For the Coming Campaign.

A meeting of the East Middlesex Temperance Association was held in Somerset (Hall yesterday afternoon to complete arrangements for the vote on the prohibition question at the coming election. In the absence of the president, Mr. J. W. Robson was chosen to act as chairman. The various township officers reported the work of organization to be progressing favorably. A lengthy discussion arose through a question as to whether or not votes not poiled should count against the temperance movement. Mr. Weekes favored the taking of a large vote, as it would then show that the public in general were interested in the movement. A close watch would have to be kept on the opposition workers, as tactics of every kind will be resorted to in order to defeat the measure. The scrutineers will be appointed on Dec. 21. Should any of the appointed scrutineers be unable to act on election day they will be replaced on the day of voting. After several meetings were arranged the association adjourned, subject to the call of the correctary. Young Men's Work.

The Bishop's Lecture.

Mrs. Boomer asks insertion of the following kind message from the Bishop of Huron: "If find that I shall be able (D. V.) to give my second lecture on Monday evesing, Dec. 4. Hearing that you are anxions to increase the funds of the Convalescent Home, I would suggest that the collection be taken up in aid of that excellent institution." This suggestion having the sanction and hearty approval of Mrs. Baldwin, the president of the Women's Auxiliary, Mrs. Boomer feels sure that the members of the society will respond as heartily to this claim upon their sympathies for home mission work as if their offerings were to be again devoted to the cause of missions farther away. The board of the Convalescent Home are deeply grateful to his Lordahip for this wholly voluntary proof of his sympathy in their good work, and they hope that the response will be so hearty as (in conjunction with the lecture promised later on by Rev. Principal Miller, of Huron College, for the same object), to enable them to pay a further large instalment upon the gradually lessening amount due upon the purchase of the building.
