It is the boast of British subjects, fender.

It is different in Germany. There the old feeling that the sovereign rules by divine right still exists, and that the nobles have rights which persons of low birth, so-called, do not enjoy. The present Emperor considers that he is not only above, but apart from the people and that it is for him to grant such privileges to his subjects as seems to him good, and not for them to demand them as their right wholly independently of his authority.
