

CHAPTER VIII

1851—1858

MOTHER CARON, SUPERIOR AT THE MOTHER HOUSE. . . .62

A heavy charge ; — anecdote of Pius X ; — general sympathy ; — her light no longer under the bushel ; — her beautiful qualities ; — the fire of 1852 ; — the Providence, standing in the midst of ruins ; — Mgr. Bourget sorely tried ; — various incidents of the conflagration ; — letter of Mgr. Bourget ; — the Hospice of St. Jerome Emilianus ; — the Providence, house of God ; — the Sisters and the cholera of 1854 ; — administration of Mother Caron ; — new foundations ; — that of Chili ; — that of Vancouver ; — that of the Deaf Mutes ; — Mother Caron's zeal ; — Mother Caron no longer Superior ; — her last advice ; — her counsels to the novices ; — she is sent to St. Vincent de Paul.

CHAPTER IX

1858—1866

MOTHER CARON, SUPERIOR AT ST. VINCENT DE PAUL. . . .78

St. Vincent, its appearance ; — St. Vincent, fifty years ago ; — Father Mercier's donation, 1845 ; — note upon Ile Jesus and the Auclair family ; — the ladies of the Sacred Heart ; — how the Sisters of Providence came to St. Vincent ; — Mother Caron is named first Superior ; — her arrival ; — the difficulties of the beginning ; — the pastor, Father Lavallée, and Father Thomas Caron ; — influential friends ; — the first poor ; — Mother Caron's labors ; — prayer for benefactors ; — Ladies of Charity