THE LOSS OF WEST MIDDLESEX.

Dr. Roome would have been in a minority of several hundred votes if two Liberals had not been running. Though he had 1,507 votes 2,228 were polled against him. These were obtained by the Tory Patrons voting for him, and letting the third candidate hoe his own row. Thus, Adelaide, which usually goes Liberal by nearly 100, gave Dr. Roome a majority of 143 over the Liberal nominee, while in Metcalie, a Conservative township, Dr. Roome had an old-time majority of 89. The lesson of the sale of the constituency is easy to learn. It is to be hoped it will be a long time again before the Liberals of the west riding are misled in a similar manner. The breach should be healed at once, and the third party candidate business should be left entirely for the Conservative wire-puller. West Middlesex is Liberal in a fair fight.

THE SECRET OF SUCCESS.

In the neighboring cities of Toronto and London, our Reform friends have included in the luxury of numerous public meetings, at some of which remarkably elever speeches have been made. The discussion of the trade question at the London meetings has been conducted with great ability.—[Hamilton Times.

And to this fact, combined with splendid organization, do we attribute the great release in Hamilton, we feel convinced, would have done much better if they had been able to hold a series of public meetings for the thorough discussion of the trade question as it affects wage-earners, and the exposure of the bogus annexation cry. There is nothing like a positive policy ably and fearlessly advecated, and we had that in London. The Advertises never lost sight of the fact that only by permitting the electorate to be led away on side issues could the opponents of trade progress and lower taxation succeed in this intelligent community.

SIGNIFICANCE OF THE ELECTION RETURNS.

Our over-sanguine tolograph editor has brought down upon his head the denunciation of the London Free Press because, in the carly hours of the morning after the election, he reached the conclusion, from the telegraph reports, that the Tory majority had been practically wiped out. He was right so far as the two great Provinces of the Dominion are concerned. Outario and Quebbe have each, by a majority, decreed that they are tired of the high tax and trade restriction policy of the Conservative Government. Only by the promise of the immediate expenditure of many millions of the people's money, which was a malere. Provinces. If our telegraph he make the smaller Provinces. To the Editor of the Adventisen: time at his disposal to point out the cause that, while cutting down the Tory majority by one half, saved the necks of the recrean Ministers, it would have suited our neighber no better. Our news editor was a trifle over-sanguine, but so were the Tory organs which chronicled a majority for their party figures. There were mistakes all round, owing to the fluctuating nature of the returns, and no man of sense has objected, so long as they have been promptly corrected. ONTARIO AND QUEBEC "TRAIT-

Yes, and there will be many more of them before another election campaign. The education of the people has been progressing at an enormous rate in recent months, and it was the further opening of the eyes of the populace that Sir John Macdonald feared when he rushed on the Dominion election one year before the effluxion of Parliament.

PERSONAL AND GENERAL that it is better to be right than to be left.

Canada expects every man to pay his duty—into the Dominion treasury.—[Hamilton Spectator.

-In North Oxford Mr. Sutherland has an immense majority. In no municipality has Mr. Karn, his opponent, secured a victory, and even in his own home, Wood-stock, the Conservative candidate was snowed under by a majority of 175. The prognostication, like that of Noah a critical time, was scoffed at by the unthinking and warmly denounced as foundations. With regard to heating our houses by electricity, Prof. Thomson thought it not at all likely that we will ever heat extensively by electricity, unless we can find some way of converting the converting the convertion. directly and less wastefully than is done in steam engines of the present day. There are elements of disintegration at work that will bring about this result, and the number of the nu the public will not have long to wait for heating purposes Prof. Thomson was of the opinion that much valuable work would eventually be done in that direction.

VOICES OF THE PEOPLE.

Mr. Hutchiston
To the Editor of the Advertgeen:

Please allow me to correct a statement of my old friend, Mr. John Carling, who has got things a little confused. He claims in his speech of last night, as reported in your paper, to have assisted in getting me into office. Surely he remembers or ought to remember that his share of the spoil on the occasion referred to was the appointment of Mr. Wm. Glass as sheriff, to the great disappointment of Mr. F. E. Cornish and Mr. Frank Smith, while my appointment was the reward of my successful exertions for my dear, unlucky friend, Marcus Talbot, who, with his bride, was drowned so soon afterwards on his homeward voyage off Cape Race. One merit of my appointment was that it disappointed no one, there being no other applicant and the office being new and unappreciated. As for Sir John he was as much a cipher as heads of government usually are in such cases. Yours truly, Charles Huxchinson.

To the Editor of the ADVENTISER:

Fellow citizens, I am one deeply interterested in the advancement of the race, and my feelings are mortified greatly at the remembrance of what our race has passed through and it spurs me on to action. Fellow citizens, I wish to call your attention for a moment to the dark days of American slavery. Think of the great suffering of our race during those 240 years, which can be better imagined than told. Think of the determined effort of the colored men to enter the army to liberate their race at the sacrifice of their lives and all that was dear to them. Note the difficulties, that they had to battle with, note their firmness, their united action, and then their progress. What have we been doing in this country these past 40 years—are Canada expects every man to pay his duty—into the Dominion treasury.—[Hamilton Spectator.

Yes, and a duty is a tax, and the tax is altogether too heavy.

—John Bright called "protection" a gigantic felony. The system certainly is not a fair play method of raising revenues for the sustenance of the Government.

—It is understood that the Dominion Parliament will meet on Wednesday, April 29 to enable the House of Commons to elect a speaker, and the formal opening will take place the following day.

—The Liberals of South Grey meet on the 13th inst. to nominate a candidate to succeed the late Mr. Hunter as M. P. P. for the riding. A good selection should be made, and there need be no fear of victory.
