WAR ON THE IRISH TRAGITE

THE GOVER VMENT DETREMINED TO CRUSH THE ORGANIZATION.

Brien, the Editor of United Iroland, Con victed of Sedition and Sentenced to Three Months' Imprisonment—The Pris-oner Appeals and is on Bail.

LONDON, Sept. 24.-Mr. Balfour will return o Dublin on Wednesday next to supervise personally the work of suppressing the branches of the league in every direction. The Tory press is becoming more violent every day it its encouragement of the policy adopted by the Government, and is now clamoring for the the Government, and is now clamoring for the suspension of the publication of the newspaper United Ireland and of the other organs of the league, which are, according to the Tory statements, exciting the people to violence against the constabulary. It is probable that Mr. O'Brien's paper will be the first to be dealt with, and the decision of the Mitchellatown court to-day, in finding him guilty, will very likely hasten this step. It is a sign of the times that Lord Norton, a prominent Unionist peer and an old official, has recommended that the police should aim, not at Irish mobs, but at their prompters in carriages, such as Mr. Labouchere. This advice is backed by a Tory mamber, who recommends the shooting of Labouchere.

War is now declared between the National League and the Government, and bitter strife will continue until one is proclaimed victor. Both combatants proceed in their respective curses and neither shows any signs of weakning. Indeed, the battle is but begun. Mr. Balfour has undertaken the mighty work of suppressing 200 branches of the league, but he finds, when the details of his plans are put into operation, the league simply cluding the suppression. The native wit of the Irishmen is called into play and means unknown to the Chief Secretary are found of continuing the Nationalist meetings. When the league was proclaimed it was suggested that the was proclaimed it was augusted that the law might be evaded by the league assimilating with the Home Rule Union or the English Liberal League and continuing to work as nominal branches of these societies, but the whole country is now so thoroughly wrought in the part of the transparence of the day. The Irish content is the order of the day. The Irish caders and people are determined to fight he battle out solely under the banner of the league, and refuse to avail themselves of any unterfuge by which they might escape the consequence which the contempt of the law will inevitably bring upon them.

The events of the past week have convinced the Irish leaders that the fight will be bitter and hard. And wen more so than they had foreseen. There is not the slightest trace of the Government flinching in its present endeavor. They have found Mr. Balfour a resolute Minister of England's coercious policy, on the alient to take advantage of the merest chance in the Government's favor, vigorous, active and aboutely fearless of his personal safety. Moreover, they find him ready to use the most extreme measures in his power for their repression. The Nationalist press has heaped every epithet its extensive vocabulary contains upon the Irish Secretary, and lately revels in the euphonious table of "Bloody Balfour," and characterizes his policy as worthy of a fined mearmate. They hold him up to executation, and, with allusion to the fattal affray at Mitchellstown, speak of him as "dabbling his sleek young hands in Eria's blood." They stigmatise him as "callous of bloodshed as Grouwell," and with burning words depict him "butchering feelle peasants in cold blood with a languid, sardonio smile upon his cowardly, effeminate face."

Much more in the same vein is hurled at the Minister by the press, and the Irish leaders are warned what to prepare for; that Ballour will strain the Coercion Act to the utmost in order to extinguish the hateful league. "Undess," continue they, "sudden death steps him in his career or the Ministry become afraid to follow him to such extremes as he will go be will prove the most formidable for the national cause has met with since its resurrection."

Mr. Parnell is recruiting in the South of England, and has not been seen by his colleagues since the prorogation of Parliament.

The Editor of United Ireland Sent to Jail

Mirchellstown, Sept. 24.—The trial of Editor William O'Brien of United Ireland was finished to-day. Just before the proceedings upened Mr. Carson, counsel for the Orown, complained to Magistrate Eaton that yesterday M. C. Tanner, M. P. for Cork, had called him "a mean ruffianly coward." Mr. Carson said that the appellation was applied within the precincts of the court room, and was accom-panied with a further expression on the part of Mr. Tanner to the effect that he hoped he (Carson) would have his head broken. The magistrate said he would take notice of the illeged offence and would deal with Tanner in

Mr. O'Brien, replying to the charge of sedi-tion brought against him, declared that the court was incompetent to try him, as it was created under a British and foreign constitu-tion. At this point the magistrate stopped Mr. O'Brien, asserting that he would not allow holi ties to be discussed in the court room, es-pecially an attack on the recognized law of the ountry.

Mr. O'Brien retorted that he was the chosen representative of the people elected to advocate free speech.

The magistrate here again stopped him.

Mr. O'Brien was found guilty of the charge against him and sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The magistrate here again stopped him.

Mr. O'Brien was found guilty of the charge against him and sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

Immediately after sentence on the first charge Mr. O'Brien was placed on trial on the second charge. This was of the same nature as the other. Upon this he was also found quity and sentenced to three months' imprisonment, the terms to be concurrent. Mr. O'Brien appealed from both judgments and was liberated on bail.

