

by the Presbytery of the bounds : it being always understood that such Minister or Preacher shall have undergone such course of education, literary, scientific, and theological, as is now or may hereafter be required by the Synod or other supreme court of this Church.

ARTICLE VII.

The rents of the pews and other revenues of this Church shall be applied to the support of the Minister, and the payment of any debts and incidental expenses of the said Church ; and if said revenues shall at any time prove insufficient for these purposes, or if any other exigency unprovided for shall arise, it shall be the duty of the Temporal Committee to call a general meeting of the proprietors and lessees of pews of said Church, to make provision for the same.

ARTICLE VIII.

The Precentor and kirk-officer shall be appointed by, and be under the control of the kirk session, and shall be paid by them out of the weekly collections.

ARTICLE IX.

Every proprietor of a pew or pews in said Church may transfer his property therein to another by sale, gift, or last will and testament. But no such transfer shall be valid until the person taking the same shall have subscribed these articles.

ARTICLE X.

Any proprietor of a pew in the said Church, who shall refuse or neglect to pay the annual assessment upon such pew for one year after the same shall become due and payable, shall forfeit his right to said pew, which shall thenceforth revert back to the said Church, and may be dealt with as other unsold pews.
