ANOTHER GODERICH MAN AT THE FRONT.

Dr. C. J. Hamilton, of Cornwall, was in town last week, visiting old familiar scenes. He is now mayor of the "Factory Town," or "Pittsburgh of Canada, as Cornwall is aptly called, and is an authority on waterworks and general public improvements. Our old townsman must stand well with his neighbors in Cornwall, for we learn that this is the fifth year in which he has stood for municipal honors—for the position of councillor, reeve or mayor—and each time was elected by a unanimous vote. Speaking of the Goderich public improvements, he said, "Your water is of good quality, but you would find it of great advantage to have a standpipe. It would save the services of an assistant engineer, would save fuel, and would give a guarantee of full protection in the event of fire. But I'll say one thing for you—you have the best electric light and the finest chance for the service to work to advantage of any town in Canada. No one can down you on your electric light system; but you'll have to get a standpipe before your waterworks system can be counted upon as complete." The Doctor left town on Saturday to be sworn in as Mayor of his adopted town on Monday last. During his stay in town he was the guest of Dr. Shannon.

THEY SNOWBALLED HIM.—

Wednesday last about 1 p.m. two or three boys on the way to the Central School threw a few snowballs at a young farmer who was in charge of a load of wood at the market. The man undertook to chase the three or four youngsters, and followed them around the Square three blocks, to the head of North street, making snowballs and throwing them at the boys all along the route. At North-St. however he struck a snag, for at that point he came upon fifty or a hundred boys ranging from ten to fifteen years of age on their way to school for the afternoon session. These, when they saw that some of their comrades were being chased by a stranger man, at once took a hand in the matter, and began snowballing the young farmer, who soon resulted in his being driven back from North-St. and forced into the Square. From every point the unfortunate man received a heavy fire from the boys, who by this time literally crowded the public thoroughfare, and time and again was the victim struck severely. Several of the flying snowballs struck him on the back of the head and when he threw back his hands to shield that portion two or three more "hard ones" caught him in the face. Then he threw his arms over his face to preserve his features, and endeavored to walk back to the market, but this only gave an opportunity for some of the boys to run up behind and trip him, which they did and he came down with the proverbial "dull thud." While endeavoring to rise the boys, who by this time were worked up to the highest excitement, swarmed around him, each endeavoring to make his presence felt, so far as throwing snowballs at the unfortunate man was concerned. He finally staggered to his feet in a dazed condition, only to get more tripping and more snowballs directed with swiftness and precision, the boys by this time having become so numerous that no effort at "ducking" on the part of the victim could save his head and face. There is no knowing what would have been the result, as the boys in their excitement were unaware that they were worrying the man almost to death, had not a well-known resident of the town appeared upon the scene, and got the boys to desist. It is time such exhibitions on our public thoroughfares were stopped. The snow was not a plentiful supply where the fracas occurred, and at one point the ground was bare. Had the boys in their excitement, or had the victim in his frenzy taken to stone-throwing, the consequences would have been serious. Our constables should see to it that there is no repetition of the case.

Dr. McDonagh will be in Goderich for consultation on the first Saturday of every month.

FROM THE ATLANTIC TO THE PACIFIC.—The Canadian Stereoscopic Co. have been secured to give exhibitions of their wonderful and entertaining panoramic description of the scenery of Canada, the Battle of the Sudan, the Charleston Earthquake and the Riel Rebellion, in the Grand Opera House on Wednesday and Thursday, Feb. 5th and 7th. The Stereoscopic Co. under the management of Mr. E. Marshall, the well-known purveyor of the Beatty boat Ontario. The program and descriptive matter is highly spoken of by the press.

A TRIBUTE TO THE BENEFIT OF ADVERTISING.

"When I came to my desk last Wednesday morning," said John Wansmaker, the Philadelphia millionaire merchant, "I was naturally thinking about the Christmas which we had. We did a great deal of Christmas business in this store this year. During the ten days previous to Christmas our sales averaged about $100,000 a day. The grand total for the ten days falls only a few dollars under a million. I spend $5,000 a week in advertising, and pay a skillful man—a former newspaper editor and a good one—$1,000 a month to do it for me. I make money by it. Advertising is the leverage with which this store has been raised up. I do not see how any large and successful retail business can be done without liberal advertising. Continuous advertising, like continuous work, is the most effective."

STAY STRUCK.

The law provides that a person taking up any stray stock, shall within fifteen days thereafter, give notice of taking up by publishing a notice three times in a weekly newspaper if one is published within the section where the stray was taken up; and if the property is not called for within three weeks after the first insertion of the notice, the finder shall go before a justice of the peace and make oath as to the finding and advertising. The justice then appoints three appraisers, and upon their report, advertises the property for three weeks more. The person claiming said property must pay all charges before receiving the same. If the property is not claimed within one year, and does not exceed fifty dollars in value, it then belongs to the party taking the same up; if over fifty dollars it shall be advertised by the justice and sold, and the excess of all expenses shall be paid over to the county treasurer. After the first insertion of the notice, and appraised, shall be liable to a fine of twenty-five dollars. The stray law applies also to any other personal property which may be found in like manner.