John Mandeville, chairman of the Board of Poorlaw Guardians of Mitchellstown, who was jointly indicted with, Mr. O'Brien for using seditious language on the same occasion as the ditor, was also convicted and sentenced to two months' imprisonment, Mr. Mandeville appealed and was released on bail.

Mr. O'Brien spoke in his own defence and was frequently applauded.

He said the Crown was guilty of having suppressed evidence favorable to him. The Crown had withheld, for instance, the notes made by the head constable of the defendant's speech. In these notes, he said, was recorded his statement that the Irish party would give the Land Bill fair play. He justified his defence of the Kingstown tenants on the ground that the evictions against them were commenced just on the eve of the passage of the Land Bill, and thus an attempt was made to defauld the poor, wretched tenants of the benefits of the measure. He admitted that he had advised the tenants not to give up without resistance, and that he had declared that before God and man they were justified in defending their homes. He asserted that his advice had prevented evictions and that he had advised the tenants not to give up without resistance, and that he had declared that before God and man they were justified in defending their homes. He asserted that his advice had prevented evictions and that he had advised he tenants not to give up without resistance, and that he had declared the law which Capt. Flunkett and Standish O'Grady administered. Personally, he felt very proud of being one of a long line of men who

It is believed an attempt will be made to hold a meeting near Mitchellstown to-morrow Dr. Lanner, M.P., made a speech at Fermotonnight. The police in dispersing the crownsed their batons and the mob replied wit stones. A worse disturbance is feared.

Moriey Boes Not Like 61d Toryisms.

LONDON, Sept. 24.—John Morley, speaking at Newcastle to-day, repudiated the notion that there was any split between himself and the Gladstonian party. As long as Mr. Gladstone adhered to the cause of freedom and justice, so long would be support him. His views on the Irish question were unchanged. He denounced the Government and said the country had returned to Government liby old Toryism in its worst form.

New York, Sept. 24.—Speaking of the conviction and sentence of Editor O'Brien, Patrick Ford of The Irish World said to-day: Patrick Ford of The Irish World said to-day:

"No one will be surprised at the conviction or the sentence. All Irishmen anticipated it. It is simply a matural sequence of the policy pursued all along by the Tories. They saw when they came into power that the Irish question could be settled without coercion, but they have found that their scheme was not possible. Gladstone told them so. The result will be that the fight will become hotter than ever. At the meetings of the Irish National League throughout the country, action will be taken on O'Brien's conviction. If a vote could be taken, the majority of Englishmen would vote to give Ireland Home Rule. This action will develop that growing sentiment."

Gen. M. Kerwin, editor of The New York Tablet, said to-day: "It is worse than folly to denounce the indge who sentenced Mr. O'Brien. The law exists, which Mr. O'Brien violated, and the judge has done his duty. It would be idle to appeal against a law that has been made expressly to punish the Irish people. There is no encouragement to go peacefully for redress to a people who have enacted such a law. No people ever received liberty without a struggle nor can the Irish people."

convene on Nov. 15. The leading domestic question which will be considered is the requestion which will be considered is the re-vision of the article of the constitution fixing the duration of Parliament. The leaders of the National Biberals took the initiative in 1867 in the debate on the constitution, the North German Confederation proposing the extension of the period of the Reichstag. In extension of the period of the Reichstag. In 1880 the question was again discussed, but without result. The Government then proposed to prolong the Reichstag from three to five years, but only obtained uncertain support. Now, however, the situation is changed. The National Liberals are again an important factor. The Government groups will renew the proposal of a five years parliament and the Conservatives and Reichspartei will support it. Prince Bismarck privately prompts and will openly indorse the proposal, which cannot fail to obtain a decisive majority.

The measure will not, however, pass without bitter opposition from the Prog resists, who foresee in the transition from trennial to quinquennial parliaments the road towards trennial budgets, leaving the Government unrestricted in the use of the National funds. The Opposition press even donjures up as a with burning words depict him "butchering feeble peasants in cold blood with a languid, cardonno smile upon his cowardly, effeminate ace."

DESERTED BY HIS FRIENDS.

The Ecanit of Col. Hughes-Hallett's Refusal to Prosecute the Pall Hall Gazette.

LONDON, Sept. 24.—Ool. Hughes Hallett's refusal to prosecute The Pall Mall Gazette for its damaging assertions concerning his domestic relations has had the effect of alierating. tic relations has had the effect of alierating from him the sympathy of all his remaining friends. It is accepted as a fact that if he had not been guilty of the ungentlemanly conduct of which he is accused he would hasten to clear his name by entering suit for libel. The Conservative Electoral Committee have told him that he must either prosecute The Gazette or cease to be a member of Parliament. In the Conservative interest. The coarse and venomous style of attack pursued by The Pall Mail created a partial sympathy for Col. Hughes-Hallett; but this feeling has been changed by his refusal to take any measure of retaliation which a man of honor would hasten to utilize into contempt which people are not slow to express.

