

Women's Institute

The monthly meetings of the Alford Park Road Women's Institute, was held at the home of Mrs. L. Stewart, Alford Junction, on Thursday, Sept. 17. About 45 ladies were present to enjoy a profitable and social afternoon. The president, Mrs.

James Gillen occupied the chair, who in her usual bright and cheerful way made the meeting one of great interest. With the singing of a hymn, "There are lonely hearts to cherish," the meeting was opened, after which the Lord's prayer was repeated in unison. The roll call immediately followed. In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. Norris, the minutes of the last meeting were read by Miss Watson and adopted. Items were read on receipt of the handkerchiefs (34 dozen) sent to the Red Cross society by the ladies of the institute.

An instrumental solo by Miss Marie Williams was very nicely rendered and a splendid paper was read by Miss Howden on "The Women on the Farm." A vocal duet followed, entitled, "Holding the Fort," Mrs. A. Lyons and Miss Mary Lyons. It has been arranged for the ladies of the institute to give a social evening on Thanksgiving night at Howell's School. A good program will be provided and refreshments served. The next meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Jesse Sage, Park Road district on Oct. 15th. The "Culture of Winter Bulbs" is the special topic. The roll call for the meeting will be answered by the reading of current events. Miss Marie Stewart gave an instrumental solo and the meeting was closed by singing "The Maple Leaf Forever."

MOTHER OF NAVIES

The Kaiser Got First Idea of C. Power From Old England

Strange though the assertion may sound, it is nevertheless literally true that the German navy is the child of the British navy.

There are people still living in Portsmouth who can recall seeing a little boy in a sailor suit, who, more than forty years ago, used to wander about the dockyard, looking at the ships there with eager curiosity and asking all sorts of questions concerning them.

This little boy was none other than the present German Emperor, who in those days was a frequent visitor to his grandmother, Queen Victoria, at Osborne. The then newly-created German Empire had at that time practically no fleet, and the child, old beyond his years, was frequently heard to lament this fact.

"When I grow up I will have ships built like these," he was once heard to remark, indicating, with a wave of his hand, the steady ironclads moving in and out of the harbor. Meantime, as he himself has told us, he he talked ships by day and dreamed ships by night, while at home in Germany his favorite recreation was to sail a beautiful toy-ship model of a British frigate on the Havel lakes, near Potsdam.

When shells are made explosive, which Arsenal is Britain's main source of supply for explosives, it is there that all the highly explosive material is dealt with, such as gunpowder, lythite, and cordite. Over 50,000,000 small arm cartridges are turned out yearly, to say nothing of 150,000 gun cartridges and 100,000 shells.

A Manchester carter who bought a horse for $25 and it taken next day by an officer, who gave him an order for $200.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wilson have returned from their honeymoon down the St. Lawrence and will take up their residence at 372 Murray St.

The hostesses at the Golf tea tomorrow will be Mrs. C. C. Fissette, H. W. Fitton, F. M. Ellis, G. C. Ellis, E. B. Duncan, Miss Bowly.

Mr. Leonard Baker who has been holidaying in the city, the guest of Mrs. Mathewson, Queen street, left for his home at Kara Bo, B. C., yesterday.

Mrs. Howard and Mrs. Colquhoun have returned from Valcartier camp. They report Col. Howard and Capt. Colquhoun to be well and in fine spirits.

Mr. Vernon Cooper of Paris, a well known elocutionist from London, England, will be in the city on Sunday when he will sing at Park Baptist church, and will, without add to the musical reputation of the church.

A very pleasant party was held at the residence of Mrs. Hammond, Dufferin Avenue, last night, in celebration of the birthday of Miss Kathleen. A number of young people invited for the occasion passed a happy evening.

Last evening about 25 young people gathered at the home of Miss Rhea Hutchinson, Brock street, and gave her a miscellaneous shower in honor of her approaching marriage early in October. After a most enjoyable evening spent in music and games the party broke up, extending every good wish to the couple in whose honor it was given.