We this week chronicle the death of Mr. James Sangster, who, after a lingering illness, passed peacefully away at his residence in Howick on the 29th of December, 1888. Deceased was a native of Aberdeenshire, Scotland, and had reached the ripe age of 75 years. He emigrated to this country in 1853, and was a resident of Howick the last 28 years. When he came to Howick he purchased a fine bush farm, and by hard work he succeeded in making for himself and family a comfortable home. He was an earnest Christian and an active and prominent member of the Presbyterian church. He lived a quiet and retired life, and was much esteemed for his uprightness of character.

DON'T USE BIG WORDS.

In promulgating your scientific corollaries, or articulating superficial sentimentalities and philosophical or psychological observations, beware of platitudinous ponderosity. Let your statements possess a clarified conciseness, compacted comprehensiveness, collocation consistency and a concentrated cogency. Eschew all conglomerations of fatiguing garrulosity, jejune babblement and assinine affectation. Let your extemporaneous discussions and unpremeditated expatiations have intelligibility and veracious vivacity, without rhodomontade or trasonical bombast. Avoid all polysyllabic profundity, shun double entendres, prudent jocosity and pastiferous profanity, obscure or apparent; in other words, talk plainly, naturally and sensibly, and don't use big words.

THE EDITOR'S TABLE.

A Word or two About New Publications That Have Come to Hand.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE FOR FEBRUARY.

Theodore Child contributes to Harper's Magazine for February an article upon "The Hotel Drouot," which has a bearing upon a matter of increasing interest to the American people, especially in our western cities—the foundation and building up of art museums. It is the first step in these public enterprises frequently taken in the great Paris auction mart, the Hotel Drouot, where private collectors, either directly or through agents and dealers buy their treasures of art. For example, most of the work of the modern French school of painting, headed by Troyon, Daubigny, Rousseau, Diaz, Meissonier, and Millet passed through the hands of Francis Peit, a famous dealer and expert at the Hotel Drouot. From private collections objects of art pass to the public museum. Such an acknowledged centre of the commerce in fine and industrial art products as the Hotel Drouot naturally draws together a curious motley crowd of people from all parts of the world, who, with the famous auctioneers, experts, and subordinate functionaries, from interesting material for the series of sketches drawn by J. Raffalli to accompany Mr. Child's paper.

THE BATTLE OF THE SWASH.

This is the title of a book by Samuel Barton, published by J. Theo. Robinson, Montreal, which will doubtless be read by all who have been interested in the international relations between Canada and the United States. It is supposed to have been written in 1930, and describes the easy capture of Canada 40 years previously by the United States. This event is followed by the bombardment of New York by the British fleet, which results in the United States being forced to sue for peace at any price. The publisher states that the book was not written in the interest of either political party. We are further told that it is a most striking and effective presentation of the utter defencelessness of the United States against a foreign foe.

"GODERICH ILLUSTRATED."

The Town Decides to Advertise its Advantages to the Outside World.

An adjourned meeting of the town council was held on Monday evening, to consider the scheme of the Board of Trade for writing up and advertising the town by the publication of an illustrated journal devoted exclusively to that purpose.

The mayor opened the meeting by giving an outline of the work proposed, and stated his belief that the council should take hold of the matter if a properly devised scheme were laid before it. A delegation of the Board of Trade was present, of which Mr. Crabb was spokesman, and he asked that gentleman be heard upon the question.

Mr. Crabb stated that last fall an offer had been made by the Globe to write up the town in its regular edition, but the project, being incomplete, was not in a position to take it up. Recently the proposition was renewed, and the Board of Trade discussed the subject. Their opinion was that a special edition illustrated and dealing with Goderich and its business interests would be preferable to having the writing up done in an ordinary newspaper, and after consultation with the town newspaper men, were convinced that the addition could be well got up and profitably illustrated by the town offices. A proposition from the local newspaper men would be submitted, and he believed details could be given by Messrs. McGillicuddy and Mitchell, whom he would like to hear on the question.

Mr. McGillicuddy said that this scheme was not his conception but had emanated from the Board of Trade. A week ago, as he was not then a member of the Board of Trade he was unaware of the project, but on Friday last he had been invited to a meeting of that body, there in conjunction with Mr. Mitchell to formulate a scheme for advertising the town. He had prepared a statement which was in effect as follows. It was proposed to publish an edition of 5,000 copies on book paper, illustrated with at least twelve cuts of public buildings and scenery in Goderich, and devote the entire space to advertising the interests of the town in a manner that would be a benefit to all concerned. He then detailed the various items in connection with the plan which showed that some $400 would be required to carry out the project, but on Friday last he had been invited to a meeting of that body, there in conjunction with Mr. Mitchell to formulate a scheme for advertising the town.