The Crown Prince's Throat. Berlin, Sept. 24.—Alarming reports of the renewal in a bad form of the throat affection of the Crown Prince Frederick William have of the Crown Prince Frederick William have been traced to Paris and Vienna sources. They are so definite and detailed that they have created much anxiety here. Inquiries sent to Toblach elicited a telegram to-night stating that the Prince had not been troubled with fresh symptoms. He leaves Toblach to-morrow for Venice, Austrian and German medical authorities persist in regarding Dr. Mackenzie's diagnosis of the Prince's malady as wrong and his treatment as insufficient to effect a cure.

Outlaws in Yellowstone Park.

New York, Sept. 24.—A Chicago dispatch says that during the late trip to Yellowstone Park of Elliot Shepard of New York, and family, in a special train, a scheme was concoted by a party of outlaws to steal Mr. Shepard's youngest child and demand a large ransom. An officer of the Third United States Cavalry learned of the plot and informed Mr. Shepard. As a consequence a detachment of troops accompanied the Shepard party until they left the confines of danger and emerged into civilization.

THE ALESIA BEING THOROUGHLY CLEANSED AND FUMIGATED.

The Baggage and Clothes of the Passengers Will be submitted to the Same Process— There is no Cause for Alarm, Say the Health Officers.

New York, Sept. 24.—The cholers steamer Alesia is anchored in the lower bay near the quarantine islands. The suck are in the Swinburne Island Hospital, where they were taken on the vessel's arrival. Three of the cases those of Cormeli Carclie and Guglieluo Helwig and a four-year-old child, will probably prove fatal. The others have more or less chance of fatal. The others have more or less chance of recovery.

The rest of the passengers and crew, with the exception of the three cabin passengers numbering 551, are under supervision on Hoffman Island. Should no new cases occur, quarantine will be raised in eight or ten days. The cabin passengers remain on the vessel. The latter is being thoroughly cleansed and fumigated, and by next Wednesday persons will probably be allowed to board her.

Health-Officer Smith says the disease was carried on board the ship by one or more of the passengers, and that the germs had not been in the cargo, which was securely sealed. The person evidently came on board at Naples, as for four or five weeks cholera has been raging near that city.

The baggage of the passengers, numbering 2200 pieces, is being unpacked and funigated. The health authorities say that the present cool weather will aid greatly in stamping out the plague.

Mexico Favers the Peace Union.

City of Mexico, Sept. 24.—The proposition for the creation of an international tribunal to decide all questions pending or to arise in the future between Mexico and the United States now occupies the attention of a section of the public press. The Monitor Republicano urges discussion of the matter. The fact that 200 members of the British Parliament signed a memorial to President Cleveland asking him to support the movement for a treaty providing for arbitration of all questions arising between Great Britain and the United States has been used here as an argument that Mexico ask permission to be allowed to join with these two powerful nations in the Greation of an international tribunal, which would be a powerful means of preserving peace between herself and the two Anglo-Saxon nations.

A Well of Natural Gas.

WATERTOWN, N.Y., Sept. 24 — While drilling for water in Rutland, seven miles from this city, last evening, gas was struck in large quantities on the farm of George T. Hamlin. When ignated the gas caused a flame six feet in height and two and one-half feet in width. It burned steadily for twelve hours, and was put out this morning. The air in that neighborhood is impregnated with gas, and it is thought an important vein is struck.

A TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.

Three Children Killed and One Injured by the Explosion of a Shell.

Montheal, Sept. 24.—An occurrence has just been reported from the Island of Orleans. Four title children belonging to the family of P. Godbout, a farmer living close to the camping ground where the Dominion Artillery Association held their annual competition a few weeks ago, went out to pick up the pieces of exploded shells which were strewn along the beach in the vicinity of the targets. While engaged in this pursuit they came across a large shell, which undoubtedly had not exploded after being fired from the sixty-four pounder gun during, the competition. Their curiosity being aroused they set to work to dissect the fuse and applied a lighted match, the result being that the shell exploded killing three of the children instantly and injuring the fourth so seriously that its life is despaired of. A RUNAWAY PATIENT,

How Johnnie Magill Suddenly Recovered Consciousness in the Hospital. Shortly after 9 o'clock on Saturday night hack drove up to the hospital door containing a police officer and a young lad about 8 years of age, who was apparently in a dying condition. The lad's name was John Magill condition. The lad's name was John Magill of 71 Queen east who, while fighting with a lot of fellow newsboys at The Telegram office Bay-street door, got so badly crushed that he fainted. Though every attention was paid to him in the office, his condition appeared so precarious that it was deemed advisable to have him removed to the hospital. As soon as he reached the building, however, and had been duly registered and assigned a bed in No. 2 Ward, an effort was made to bring Johnnie to his new quarters. For the first time he realized his position, and made a most vigorous resistance. He managed to wrestle out of the hands of the hospital officials, and having secured his liberty ran along the corridors in search of a point of exit. He finally got to the door, and making for the hack, was driven home apparently quite recovered from the effects of his little episode.
