

HUSBAND SAVED HIS WIFE

Stopped Most Terrible Suffering by Getting Her Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Denison, Texas. — "After my little girl was born two years ago I began suffering with female trouble and could hardly do my work. I was very nervous but just kept dragging on until last summer when I got where I could not do my work. I would have a chill every day and hot flashes and dizzy spells and my head would almost burst. I got where I was almost a walking skeleton and life was a burden to me until one day my husband's step-sister told my husband if he did not do something for me I would not last long and told him to get your medicine. So he got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for me, and after taking the first three doses I began to improve. I continued its use, and I have never had any female trouble since. I feel that I owe my life to you and your remedies. They did for me what doctors could not do and I will always praise it wherever I go."—Mrs. G. O. LOWERY, 419 W. Monterey Street, Denison, Texas.

If you are suffering from any form of female ills, get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and commence the treatment without delay.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Nicholas, Constantine and the young ex-ruler of China will agree that this is a poor year for emperors.

Only two members of Ontario opposed conscription and these two, Murphy and Proulx, represent French-Canadian ridings—Russell and Prescott.

London Daily Telegraph: The Allies are fighting not merely for today, but for to-morrow, and if that be not safeguarded all the sacrifices of blood and treasure of the many past months will have been in vain.

An old prophecy of a Japanese dating back to 1793 is recalled. It reads: "When men fly like birds, ten kings will go to war against one another and the universe will be under arms."

A porter in an Atchison barber-shop predicts confidently that the war will not last longer than six weeks. He says his brother has enlisted, and he never held a job longer than six weeks in his whole life.

Hon. Mr. Pugsley's suggestion that if a man wants to be exempted from military service to work in a munition factory, he accept the same pay as if on military service, is a good one, and will result in a greater degree of fair play for the soldier.

"The Liberty Loan has been a potent influence in the education of the masses, both in city and country. It has brought the Government closer to the individual, and has taught him to regard himself as a part proprietor in our great governmental plant. Hitherto he has paid his Federal taxes, most of them indirectly, without realizing that fact. Now he has lent money to the Government, and every six months, when he cuts his coupons and cashes them in, he will feel the thrill of that proprietorship."

I am a slice of Bread. I measure three inches by two and a half, and my thickness is half an inch. My weight is exactly an ounce. I am wanted once a day by 48,000,000 people of Britain. I am "the bit left over," the slice eaten absent-mindedly really I wasn't needed; I am the crust. If you collected me and my companions for a whole week you would find that we amounted to 9,380 tons of good bread—wasted. Almost as much—striking an average—as twenty German submarines could sink—even if they had good luck. When you throw me away or waste me you are adding twenty submarines to the German navy.—London Dispatch.

Protection of Potato Tops from Insects

It is very important to prevent the tops of potatoes from being eaten by insects, particularly by the Colorado Potato Beetle. The old "bugs" do not do much harm to the foliage, as a rule, and usually the plants are not sprayed to destroy these, although the fewer there are to lay eggs the less difficulty there will be in destroying the young ones. These begin to eat rapidly soon after hatching, and close watch should be kept so that the vines may be sprayed before much harm is done. Paris green kills more rapidly than arsenate of lead but does not adhere so well, and in rainy weather it is desirable to have something that will stay on the leaves so that they will be protected until it stops raining and thus prevent the tops being eaten. At the Central Experimental Farm a mixture of Paris green and arsenate of lead is used in the proportion of 8 ounces Paris green, 1 1/2 pounds paste arsenate of lead (or 12 ounces dry arsenate of lead) to 40 gallons of water in order to get the advantage of both poisons. It may be that it is not convenient to get both poisons when either 12 ounces of Paris green or 3 pounds paste arsenate of lead (or 1 1/2 pounds dry arsenate of lead) to 40 gallons water could be used, or in smaller quantities, say 1 ounce Paris green to 3 gallons or 3 1/2 ounces paste arsenate of lead or half that quantity of dry to 3 gallons of water. An experiment conducted for six years at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, showed that on the average where the tops were sprayed to kill "bugs" the yield was 186.9 bushels per acre, while when the tops were not sprayed and allowed to be eaten the yield was only 98.2 bushels per acre. It is desirable not to stop with one spraying which usually does not kill all the bugs but to spray several times if necessary so that as little foliage as possible is eaten.

