A MALGAMATION.

This subject has been agitating the minds of our citizens and their southern neighbors for some time. The pros and cons of both sides have been thoroughly promulgated, and it would be well for all interested to remember that it is impossible for COTTAM'S WASHING COMPOUND and dirt or any description to amalgamate. This compound is unequaled for its cleansing and disinfecting gualities, and the ing and disinfecting qualities, and the ladies of London will find it an invaluable boon during house cleaning. It is the cheapest, safest and most reliable compound on the market, and don't Birchall was to-day visited by one of his counsel, Mr. Ivey, of Hellmuth & Ivey, London, when a long consultation ensued. Dr. Rice states that so far there is no appreciable sign of an excessive mental strain on the prisoner, and that he is in a most healthy condition. Not only is his health good, but he is still in the best of spirits, as was evinced by his conduct at noon today. When Rantz Butler took his dinner to him (we have this on good authority) he lent him a mouth organ. on which the Henry Egleton and his wife appeared before Squire Lacey yesterday afternoon charged with assaulting Mrs. Brown, of Westminster. Detective C. Pope gave evidence as to frequent ill-treatment of the old woman, who lives in the same house with the Egletons, and said that on the night of the alleged assault a little girl came over and told him of the disturbance. The old woman had often complained to him of ill-treatment, but said she was afraid to lay information against them. When he spoke to Mr. Egleton he was told the old woman was a regular nuisance and hard to deal with. She would not get the meals for defendant and his wife. Witness denied breaking into the house to arrest them; he simply followed Mr. Egleton in. Miss E. Harding and Mrs. Harding, neighbors of the parties, gave evidence of assaults on the old woman. Mrs. Brown, who was the chief witness and on it whose evidence the case depended, would not say anything, and the Magistrate dismissed the case. The defendants have now laid an information against her, charging her with insanity.

Sale of Work in Christ Church

The Ladies' Aid Society in connection with Christ Church held their annual sale ghe Northwest.

This evening the musical comedy "Three of a Kind" will be at the Grand Opera House. The company provokes much laughter, and three or four of its leading artists are well-known to the theatrical public. Wherever the piece has been produced the comments have been very favorable. It will also be given to-morrow evening.

All the wards assessed in London so far this year show large increases in population and property value, and large sections of thickly populated neighboring districts are being added to swell the city still more. Poor little St. Thomas is so different. This year's returns show a large decrease in population and a very considerable drop in total value of property.

Madam Rosa D'Erina and her husband, Mr. G. R. Vontom, are at present in London enjoying a few days rest. Mme. D'Erina will be remembered by many from the successful concerts given by her a few years ago. They intend visiting the principal Canadian cities prior to their final tour, which will include Australia. The party will remain here a few days. They open in Detroit next week.

Rev. Dr. Willoughby, of Norfolk Street Methodist Church, Guelph, well-known in this city, has announced his intention of retiring from the ministry at the end of the present Conference year Latterly he has not been in the best of health, and his eyes sight, more capecially, having failed somewhat, he deemed it his duty to himself and the church not to undertake another year's work. Rev. Dr. Willoughby has spent 34 years in the work of the Methodist ministry.

A Farmer's Leg Broken

A Farmer's Leg Broken

John Day, a farmer living on con. 8,
East Nissouri, near Thamesford, was coming to London with a load of straw on Tuesday morning when he met with a rather severe accident. A wheel of his wagon broke, throwing Mr. Day out and upsetting the load into the roadway. His foot became fastened in some way and as he was thrown into a pile of wood on the roadside his injuries were severe, a bad fracture of the leg which was caught being the most serious.

Dr. Walker, Ingersoll, attended the sufferer and he is now doing well.

Yesterday afternoon as Mr. Vick was driving along Central avenue his horse became frightened, and on turning the corner of Richmond street the seat, which was set across the wagon box, gave a lurch, and threw the driver out on the road. The injured man was removed to the surgery of Dr. Mitchell and the ambulance telephoned for, in which he was removed to his home at No. 515 William street. The doctor's examination showed the injuries to his nome at No. 515 William street. The doctor's examination showed the injuries to consist of five ribs on the left side broken, the shoulder blade broken and an injury to the spine. The sufferer is doing as well as can be expected, and it is not thought that the accident will be attended with serious

L'Allemand in Detroit.

The Boston Ideals, who appear at the Grand here on Monday evening, give a delightful performance. They were in Detroit last (Thursday) night. The Detroit Free Press speaks well of them as the following extracts will show: "Col. W. H. Foster's Boston Ideals began their second of this person's experience at the Detroit last Boston Ideals began their second of this season's engagements at the Detroit last night. The audience was numerous, sympathetic, appreciative and demonstrative, and the opera was well sung. Madame L'Allemand's Lucia is one of the recognized great performances of the time. Her voice is a pure soprano, unimpeachable in quality and of unusual rauge. Moreover, her method is thoroughly artistic and her action is of unusual range. Moreover, her method is thoroughly artistic and her action is expressed, graceful and abounding in magnetic charm. In the mad scene especially her work was nobly effective. Signor Rudolph was the Edgar. He won a generous measure of approval. The dramatic side of his impersonation was admirable. Few Edgars have been heard here whose work in the imprecation scene equaled that of Signor Rudolphi last night. W. H. Mertens' superb baritone was heard with unalloyed pleasure in the role of Henry Ashton, and Signor Miranda's Bide the Bent disclosed a bass voice of singular melody, mellowness and power. Other roles melody, mellowness and power. Other roles were acceptably undertaken by E. A. Torpi, T. A. Eames and Jenny Corea." The sale of seats is now going on at the box

The City Barbers' Early-Closing Agree-

"Say," said a citizen to a handler of razor and shears, as he paused at the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets, "what's the matter with the barbers nowadays Charley? "We're all right."

"I hear they are all keeping open until 10 o'clock every night in the week now.

Is that so?"
"Guess it's the truth."

had a chance to get shaved after 8 o'clock. I'm going to take things easy now and come down town at 9 o'clock instead of 7 as here-tofore. How did it happen; somebody go back on the agreement?"

"That's the only way it could be done, On the 12th of May, 1882, London barbers entered into an agreement to close at 8 o'clock every night except Saturday and the evening preceding a holiday. This has been stuck to ever since; almost eight years, just as you say."
