Mes. Henderson was born in Scarboro County, and came to Oxford with her parents when a young girl. After her marriage she went West. They traveled by the Union Pacific Railway to Vancouver, when that city was a small village. Later on they made their way to Edmonton on hearing of gold discoveries, traveling by steamer, wagon and pack

Mrs. Henderson was the first white woman known to have crossed the Yellow Head pass. Mr. Henderson, who is still living in the neighbor-hood of Edmonton, had several accomplishments to his credit, including the introduction of bees in Edmonton district. The Hendersons also had the first threshing outfit in the Ed-monton district, and one of the first in the West. A number of relatives of the family still reside in Oxford County.