The Bitter Orange.

The bitter orange-tree was originally introduced to the shores of the Mediterranean by travellers from India and China. Most of the Spanish and Sicilian crop goes to London to be made into marmalade, since very few people in the south of Europe seem to understand the simple art of composing their preserves. There is also a valuable oil contained in the rind, known as essence de bigarade, to distinguish it from that of the sweet orange, essence de Portugal. The distillers extract it by pressing the rind forcibly against a flat sponge, which absorbs the contents of the crushed oil-cells. They wring out the sponge under water and skim off the floating oil. This oil, after careful purification, is used as a flavoring agent in curacao and orange bitters; it is one of the ingredients of eau-de-Cologne and other perfumes; and a drop of it on sugar in a tumblerful of hot water makes the popular eau sucree of the Parisians. Like oil of lemon, it cannot be extracted by distillation in the usual way, since a high temperature injures its flavor. The fruit-buds of the bitter orange also give an essential oil known as essence de petit grain; and from the white flowers is extracted a delightful perfume called essence de Neroli. That is prepared chiefly at Nice, Cannes, and Grasse, in the south of France. All the flowers of a fine tree will yield only a single ounce of Neroli oil. The peel also yields an aromatic principle that the ancient Arab physicians esteemed highly as a tonic; it is still considered a useful stomachic.

Battle Song of The U. S. Farmerette

(Tune-Tipperary)
Nellie was a pedagogue
And Sue a social light,
But when the Germans sank our boats
They both set out to fight.
Grabbing up a rake and hoe
They joined the food armee;
Now they're out at Farmingdale,
A-fighting for the free.

Chorus
It's a hard job to plant potatoes,
It's a darn sight worse to hoe,
It's a hard job to weed tomatoes,
When the pesky things do grow.
Farewell to all the bright lights,
Good-bye old Broadway.
We are all out here to serve our country,
And you bet we'll stay.
The sun beats down upon their heads,
Their hands were rough and sore,
No wonder that Bill Sherman said,
That Hell was same as war.
But they kept right on aworking
Until the day was done,
And they'll keep on farming
Until the war is won.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly tailing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts thru the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. One Hundred Dollars reward is offered for any case that Hall's Catarrh Cure fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists, 75c. QUICK WORK ON SHIPS.

Twenty-one Months Required to Build Battleship in England.

There is no exaggeration in the statement sometimes made that this war has given England's industries, all of them put together, a new speed—a new enthusiasm for organization and for investigations and for education—really almost a new life. If there ever was a case of a phoenix rising from its ashes, it is the case of this England, the mother of modern industry, very old and very tired, rising from the pyre of war again renewing its youth.

I have seen a battleship, a battleship of first-class size and of more than first-class engine-power, steaming to the Grand Fleet ready for action, on the twentieth day of the twenty-first month from the day on which the drawings for her were received by the shipyard!

I talked with one of the engineers who helped to build her. He had no notion that England, "the world's workshop," had nothing to learn from other countries. That sort of complacency in England had received a body-blow. When he found that I knew something about the methods used by a certain firm in New England, I had to promise him to go to that firm and, if possible, get their latest results and send them to him.

Gratitude!

An unusual form of testamentary gratitude is recorded in the diary of Henry Greville. "A man who had spent much of his time in fishing left a direction in his will that as he had derived much nourishment as well as pleasure from the fish he had caught at Chertsey it was only fair to the descendants of those fish that he in return should become their food. He therefore desired that his body should be cast into the Thames at Chertsey."

Had to Say Something.

Jack Timid (presumptuously in love with his employer's daughter)—Is Mr. Cashleigh in? Butler—Yes, sir. Jack Timid (horribly disappointed)—Well, I'm glad to hear it. He might catch cold outside—beastly weather. Good night.

A Good Reason.

"Why don't you buy a car, Walker?" "I will tell you. All my neighbors think I can afford one, and I don't want them to find out that I can't."

Mostly True.

"What is the initiative and referendum?" "Another name for wives."

The fine art of living is to draw from each person his best.
