Elder Evans has been presiding over the Latterday Saints in the Dominion for five years and at the conference recently held, was appointed Councilor to the Prophet Joseph. He is a married man, and leaves a wife and six children.

Radcliffe, principal; Mr. Ferguson, modern languages master; Mr. Govenlock, mathematical master, and Mr. McCutcheon, science master. Their object was chiefly to see the Manual Training School and how it was conducted. Mr. Radcliffe is much pleased with the school, and hopes that London will soon follow the good example set by Stratford.

During the heavy storm of Friday night and Saturday morning a leak in the roof permitted the entrance of a large quantity of water into the drygoods store of the late C. Carson, McKee Company, (limited). The water, after flooding the mantle department on the second floor, ran down to the ground floor, and there ruined a quantity of silks and dress goods. The loss will amount to over $2,000. The building is owned by Mr. Benjamin Higgins.

THE FIRE BRIGADE HAVE THREE RUNS.

Damage Done to An Old Frame House on Sunday Afternoon—Blaze Discovered at Somerville's New Factory.

The fire brigade were called out three times on Saturday evening and Sunday.

An old story and a half frame house, in rear of the police station, narrowly escaped destruction by fire between 1 and 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The place was occupied by a patent medicine vendor named Hewitt, and the fire began in an opening through which an over-heated stovepipe passed. The flames spread to an upstairs bedroom, and before they were extinguished by the firemen, they did damage to the extent of $50. Water and smoke also helped to increase the loss.

A chimney fire at 1,039 Francis street gave the department a run at 7:30 on Saturday night. The fire, coming from a peestrian on Dundas street east, discovered the roof of Somerville's new box factory to be on fire, and an alarm was turned in. The damage did not exceed $5, a very small sum for a building of the kind. The origin of the fire is a mystery. It is supposed to have been started by boys who were playing about the building.

WITH PURSE AND KIND ADDRESS

McClary Employees Honor a Comrade Who is Off to the War.

On the eve of his departure for South Africa, Mr. Geo. McCullough, a well-known Londoner, was the recipient of a neatly worded address and a well-filled purse, given by his fellow-employees at McClary Mfg. Co. Following is the address, which was received with much applause by his friends, who had assembled at the home of Mr. Geo. Fralick, of Hill street, to give him a send-off.

"Dear friend, on the eve of your departure for South Africa, we, a few of your shopmates, take this as a favorable opportunity to express, to some extent, our feelings of sympathy with you, and ask you to accept this small gift as a token, and that you may meet with every success in doing your duty for the Empire and help keep up the reputation of the Canucks, who have many times proved themselves heroes of the 'best water.' Hoping you may have a successful career and a safe return to your native land, we are yours, etc., Jack Boggs (for the committee)."

Mr. McCullough thanked his comrades in a neat speech, and the evening ended at a seasonable hour. Mr. McCullough left Saturday afternoon for Halifax.

BETTER THAN SOME POLICE OFFICERS

Are Some of the Outcast Women, Says Rev. D. S. Hamilton—London Preacher Appreciates Free Press Criticism of Police in a Recent Matter.

Rev. D. S. Hamilton, pastor of the First Congregational church, took "Christian Citizenship" as the subject of his sermon last night. In the course of his remarks he referred to the recent action of the Free Press in criticizing the police magistrate and chief of police for shielding two men who were arrested in a disorderly case in West London, while two unfortunate women, found in the same place, were dragged into the police court and had their names appear on the records. Mr. Hamilton appreciated the step taken by the Free Press, and said that if the other journals followed its example more righteous would prevail in the city.

"The den of iniquity," he said, "was taken by the police. The women were brought to the court and fined and branded as brazen outcasts of society. The men were protected by the direction of the officers of the law, who warned police witnesses not to give the names of the men found in the den. Let us believe in a land of freedom and equality, but if there is anything that rouses the very depths of my being and stirs my indignation, it is to think that the weak members of society can be branded as outcasts, and the men who have been the means of their ruin can be shielded by the law and the greatest injustice perpetrated. I believe the church of Jesus Christ must face these problems. It must cease dealing with the hereafter, and go and save those poor, helpless creatures, trampled and stamped and beaten and cast aside—and I believe God in heaven knows they are better than some of the police officers of some of our modern cities."
