VII.—Examination of a Plant with EpigynousStamens—Water Parsnip ....                                                       | 38   |
| CHAPTER VIII.—Examination of Common Plants withEpipetalous Stamens—Dandelion—Wild Berga-root .....                             | 40   |
| CHAPTER IX.—Examination of Plants with DicaeiousFlowers—Willow—Ash-leaved Maple .....                                              | 46   |
| CHAPTER X.—Characteristics possessed in common by allthe Plants previously examined—Structure of theSeed in Dicotyledons ..... | 51   |
| CHAPTER XI.—Examination of Common Plants continued—Wild Orange Lily—Wild Onion—Lady's Slipper                                      | 53   |
| CHAPTER XII.—Common Characteristics of the Plants justExamined—Structure of the Seed in Monocoty-ledons .....                  | 62   |