Nfld. Poultry Ass'n.

The Nfld. Poultry Association met last night in the Board of Trade Rooms, the President, H. W. LeMessurier, C.M.G., presiding.

- Mr. Frank Miller was admitted as a member of the Association.
- Secretary Calver declared that the demand for hatching eggs was good and that as the supply on hand was limited those still in need of eggs had better apply at once.
- The spilling of eggs in shop windows was discussed, it being pointed out that when eggs are in windows through which the sun shines, then incubation starts in, and the housewife secures bad eggs.
- Mr. W. R. Butler promised to read a paper, "My Ten Years Experience of Poultry Raising in Nfld.," at the next meeting.
- It was opined by the meeting that "cold brooders" are much preferable in the brooding of chicks.

You Can't Find Any Dandruff and Hair Stops Coming Out.

Save your hair! Make it thick, wavy, glossy and beautiful at once.

Try as you will, after an application of Danderine, you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most, will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

Progress Points.

Do you ever think of what your employer expects from you? Here are a few helpful tips:

- Be Reliable. Your employer wants to know that he can rely on what you tell him and on what you do.
- Be Keen. Your employer detests indifference. How can he possibly take a friendly interest in you if you don't take an interest in your job?
- Be Accurate. Every employer has a horror of carelessness—slipshod ways of doing things. Inaccuracy irritates him.
- Be Cheerful. An employer likes to see bright faces. He doesn't like complaints and lamentations. He may give a man a better job because the latter's face cheers him up.

An Entertainment will be given by the Young Ladies' Guild of the Presbyterian Church on Tuesday evening, April 29th, at 8.15, in the Presbyterian Hall. A double bill will be presented. Big Billiard Breaks.

Many people have been wondering lately why it is we never hear nowadays of such sensational scores as were made in the exhibition billiard matches of years ago.

The reason is, of course, that certain strokes are now barred, or partially barred.

It is not allowed, for example, to pot the red more than three times running. Before this rule was made, Peall, upon one occasion, played the stroke 633 times in succession.

Another partially barred stroke is the "anchor cannon." The record billiard score was achieved by Dawson with this stroke. He made over 21,000 successive cannons, his total for the break being 42,746.

and he raced the storm for the last ten miles!"

"No," resumed the Canadian. "Although I didn't get a drop of rain, my little dog, only ten yards behind me, had to swim home."

"Horses," remarked the Yankee. "I guess you can't tell me much about horses. Why, I once had a mare that whacked our fastest express on a thirty-mile run!"

"That's nothing," rejoined the Canadian. "I was out on our ranch one day, twenty miles from home, when a frightful storm came on."

"Wasn't you?" queried the American. "I turned my horse's head for home,

Cashel Extension.

In the past twenty-one years the work of the Cashel Extension has been a story of sympathy, appreciation, and devotion. The excellent work which has been done at Mount Cashel by the band of Christian Brothers without salary or reward, has been a blessing to the orphans and the poor; hence on occasion possible they give proof of their appreciation. It is so that the Brothers have made mention of a want, when it is enthusiastically supplied. The Memorial Wing, which was started by the nucleus of the Cashel and a third part of the original building, which it is hoped will be a permanent structure, especially of the original structures, formerly occupied by the Cashel, but for the past twenty years used by the Brothers it is imperative and an necessity to start the second part of the proposed building. This will be used as a residence for the Community until a permanent building can be erected on the site of the old cottage, when this portion will be devoted to the use of the orphans.

The Founders, requested the Hon. J. D. Ryan, K.C.S.G., to invite the Presidents and Representatives of the various Catholic Societies to meet him in the Benevolent Irish Society's rooms with a view of placing before them this urgent need. The utmost enthusiasm was manifested by all present, and the project received the warmest endorsement of this very representative gathering. In view of the fact that the work of the institution has always received the most practical support from all sections of the community it was decided to issue a public appeal through the Press. For this purpose a committee was appointed, consisting of the Presidents of the various Societies and some others, from whom the following were chosen as officers: Chairman, Hon. J. D. Ryan, K.C.S.G.; Vice-Chairman, Hon. W. J. Ellis; Secretary, Mr. J. C. Pippy; Treasurers, Messrs. C. J. Ellis and C. J. Myler. A subscription list was opened at the meeting and offerings mentioned hereunder were announced. Contributions to the fund may be sent to any of the officers of the committee, Brother Ennis, or to the Presidents of the various Catholic societies.

The Outstanding Product of a Large Manufacturing House

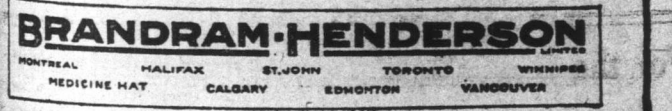

FOUR large factories and five distributing warehouses stand back of Brandram's Genuine B.B. White Lead.

Every step in its manufacture is closely watched by chemical engineers—nothing is left undone which would help to maintain the quality of the world's finest white lead.

Brandram's Genuine B.B. White Lead is different from any other white lead. To begin with, it is corroded by several secret processes which are then merged into a pigment of marvellous smoothness. This pigment is ground no less than five times, first under huge stones, and finally between heavy steel rolls. In this grinding process, it is made into a pulp by being mixed with pure refined linseed oil made in our own linseed oil mills.

Whenever you paint, use Brandram's Genuine B.B. White Lead if you mix your own paint. If you want to save the labor of mixing you can ensure the use of this quality pigment only by getting B-H "English" Paint.

Construction of Large Motor Vessel in Glasgow.

The British twin-screw Diesel engine vessel "Glennapp," which has just been built by a Glasgow shipyard is, according to the local press, the largest and most powerful motor vessel in the world. It is of 10,000 tons deadweight, and has two sets of engines, constructed by Messrs. Harland & Wolff, at their Glasgow works. These give a total of 6,600, which figures represent a very marked progress in this type of vessel. The engine room auxiliaries, also all deck machinery, including the steering gear, are electrically driven, the power being generated by two auxiliary Diesel sets in the engine room. A small oil-fuel boiler supplies steam for heating and cooking systems and for fire-extinguishing purposes. The oil fuel is carried in double bottoms. The vessel is designed with four masts, three of which act as derrick posts, and the accommodation for officers and crew is on the most up-to-date lines, separate messrooms being supplied for seamen and motor-men, and separate living rooms for the crew.

The Real Reason.

A woman missionary in China was taking tea with the eight wives of a mandarin. The Chinese ladies expressed great wonder at the lady's clothing, but her feet especially astonished them.

"Why," said one, "you can walk and run as well as a man."

"Of course," replied the missionary. "Can you ride a horse, and swim too?"

"Certainly."

"Then you are as strong as a man?"

"I am."

"And you wouldn't let a man beat you, even if he was your husband, would you?"

"Indeed, I should not," responded the missionary emphatically. "No Englishwoman ever allows such things."

The mandarin's wives exchanged knowing looks with each other and then the eldest said softly:

"That explains why the foreign devil has never more than one wife. He is afraid!"

A Long Trip.—Speaking of British errors about British overseas Dominions, we may mention one recently quoted in London Punch as coming from an English provincial paper: "For some days Private Theo pushed a 150-pound cart through the snow which covered the vast stretch between London (Ontario) and Canada."
