Stranger—in what direction does the village lie, friend?

Villager—Well, sir, it's liable to lie in any old direction that comes handy, but at this time of the year it's mostly about fish.

And Can't Break Metre.

Editor—Here's an item about an aviator breaking the altitude record. He went to high his altitude broke.

Reporter—Gosh, he ought to borrow the altimeter from High Cost O'Liv'ing; he's gone so high he's broken all records.

Not to Be Fooled.

Sergeant-Major—Now, Private Smith, you know very well none but officers and non-commissioned officers are allowed to walk across the grass.

Private Smith—But, Sergeant-Major, I've Captain Graham's oral order to.

Sergeant-Major—None o' that, sir. Show me the captain's oral order. Show 'em to me, sir.

Not So Sure About Her.

"I saw your wife this morning, old chap," remarked Jimson. "She didn't look very fit."

"She isn't," she's mourning the loss of a diamond necklace," said Blenkins.

"Why don't you advertise a big money reward and no questions asked?"

"Well, I could manage the cash all right, but I doubt my wife's ability to fulfill the rest of that contract."

FROM THE PEOPLE

DID THE COLUMN HELP?

To the Editor of The Gleaner.

Sir—What is the answer? This question I have propounded until at last I had to burst forth in writing. By this I mean, What results have accrued from the advice and questioning printed in your, or rather our, From the People Column?

Would it not add to the interest of the thinkers if a few of the persons who have asked for advice would let us all know what conclusions they reached as a result of your readers' advice and with what success?

For instance, the writer would very much like to know whether a certain man gave his legacy to the help of cripples or for the education of young, beautiful Canadians; whether a certain young man kept going to church in spite of his convictions otherwise; whether another went to Montreal or stuck to his job here, and many other answers.

Of course very personal matters are not included, only those which the contributors have thought fit to let us in on.

What's the answer?

Yours, TOM.

WHAT IS PROHIBITION?

To the Editor of The Gleaner.

Sir—What is Prohibition? I ask out of pure curiosity. It cannot be said that we have prohibition in New Brunswick, because I have looked into

Summary of Night Dispatches

Edmonton, April 25.—Hon. A. J. McKay, Minister of Municipal Affairs in the provincial government of Alberta, died Sunday morning of pneumonia.

Threaten British Strike.

Manchester, April 25.—Eighty-one thousand cotton operatives favor strike this week in Lancashire if demands for sixty per cent. advance gross wages not granted. It is hoped that a settlement may be reached before strike takes place.

Control of Foodstuffs.

Ottawa, April 25.—It was announced last night that a move to place control of all commercial foodstuffs entirely in the hands of the federal Department of Agriculture is to be made in the House next week.

Dutch Strike Failed.

The Hague, April 25.—The strike of Rotterdam and Amsterdam transport workers, that lasted ten weeks, was ended Saturday, when the men resumed work under old conditions.

The Blockade of Fiume.

Rome, April 25.—Fiume is again securely blockaded by land and sea, following a raid by D'Annunzio's soldiers on Abbazia, west of the city.

British Mandate for Palestine.

San Remo, April 25.—The supreme council gave the mandate for Palestine to Great Britain and will send a request to the United States to accept the mandate for Armenia. An Adriatic settlement was proposed along the lines of President Wilson's December 24th note. With, however, the constitution of a buffer state of a kind. The latter point brought French and British objections to which Premier Nitti of Italy will give a final answer today.

Whole Family Slain.

Turtle Lake, N. D., April 25.—Eight persons were found dead Saturday on the farm of Jacob Wolf, near here. Indications were that the whole family, except an eight month old baby, were slain with a hatchet.

U. S. Congress a Failure.

Washington, April 25.—Suggesting charges that the present congress has failed the United States nation with "completeness and abandon" is made by Samuel Gompers in the current issue of the American Federationist.

Secure Huge Plant.

