R. Q. M. S. James Dymond

Regimental Quartermaster Sergeant James Dymond was born 14th September, 1886. He enlisted with the Royal Canadian Regiment on 7th September, 1904, and accompanied the band of that regiment to the Coronation of King George in 1911, for which he wears the medal. After the outbreak of war he joined the Composite Battalion in Halifax. Before coming to the Kilties, in July, 1916, R. Q. M. S. Dymond had several times volunteered for overseas but because of his invaluable service he was unable to effect a transfer before. R. Q. M. S. Dymond was married on the 14th April, 1909, and has two boys, three and five years of age.
