

Metaphysics and year 1871 until his death in 1889. The portrait of the artist, Mr. W. Allaire Shortt, M. A. Commemoration of a marble bust of Professor Young was one principal features of the occasion, and was made under the auspices of the Young Memorial Fund. As the result of a meeting held in University College almost immediately after his death, a committee was appointed for the purpose of receiving contributions towards a memorial in honour of the teacher and who in life had been so greatly revered and beloved. The committee Professor McCurdy is chairman, Mr. John A. Macdonald, M. A., treasurer, and Dr. N. Tracy, secretary, taking the place of the original secretary, Mr. T. C. DesBarres, and of Mr. J. S. Thompson, Mr. H. E. A. Reid, both of whom after most valuable services were compelled on account of change of residence to resign their office. Liberal responses have come in great numbers from graduates and undergraduates of the University, from men and professional men, as well as personal friends generally, led by a subscription of $550 from Mr. George Brown, of Ottawa. In accordance with the preferences indicated by the contributors the committee have appropriated $3000 for the marble bust, and have invested the remainder as the nucleus of a post-graduate scholarship in the department of Metaphysics in the University. The subscriptions so far have amounted to about $4,600.

The text of the speeches delivered is now published as a memorial of the proceedings, and in testimony of the influence and character of the eminent men whose names will ever be closely connected with the early struggles and successes of the Provincial University.

THE PRESIDENT'S REMARKS.

Though all present are, no doubt, familiar with the name of William Hume Blake, very few, I imagine, are aware that the services which he rendered to this University were such as entitled him to a foremost place for all time amongst its benefactors. He became Chancellor of the University in 1854, a month before the fall of the Hincks Government. To understand the wisdom of his policy, as well as the services one must be acquainted with the perilous condition of the University at that juncture, and with the difficulties which under his guidance were