Ottawa, April 25.—Word reached here today that a strong group of Toronto and Montreal industrial interests had been successful in securing the huge plant of the British Chemicals, Limited, formerly operated by the Imperial Munitions Board at Trenton, Ont. Plant and equipment cover an area of 225 acres and were installed at a cost of over five million.

DR. CROCKET'S APPEAL FOR EDUCATION

For this matter has been connected to our heads, give that encouragement and hand out to the taxpayers, not except only, but example: let us mark, let us stamp our day in House as the beginning of a broader time.

SERIOUS SITUATION: No Further Neglect

My hon. friend from the County of St. John, in his speech last year when the estimates for education were under discussion, told the House that he did not blame the present government more than former governments for their attitude towards education.

Let that be the view of all of us. Let our realization of neglect in the past quicken in us a sense of the responsibilities which rest upon us in the present hour.

Seldom, perhaps never in the history of this province, I assert, and I measure my words, has a Legislature been met by a more serious situation than the one which now confronts us. Let us meet it, let us meet it with a unity of spirit and of action, with a singleness of purpose worthy of representatives of a disorganizing and a divided people.

the matter and had that our laws allowed 50¢ persons who have a residence other than a hotel, boarding house or store to buy all the booze he wants, while those engaged in business may not have the same privilege. This law, then, allows the class of people known as "bums" to buy all the liquor they want as long as they have any kind of an old shack in which to live. The class of people who would be most apt to abuse their privilege, can procure all they want. The makers of these laws would surely be curious looking creatures—one almost wonders if they resemble the rest of humanity. They must have more than the average amount of gray matter to frame up such wonderful laws! What a blessing to the province to have these men of brains! According to the act, those whom one would think the law would keep the liquor from are those who can buy it by the case. Of what benefit then, are our prohibitions laws to the people of New Brunswick? Are they not just a farce framed up to give employment to a lot of expensiveness about whom the Lord made sure forgotten, else life would not have suffered then to forget the promises in regard to His Kingdom (which the Scriptures tell us is not of this world or age) and unite themselves with the governments of this world or age, of which the Scriptures state Satan is the god or ruler? Life offers a few thoughts on preachers: "The great need of the churches is to get the clergy interested in religion. To be contrary that a larger proportion of them shall know something about it." What usually happens is that the ministers, like other people, have to pump up religion for use as occasion requires. Small wonder, then, that the Lord forgets about them and they seek employment with our governments, carrying favor with the rulers of earth, instead of being true unto their vows and waiting for the coming of their once promised King and Lord.

We hear much talk nowadays of the dreadful condition the world is in, of much wickedness and social unrest. Is the decline of religion among the clergy in any way responsible? To my mind these clergymen who have not made good when called of God to sell the "good tidings of great joy" are not qualified to either make or carry out the laws of our country. We would not think they had brains enough for the former, or a sense of justice enough for the latter, as has been proven by our present prohibition act, and the way it is carried out. These "clergy inspectors" seem to stand out in a class all by themselves, out of God's favor as His mouthpieces, and objects of scorn and ridicule to right-thinking men and women. Would it not be a good idea to frame up new prohibition laws and appoint men as inspectors who are capable of carrying them out? I would suggest putting the present "clergy-inspectors" on farms where they might be of use in producing foodstuffs, in greater abundance and thus help to bring down the high cost of living.

Yours,

WALTER M. JARDINE.

IN THESE PIPING TIMES.

To the Editor of The Gleaner.

Sir—For long time I have been wanting to make a tour of Canada, and now that I am able to take the trip, I am at a loss to make out an itinerary. I don't know where to start and where to end, only that I am able to spend about six months on the trip.

Every province in this broad land of ours has its appeal—some lure of the picturesque, or certain industrial or historical features that beckon to me.

Perhaps others of your readers may be in a similar predicament, and I, for one, would greatly appreciate suggestion from "travel fans" who know the ropes.
